General Manager.

OUR BUSINESS MEN.

The Liedona House—Dr. Adams Peabody proprietor, on Armstrong street, 36 rods Southeast of the Basin Spring, at a medium elevation; is one of the healthiest locations in the city. Its table is adapted to the wants of health-seekers; its surroundings are cleanly, and the house is quiet and orderly. The comfort and convenience of its patrons are carefully provided for. It is a pleasant home for health seekers and persons wanting a single meal, and it a good place to obtain it. Rates low.

Dr. W. W. Johnston, No. 33 Spring street, has resided here longer than any physician in the city, and has probably done more to bring visitors to our place than any one here. He is the author of the little book, "The Eureka Springs of Arkansas" which has reached the large number of 100,000 copies. He has ready for the press a pamphlet of 40 pages entitled "The Use of the Water of Eureka Springs in Diseases," which treats of Hygienic relations of water. Its physiological effects remedial properties, rules for bathing, different kinds of baths etc. He has been identified with our city in its developments and growth, and has always been ready with pen or purse, to forward every enterprise for the public good. He has kept memoranda of cures made by the springs and classified them until a vast fund of valuable knowledge has been obtained that is of value to all. He located here in January 1880, six months after the first house was built in the town and has resided here continually since and has built up a large practice both with our residents and with visitors from almost every state. His standing as a man and physician are such that he has the respect and confidence of all who know him.

The stranger in passing from the Harding spring to the new Crescent Hotel, over the hill by way of Magnolia street, as he reaches the crest of the point just north of the spring, comes suddenly upon a most beautiful view of the Crescent spring region. The new Crescent Hotel towering upon the mountain crest in front—just below is the romantic avenue bridge over the incline railway, where both pass through the park. The park is studded with lofty pines and other forest trees whose heavy foliage at this season of the year is rich in autumnal hues, the ground, cleared of underbrush and litter, is just tinted with the green of the thrifty young blue grass, with which it is seeded. Still lower down to the right stands the neat Eagle cottage, Crescent spring and wall, in full view. Directly in front, crossing the street on a trestle bridge, winding around the crest of Congress hill through the Park, over the inclined railway by a similar bridge (when finished,) upon a level of about 50 feet above and nearly parallel with Spring street, threads Crystal Terrace in full view. This walk when finished will be decidedly the most picturesque and desirable one in the city, especially for invalids, strangers, women and children, being quite or nearly level, wide and airy; free from dust noise and danger from vehicles or horses, commanding a magnificent views of the city, from above the depot to Little Eureka district, including Main street, Magnolia and Mill hollows being provided with seats and shades is particularly inviting. Directly in the foreground upon the left of this walk, stands the residence and grounds of Wm. L. Lee, former resident of Chicago. He came here for his health. His house is a modified Swiss cottage. On the same side of the walk, at the end of the bridge, buttressed by heavy walls of native gray and red marble, stands the picturesque residence of Dr. Chas. E. Davis, also from Chicago. The house is a combination of the French and Gothic styles, so arranged as to harmonize by contrast, giving altogether a unique and pleasing effect, presenting the best sample of a villa in this part of the state. The house is a model for a convenient, compact and commodious residence of 18 apartments, besides numerous closets and contains several new and novel features; it is constructed with deadened floors, and is so arranged that it may be used as a double residence, "or flats," entirely separate, each having front, rear and side entrances, from the ground; each with separate vestibules, parlors, bedrooms, hall, closets, kitchens, cellar, dining-rooms, bath-rooms, store-rooms, conservatory, bay-window, porches and tower; the latter is the central feature of the house, and surmounted with a French roof, rises 90 feet above Spring street; the whole being supplied with water from a stone tank with plumbing, drainage etc., complete.

The grounds adjoining the Park on two sides like it, contains the native pines and other forest trees besides flowers and fruit. Dr. and Mrs. Davis are both graduates of the Michigan State Normal school. The Doctor after graduating from the University of Michigan, and Ann Arbor Medical department; took courses of hospital observations in Cincinnati and Chicago and entered upon practice in the latter city, where he resided nearly eight years. Associating professionally with the best physicians and surgeons of Chicago; but his wife's health (sequel of cerebro spinal meningitis) necessitated a removal to a more congenial climate. He left Chicago in February, 1881, for New Mexico. En route he stopped in this city and finding right here the health-restoring conditions which he was seeking, decided to remain and the present health of his family shows the wisdom of his decision.

Coming as he did with endorsements from such physicians as Drs W. H. Byford, N. S. Davis, J. S. Jewel, A. Reeves, Jackson and others of Chicago he at once received the confidence of the community and is highly esteemed professionally and socially.

A CURE.

Many who have been sorely afflicted have a human feeling for those similarly afflicted. Such was the case with Mr. Wm. D. Short from Osceola, Clark county, Iowa at present stopping at the Wright House. Mr. Short came to Eureka Springs troubled with diabetes and kidney troubles, severe pains continually in his back. His life was very unpleasant to him, as always is when pains and ach accompany it. As soon as Mr. Short could get to some of the springs he drank all the water he could possibly hold—rested and drank again to use his own expression the "pain left me right away," this of course was a great relief and words could not express his gratitude. Mr. Short has used water from all the springs, but principally at the Harding. He is at present strong and hale—without any of the aches and pains he brought with him, and owes his restoration to the water of Eureka Springs which has caused so many cures. Anyone wishing to consult him will find him only too glad to reiterate these facts—for when the terrible trouble of diabetes has a hold, so seldom does it ever release it and the victims when cured are indeed grateful.

Eld. L. W. Scott has accepted the call of the Christian church to preach regularly. His subject Sunday at 11 a. m. "The Safe Side" at 7 p. m. "The Parable of the Marriage Feast."

The text for the morning discourse at the M. E. church will be, "None of us Liveth to Himself"—Rom. 14:7. At the evening hour some of the promises of the devil will be considered.

F. M. Elsey, of Ozark, has purchased Le Grand hotel and will take charge thereof on the first day of November. Mr. Elsey is an experienced hotel manager and will keep up the good reputation of the Grand.—Ft. Smith Tribune.

We had a nice treat last evening from Mrs. Foote, the amiable wife of Mr. A. H. Foote, auditor of the E. S. Ry. Co., in the form of a plate of luscious Concord and Catawba grapes. The fruit was grown on the shore of Lake Michigan and sent here to Mrs. Foote by her mother. Mr. Foote seems, and good reason to be, one of the happiest men in the world, with such a pleasant home, lovely wife and two sweet little girls.

Last Monday evening about fifteen of the friends of Hon. Wm. L. Lee, met at the residence of A. R. Sayles, on Fairmount avenue and marched in a body to surprise Mr. Lee and offer good wishes to him on his seventy-first birthday. Mrs. Lee had been let into the secret and had planned things so that a complete surprise awaited her partner, who enjoyed it greatly and welcomed his guests with as much relish as he could have done had he been many years younger. Mrs. Lee is a delightful hostess and so all felt at home at once and spent a most enjoyable evening.

It may not be out of place to state that Mr. and Mrs. Lee came here three years ago for Mr. Lee's health, and that he never expected to recover. During the first winter he regained so much of his former health that he concluded to build a cottage and locate here, and he now has the most comfortable home in Eureka Springs and one of the prettiest. If we may judge by what we hear of that night's gathering, it certainly is one of the most hospitable ones.

"A remarkable case was brought to our notice yesterday, being that of a 15-year-old daughter of Mr. E. B. Gilpin, a substantial farmer, formerly of Columbia, Mo., now living near Collinsburg, in this county, who had been totally blind from scrofula in the eye for fifteen months. She was treated by Dr. Eaton, who is now in the city, after personal examination by mail, with the gratifying result of restoring sight completely. The doctor and his young patient are both receiving congratulations."

DECORATIONS.

Brass and Wood Ornaments For Parlor and Dining Room.

Openwork brass lamps are most fashionable at present.

Brass claw feet are most ornamental pedestals for mahogany tripods and tables.

Olive wood is fashionable just at present in the manufacture of all articles of the toilet.

Brass bedsteads are even more generally used, for their manifold attractions are being appreciated by those who own them over all others.

New artistic designs for embroidery in Kensington are on the background of Java cotton, which may be found in colors at the designers of embroidery concerns.

Five o'clock tea tables now form part of the furniture of every well-appointed parlor, and there never have been so many attractive designs imported before this season.

There are many beautiful designs in mahogany furniture of scarcely less beauty than those of colonial days; the only difference being that less glue is used in their construction in the present day.—N. Y. Graphic.

The Barley Crop of Iceland.

It is generally supposed that the north arctic zone is extending, and proof is assumed in the increase of ice on the eastern shores of Greenland, and in the fact that barley, which was successfully grown in Iceland from its first settlement in 870 down to the middle of the fifteenth century, is no longer cultivated there. The Icelandic Government have, however, lately attempted to grow barley in the island on a considerable scale, and the results were very favorable.

A New King on the Throne!

"Malaria," as a "popular ailment," has given place to a new potentate. If you have Rheumatism now, the medical wiseacres exclaim—"Uric Acid"! If you have frequent headaches, they sagely remark—"Uric Acid"! If you have softening of the brain, they insist that it is—"Uric Acid"! If Sciatica or Neuralgia make life miserable, it is—"Uric Acid"! If your skin breaks out in Boils and Pimples, it is—"Uric Acid"! If you have Abscesses and piles, "Uric Acid" has set your blood on fire.

A BALLET-girl is somewhat of a philosopher; she believes in gauze and effect.—Oil City Derrick.

PERCHERON HORSES.

What the Commissioner of Agriculture Said of Percheron Horses. Hon. George B. Loring, Commissioner of Agriculture of the United States, having promised to meet with the Percheron Horse-Breeders of America, at Chicago, Nov. 15, 1883, telegraphed as follows: "I regret exceedingly my inability to be with you. Am heartily in sympathy with your position. Physician positively forbids my leaving the house. My disappointment is greater than yours. The Percherons are recognized as a distinct breed in France, and are entitled to a Stud Book there and in this country as much as thoroughbreds, and as much as any breed of cattle to a herd book. Their introduction has greatly improved the farm and draft horses of this country, and will, undoubtedly, improve the large carriage and omnibus horses. I think the publication of a Stud Book in both countries will ultimately, in this case as in all others, add greatly to the future value of the breed." It is gratifying to know similar sentiments are entertained by some of the prominent importers, notably among them, Mr. M. W. Dunham, of Wayne, Illinois, who, by his name but pedigreed stock, has done more toward the introduction of the finest types of the breed than we might almost say, all other men, having imported nearly 2,000 since 1872.

"The canny Scot" ought to go into the fruit-canning business.—Washington Hatchet.

THE MARKETS.

Professional Etiquette

prevents some doctors from advertising their skill, but we are bound by no such conventional rules, and think that if we make a discovery that is of benefit to our fellows, we ought to spread the fact to the whole land. Therefore we cause to be published throughout the land the fact that Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is the best known remedy for consumption (scrofula of the lungs) and kindred diseases.

FLORICULTURISTS are stalk raisers and often have fine phlox.

COMPOSED OF Smart-Weed, Jamaica Ginger, Camphor Water and best French Brandy, Dr. Pierce's Extract of Smart-Weed is the best remedy for diarrhoea, cholera morbus, dysentery or bloody-flux, colic or cramps, and to break up colds.
