"We are to have a mild open winter with a great deal of warm rain and but little frost." The hawks on the corn are remarkable thin this season; muskrats have plastered their burrows hardy—just a little, to keep their neighbors from talking; spiders continue to spin their webs, and haven't thought of going into winter quarters; the hair on the dogs are unwontedly sparse, and cats are observed washing their faces back of the ears; large numbers of people have not bought new overcoats, and the women are purchasing sealskin sashes very largely. As the early and remarkably searching blizzard comes waltzing down from Nova Zembla, and the snow-laden blasters howling through streets and alleys, it is pleasant to sit by the cozy fire and read about these infallible signs of a mild winter. Our exchanges are filled with such paragraphs, instigated by the old hunters, old observers and old frauds, who will continue to monkey with the weather as long as there are fools to encourage them in it.

DORSEY IN TROUBLE.

The Kansas City Star has the following in regard to Stephen Dorsey: "Dorsey is in trouble. This is the beginning of the end. He is a man of rare attainments and might have become a prominent figure in public affairs. But prosperity spoiled him, and after all his star route jockeying, his great New Mexican cattle ranch splurge and his other equally wild investments, I'm not surprised to hear that he is in the toils at last."

The gentleman who spoke is a prominent federal official in this city. He was accosted in the lobby of the post-office by a reporter yesterday afternoon, and then heard for the first time of the appointment of Mr. James E. Temple as receiver of the Paola Blanco cattle company at Springer, N. M., and of the further fact that an injunction had been granted restraining the company from disposing of any property or increasing its stock.

Ex-Senator Dorsey and the president of the company, James W. Bosler, of Pennsylvania, (who died on the 17th inst), were the principal stockholders, and they had a business dispute. Dorsey, who owns a third interest, deposed the manager, G. M. Woodworth. The latter alleged that Dorsey failed to keep his agreement to supply one-third of the funds for expenses, extra stock, cattle, etc., and he was thereupon compelled to borrow money from Prest Bosler. In selling a large quantity of the money that borrowed from Mr. Bosler. This caused Mr. Dorsey's displeasure and prompted him to take forcible possession of the several ranches.

This is thought to be the beginning of a very important suit, involving the ownership of over $500,000 in the great stock ranches and improvements in Colfax county, N. M.

Three years ago ex-Senator Dorsey was in good pecuniary circumstances. He was then reported to be the sole owner of the New Mexico ranch, which embraced 70,000 acres, and upon whose rich, rolling lands, 45,000 head of cattle were grazing. His home was a building of rough-hewn logs, two stories in height. He had out there that was thirty miles in length and cost $17,000. A museum and billiard room contributed to the attractions of "Mountain Spring Ranch." The situation of this far western home is delightful. It is 7,000 feet above the level of the sea. Eighty miles away, beyond the seemingly boundless plains, the snow-crowned peaks of the Rocky Mountains were plainly visible. Dorsey lived there in almost baronial state. He appears to have been greatly attached to his home in the far west, and amid all the excitement and turmoil of Washington and metropolitan life he constantly sighed for the untainted breezes of the mountains and plains of New Mexico.

For some time past ex-Senator Dorsey has dropped out of public notice. His present financial trouble will once more make him an object of interest. His friends assert that he is yet quite wealthy and will come out of his embarrassments unharmed.

STATE NOTES.

Russellville has a barrel factory. Owing to the high price of wood the people of Gainesville are beginning to use Arkansas coal.

The Bethesda Mountain Signal fears that $30,000 has been raised for working the Worthington mines in Polk county.

Col. Henderson has laid out a town at Auvenger. The Batesville and Brinkley road will have a town there.—Newport News.

A number of country editors express an intention to hang up their socks on New Year's eve—if somebody will furnish the socks.

The cotton on the streets is gradually crowding off teams. The street cars will have to give way, for our cotton must show.—Fort Smith Herald.

Four murderers were hanged in this county last Friday. Only three of them expressed their intention of going to heaven. The other was reticent on this subject.—Green County Events.

At Walnut Ridge, on the 20th Rev. J. J. Johnson, a prominent Presbyterian minister, was married to Miss Fannie Witherspoon daughter of James L. Witherspoon, of Hempstead county.

Major Gibson tore a plank off his residence to find a dead rat in the other morning and found his nest, and in twenty nickels, which his ratship had evidently laid up for hard times.—Washington Press.

The unregenerate Leakey Democrat speaks thus slightly of one of our cherished institutions: "A taffy pulling or sorghum slinging will be given to the Sunday-School children at Carlisle on Christmas Eve."

The Natural Springs News man informs the public that he has no money to loan. This shows the wrong spirit. No editor is justified in hoarding the gold that pours into his coffers with each issue. We want no bloated capitalists in the profession.

From the best information to be derived from talking with the farmers and others, Scott county will raise about 15,000 bales of cotton this year—an increase of 4000 over the estimate of last year—and enough corn and pork to supply the home demand.

Waldron Reporter.

Capt. W. T. High, of Lonoke county had a singular and painful accident lately. He was attempting to drive a shell from his gun by pushing it with a ramrod from the muzzle, when the cap exploded and sent the ramrod and a part of the charge through his hand.

Amos Collins, colored was found dead near Steele and Brower's mills, three miles southwest of Prescott. Subsequently Doc Edwards a colored employee of the mills, was arrested on suspicion, and confessed that he had waylaid Collins and shot him. He claims that Collins had threatened his life.

Andy Minyard, a promising young man of Okonoko, died last Saturday of hydrophobia. He was bitten on the 10th of October by a mad dog that had just bitten a cow and turned to attack him and his sister. In order to save his sister, Minyard grasped the dog and held it, but before help arrived the animal had buried his teeth in his hand. He applied a madstone, and believed himself safe, but on Tuesday was taken with a spasm, and died in great agony three days later.

The Saline Courier office, D. A. Smith's drug store, Numan's boot and shoe shop, all in the store house of William Lett, together with a small building near, were completely destroyed by fire this morning about 2 o'clock. The Courier office was insured for $800. D. A. Smith 1000 on stock, and William Lett $400 on building. The fire is supposed to have been accidental. The Courier will soon resume publication.

Little Rock Gazette: Special from Pine Bluff says: Frank L. Voss, a freight conductor on the Texas and St. Louis railroad, died suddenly at the depot this morning. He had just signaled the engineer on a freight train to pull out and boarded the caboose, when he was seen to fall. He died before medical assistance could be procured. The verdict of the jury of inquest was heart disease. The deceased had been in the employ of the company about five months, and was a member of the Brotherhood of railroad conductors. He leaves a wife but no children.

A fire on the morning of the 28th at Marianna destroyed W. W. Chism & Co's store. Loss, $15,000; insurance $7,000. The buildings occupied by Anderson Roberts, Jacob Shaul and J. W. Hayes were also damaged.

TWO MONTHS OBSERVATION AND EXPERIENCE AT EUREKA SPRINGS.

As an introductory, I must state that I had cancer of the eyelid, and on the 14th day of September last, I had it cut out by Dr. John Green, of St. Louis, the most eminent scientist in the west, and as good as any in the east. I performed the operation for about three weeks, returning to my home at Trenton, Mo., on the 4th of October. During the month of October the weather was very changeable, causing me to take a violent cold, which settled in my eye, causing a fungus growth to form in the corner of my eye, from which the cancer had been removed. I became very much discouraged, but having heard much said of the cures performed by the use of the waters of Eureka Springs, I decided to at once visit them and try their virtue. I arrived at the Springs on the 28th of October; I commenced the use of the water by drinking all that I could of it and bathing my eye in it. I used the water of the Magnetic Spring, principally to bathe my eyes in, and drank principally from the water of the Basin Spring and from the Magnetic, although I drank water from many of the other springs, and find but little difference in them; they are all very fine water. I kept my eye during the night, constantly wet or moist, by applying absolute cotton to it, wet with water from the Magnetic Spring, boiling the water down to about one-eighth its natural bulk; and during the day I bathed my eye well in the water, from six to ten times a day, by placing my face in a pan of the water—temperature to suit my eye.

(I mean by that, a temperature that made my eye feel good). This process removed all particles of loose, filthy matter that might accumulate in my eye, and left the eye socket and the lids clean. After I had bathed my eye for a few days the fungus formation seemed to grow larger and pressed against the ball, covering it to the sight of the eye, causing the ball to become much inflamed; but I continued the bathing, more regularly, when possible, than before, and in a few days this fungus substance, while bathing, dropped out, at the corner of the eye, retaining its hold to the upper lid, near the inner corner, the portion of it hanging out of the corner of my eye was about as large as a large grain of corn, and of an angry, dark-red color. I continued my bathing process, and the fleshy substance began to decrease in size, and in ten or twelve days it was entirely absorbed, and in that time the inflammation of the ball and lids subsided very much, and my eyes constantly improved. My stay at the Springs was eight weeks, and I now regard my eye as well; light does not hurt it, but is so weak, that cold air is very annoying, and I keep it covered when I go out in the wind, to prevent taking cold. I am much benefited by the water. I sometimes thought that I felt cancerous sensations in my eye after my arrival at the Springs, but I am not absolutely certain of it, as the sensations of that kind of cancer are so near akin to the healing sensation that it is nearly, if not quite, impossible to discern the difference.

I am anxious to give the Springs credit for all they have done for me; I will not give them credit for anything that I am not certain is true, as a false statement would do me harm, and do the Springs no good. Now, as to the medical properties of the water, I will give my opinion, although it is worth little or nothing. From the analysis of the water, I can see nothing, or nearly nothing, of a medicinal nature; I account for the wonderful cures from its use, being on the account of its absolute purity. Will the water cure everything? I answer no. But with proper use, nearly all will receive benefit from its use. And many who leave the Springs in disgust, might be permanently cured, if they would use the water properly; stay long enough, and let quack doctors, severely alone. Take as little medicine as possible, and in a large majority of cases, no medicine at all. But when medical aid is necessary, the patient should consult the best citizens as to who are the best physicians, as Eureka has some very good physicians; it also has some of the worst quacks.

While at the Springs I saw many people who were very much benefited in health, and many others cured of rheumatism, paralysis, diabetes, disease of the kidneys and two men cured of what their physicians called cancer; but as I am no physician, I cannot tell whether they were truly, cancers or not. I do know they were very bad sores.

I think so much of the Eureka water that I had a barrel shipped to my home, and am using it constantly, with good effect on my system.

EVERY BODY'S DOCTOR.

In these days of quack doctors and medical charlatans it is well for the people to be on their guard, to employ only well known physicians and to consult books by reliable authorities, so as to be acquainted with the symptoms and treatment of various diseases, and ready to attend to them in cases of emergencies. Very often simple remedies, if taken in time, will prevent serious illness. The best practical book on the treatment of diseases we have ever had the pleasure of examining is Every Body's Doctor, by the well known physician, Robert A. Gunn, M. D. This book is not like many so-called Medical Advisers, but it contains, in plain and simple language, a statement of the causes, symptoms and treatment of most of the diseases common to mankind. The book contains 684 pages, is nicely bound and is sold at $3 per copy. Notice the endorsement of same in another column.

6th Anniversary of St. Jackson's Day.

The approaching 6th anniversary of St. Jackson's day (as the Creoles of the old Regime fondly entitled the return of the glorious episode of the battle of New Orleans), will be celebrated with usual pomp. One week later in New Orleans, the 16th Grand Monthly Distribution of The Louisiana State Lottery will take place under the sole care and supervision of Gen'l G. T. Beauregard, of La., and J. B. Early, of Va. and over $265,000, will be scattered broadcast to the lucky holders of tickets costing $5 (or $1 for fifths). The object is the support of the noble Charity Hospital of New Orleans, of world-wide fame. All further information desired can be had from M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, Louisiana.

HOME AND FARM.

—The Leghorn, or white Spanish hens, lay a great many eggs, but the eggs are small. —N. Y. Herald.

—Keep the celery dry. It is moisture more than frost that injures it. Cover the trench with boards so that the water will run off. —Exchange.

—We believe in the upturning of the soil in autumn, as it is worth as much to the farmer as a coat of manure in the spring. —American Farmer.

—Turning the soil is the need of agriculture. —Troy Times.

—A delicious hard sauce for puddings is made by shaving some maple sugar just as thin as possible, and mixing it with butter in the proportion of two table-spoonfuls of sugar to one of butter. Serve with hot puddings by putting a spoonful on the top of the saucerful of pudding. —N. Y. Post.

—Buckwheat intended for seed should be hand thrashed. In thrashing by machine many of the grains are so bruised and broken that they will not germinate. As buckwheat is very easily thrashed, it makes a job for men in winter when other work is scarce, and it is good policy to save it for them. —Practical Farmer.

—Snowball Cake: Cream one-half cup of butter, add one cup of sugar, then the white of four eggs—one at a time—and beat until thoroughly light. Flavor with one teaspoonful of lemon; then add one-half cup of milk, alternating with two cups of flour, having previously mixed one large teaspoonful of Royal Baking Powder in the flour. Bake in a square pan. —Boston Post.

—My rule, says a correspondent of the Elmira (N. Y.) Farmers' Club, on all my grass lands, both meadow and pasture, is to sow ten bushels of lime to the acre once in five years, and to sow 200 pounds of German potash salts to the acre every year, and my experience is with this treatment, after two or three of the first years, that every acre will pasture its cow or cut two tons of hay.

—A writer in an exchange says: "Some twenty years since I had a piece of pasture land badly infested with wild carrots. I restored the white clover which had run out. I sowed one hundred and fifty to two hundred pounds of Nova Scotia plaster to the acre. The next year the white clover was there, but the carrots had disappeared, and although the land had been plowed since no trace of carrots has been found, although they are plenty near by. Did the plaster kill the carrots? If so people have an easy remedy for them."

—The proper method of forming the width of a heel, the step in stocking-knitting is always by regulating the length of heel, says an English correspondent. A man's heel is three inches deep, that is, after the rounding of the heel and the last rows. I am speaking of the "manufacturer's heel." The round and Dutch heels must be two and one-half inches in length before you begin to form the heel (two inches is the size of a child's heel); and it depends upon the width of the gusset in the round heel that the half inches will make it sufficiently deep. —The Householder.

THE TIMES.

DON J. PERRY, Editor.

EUREKA SPRINGS, ARKANSAS.

We are late this week and are sorry for it. The cold weather and the poor condition of our room are the cause.

A BRILLIANT RECEPTION.

In Honor of Miss Allie Royce.

The evening of the 29th ult., will be long remembered by a great number of the leading citizens and visitors of our city, as one of the most enjoyable occasions of the kind, ever witnessed in the history of Eureka Springs. The reception and musicale was given in honor of Miss Allie E. Royce, of Escanaba, Mich., who during her stay of about three months, has justly gained the kindest regards and appreciation of all who prize the gems of culture and refinement. Through the kindness of Dr. and Mrs. Davis, the invitations were prepared in the most elegant style; and on account of the excellent taste exhibited on the cards, all were happily surprised, who were so fortunate as to receive them.

At 7:30 p. m., the premises of Dr. Davis' were handsomely illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and the First Cornet Band of our city, was soon on hand to hail the coming guests with thrilling music. By 8 o'clock about eighty people were engaged in social merriment, when all were silenced by the delightful strains of the overture—a march—by Dr. Bruns and Mr. Gaither. Dr. Chas. E. Davis, then, in behalf of those present, presented to Miss Royce, as a slight token of appreciation, an elegant diamond pin and a handsome book, "The Farm Festival," by Will. Carlton, a Michigan author. Miss Royce was also presented with a basket of choice flowers, from Mrs. W. B. McClure. The presentation remarks of Dr. Davis were very timely, assuring the recipient that the people of our city know how to appreciate good things. The Dr., very appropriately, presented to Miss Royce, she acknowledged them with characteristic courtesy and modesty. The following is the rest of the program:

Solo and Chorus—"Are We Forgotten when We Are Gone"—solo by Mrs. Dr. Chas. E. Davis; chorus by Mrs. Harry Pratt, Mr. Gaither and Dr. C. E. Davis.

Instrumental Duett—by Dr. Bruns and Mr. Gaither.

Song—by Miss Allie Royce—"Forget Me Not."

Recitation—by Mrs. Harry Pratt—"The Echo of the Ages."

Solo and Duett—by Miss Royce and Dr. C. E. Davis.

Instrumental Music.

Bachelor's Reverie—by Crystal Davis.

Solo—"La Separation"—by Miss Royce.

Recitation—by Mrs. Harry Pratt.

Instrumental Music.

Song—by Miss Royce—"Under the Rose Bush."

Recitation—"How He Hunted the Mouse"—by Mrs. Harry Pratt.

"Gentle Spring"—by Crystal Davis.

"Robert of Lincoln"—by Miss Royce.

Quartette—"Good Night"—by Mrs. Dr. C. E. Davis, Mrs. Harry Pratt, Mr. Gaither and Dr. C. E. Davis.

The Solo and Chorus, "Are We Forgotten?"—"When We Are Gone," was especially appreciated, because of its appropriateness, and all felt the true pathos of the music, which seemed to be enhanced by the following song, entitled, "Forget Me Not," by Miss Allie Royce, which was sung in a sweet tone, and loudly applauded.

Mrs. Harry Pratt was present, as usual, with her invaluable assistance. Her recitations excited the greatest applause, and the highest esteem for her amateur disposition, was freely expressed. The artistic way Mrs. Pratt recited, cannot be praised too much.

In the course of the program, Dr. C. E. Davis introduced the "Echo of the Ages," which responded from an unseen unknown part of the house, in the most beautiful strains of national ballads.

Crystal, the little four year old daughter of Dr. Davis, was the magnet of the evening, and gave "The Bachelor's Reverie," and "Gentle Spring," in the most unique and fascinating manner. Everybody fell in love with "Crystal."

The instrumental music was furnished in the most satisfactory style, by Dr. Bruns and Mr. Gaither. It was discovered that traces of classical musical attainments, especially obtained, in the rendition of Dr. Bruns.

Miss Allie Royce manifested her usual trait in making all around her happy. "La Separation" and "Under the Rose Bush," were beautifully rendered, but all thought the house was converted into an aviary, while she gave "Robert of Lincoln." Miss Lillie Dale, at the organ, acquitted herself in the usual artistic style.

None seemed ready to hear "Good Night." They all wanted more of the good things, out were soon lost in the thrilling tones of the farewell song.

The attention of all was now directed to Miss Royce and her mother, who received many congratulations, best wishes and farewells. The highest appreciation was also shown to Dr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Davis, for their untiring efforts in making the entertainment so brilliant a success. While dispersing the Cornet Band, from the veranda, kept the emotions ablaze until all had left.

Among those present might be mentioned the following: Mayor and Mrs. A. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Baker, Maj. J. J. Downie, Sheriff R. Pulliam and lady, Capt. E. Davis and wife, Capt. Tobien and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Lee, Dr. W. W. Johnston and daughter, Dr. A. J. Gibbs, Dr. L. G. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Pickard, Mr. and Mrs. A. McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. A. Doran, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cary, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Blossom, Elliott Bros. and many others. Regrets were received from Gov. Clayton, Judge E. R. Ray, Mr. Primm, and others.

It was remarked by a distinguished gentleman, of Kansas City, that he had not witnessed richer dramatic powers in the west, than there was displayed on this occasion.

Our citizens all appreciate the forward move of Dr. and Mrs. Davis. They are like Miss Royce, from Mich., and it is hoped that some such natural ties may induce others to act in a similar manner. Mrs. Dr. Davis is a finely cultured lady, a beautiful singer, as she demonstrated to all present, and commands a courteous energy, that insures success in every laudable enterprise, and best of all, she, assisted by the Dr., was able to make more than eighty people happy, at once. Miss Royce and her mother leave for their home, to-morrow. Few visitors at the Springs have so endeared themselves to our people as they.

A NEW YEAR'S GIFT.

Many have wondered why the first of the new year in Every arrangement had been made, and Health Officer Turley signified his willingness to attend to the matter, and doubtless would have made good his word, but for the unseen contingency, which arose. It is a fact, not widely known, but true, nevertheless, that he is a lady's man, of no mean qualifications, and during the holiday week, while in company with two of our most accomplished and beautiful young ladies, had laid a wager with them of a $10 new year present, that they would not "ketch" his new year gift. They were knowing to the fact that he was to ring the bell, and anticipated catching him, while performing the laborious task of pulling the bell cord of the fire-alarm. Early new year eve, Ed. called on the twain and staid and kept staying until the hands on the palid face of the family clock, indicated that the hour of the birth of the new year was near at hand. He was becoming uneasy, and the young ladies restless, Ed. afraid to go to the bell, and the girls wishing he would start. Finally, it was fifteen minutes to twelve, the fair ones could stand it no longer and left the room, and remained away till long after twelve. Ed. was in a pickle, but finally made up his mind to "camp right there," and camp he did, tumbling into the first bed he came to, which proved to be the couch of the ladies. He waited and waited, got sleepy, and propped his eyes open with a couple of matches, until the old rooster, upon the out side, sounded the alarm, that the new year morn was here. Cold, mad, and shivering, he went forth, into the winter morn, and wearily ascended the hill to his bachelor quarters on the hillside. He found the lock burst and the bed occupied by a screaming "New Year's Gift!" and such a wall as went up from under the covers of that couch would have turned a heart of stone, but it made no impression on him. It is true the young ladies had went to his house thinking he had sense enough to go home when they left, but he came not, and they were afraid to go home, and in their extremity resolved to wait, but the interval was too long, and the drowsy goddess overcame them, and their dreams of a $10 present vanished, while Ed. is waiting for them them to pay the wager.

The Little Rock Gazette quoting from a correspondent, relating to our members of Congress has this to say: A correspondent says of our members of the house: "Arkansas has five representatives, all democrats, only two of them whom have had legislative experience. They were members of the last house. All are lawyers. All are lawyers, as stated, and all five served in the confederate army. Facts may as well be stated correctly.

Mrs. John S. Tibbs arrived home Friday after an extended visit in Missouri. Her many friends gladly welcome her return.

Dr. G. P. Young and family have again returned to the city, and the Doctor informs us that it is their intention of remaining. Mrs. Young's health is excellent and the Doctor is looking much better than when he went away, some eight months ago. The many friends of the Doctor and his lady gladly welcome them back.

G. W. Sweesy danced another bad spell into his eyes, at the phantom party.

J. F. Johnson, of Springfield, was in the city the past week.

His place. He has been missed.

Capt. Hickerson will move back from New Town. The distance is too lengthy for him.

Captain Tobien is again able to be around, after a long and severe attack of rheumatism.

Frank Overturn is on the "ragged edge" with nothing to do. He talks of saving up a lot of his friends—for pasture. We'll speculate that he don't, all the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Montgomery returned Friday from Missouri, where they have been spending the holidays with friends and the old folks at home. Tom looks, as if Missouri turkey agreed with him.

Miss Bissie, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Reese, called on the Editor's family New Year evening and entertained them all in a charming manner, for which this little lad is so justly noted. The young lady of Arkansas have good appetites and Bissie is no exception to the rule. For being only eight weeks old, her capacity is immense.

All members and friends of the Episcopal church, are invited to be present.

Deputy Sheriff Pulliam gave the Editor a handsomely bound and interesting book for a New Year's present. Dick has our thanks and we will try to remember him in 1885.

Frank Muth, of The Times office has received many congratulations on the neat and artistic New Year Cards which he turned out, his work in colors being especially fine. Frank will soon rank as one of the best job printers in the state.

Of the schools deserving special mention, the second term, none is more conspicuous than the Fifth Ward, by Miss McCarty and Mrs. Josie Putnam, which was a decided success and gave satisfaction to the patrons. Neither had ever taught before, and their friends felt some concern, but they soon found each of them was well fitted for the work, for they conducted their schools as well as old and experienced teachers could have done.
