

TIMELY TOPICS.

Liquor License carried in Boone county by a vote of 1197 to 805.

License was defeated in the county by a vote of 1056 to 742—a majority of 314. Hereafter Basin water will be at a premium.

The Carroll Progress aptly paragraphs it this way: "The Republicans get clerk and sheriff; the wheelers get left."

The currently reported accusation that Mr. Sedgwick bought a new hat while in Mexico, is now known to have been a "campaign lie."

Why did the Republican legislature buy seventy-two decks of cards and charge them to the taxpayers?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A woman living in the city who doesn't know how to hold a baby, says she would rather be a baby.

Weather Reporter.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S admirable habit of spending his vacation fishing is commended to the careful attention of Mr. Blaine who does entirely too much talking and letter-writing.

Now that Col. Moose and Mr. Shaban are elected, we suppose the price of Carroll county wheat will advance from 40 cents per bushel. That is what the Greenback financiers told us it would do.

Connecticut Republicans in convention yesterday, and following the lead of the illustrious Jim Blaine, dodged the liquor questions by declaring in favor of such legislation as public sentiment may demand.

Chicago Mail: They have their own way in Arkansas of hurrying a jury to a decision. One recently had been out two days, when the bailiff whispered to the foreman that a horse race was coming off in an hour. In fifteen minutes the verdict was made up.

Socialism is despotism, and it produces its kind, whether in oppressed Europe or free America. It does not draw an honest breath of American air, and its political life of a free people.—Inter Ocean.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: A singular effect of the recent earthquake is reported from Fort Worth, Texas. The wells of the city, which have heretofore yielded the purest of water, have suddenly become muddy and sulphurous, and the mouths of those who drink from them are made very sore. Luckily, the prejudice in favor of water as a beverage has not yet obtained such a hold in Texas that a misfortune of this kind will interfere materially with the popular comfort and happiness.

The most encouraging feature of the Arkansas elections is the Republican gains in Boone and Carroll Counties over the vote of 1884. There appears to have been about the usual amount of Democratic tampering with the ballot-boxes and "counting out"

IN MUSIC'S HALLS.

SUCCESSFUL LITERARY AND MUSICAL AT THE CRESCENT HOTEL FRIDAY EVENING.

The Refinement of the City Present—An Excellent Programme Magnificently Rendered for a Most Worthy Object.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY CONCERT.

No more choice, chaste and refined entertainment was ever given in Eureka than that transpiring at the Crescent Hotel Friday evening, under the auspices and for the benefit of the public library fund. The dining room had been gratuitously given by the Hotel management, and Manager Kittelle exerted his well-known ability to render all things as perfect as possible. The programme comprised both literary and musical numbers, all of which were quite happily chosen and well rendered. The exercises were opened with a brief and very pleasant address by Rev. Dr. R. H. Read, explaining the object to be in aid of the public library, where all may find entertaining literature, both from books and the leading daily and weekly newspapers.

The first musical number was an anthem sung by an octette composed of Mesdames Davis, Spring, Brim and Miss Foote, and Messrs. Dickens, Roberts, Brim and Steadton. The old Roman legend of "Virginia" received accurate delineation from Mrs. I. D. Stewart, while Mrs. J. W. Hill and brother, L. W. Foster, correctly and approvingly rendered "Kunkel's Polka," an instrumental duet of pleasing melody though not of difficult composition. Little Master Ernest Rowe and Miss Crystal Davis took the house by storm in singing to guitar accompaniment the vocal duet "In the Starlight"—being heartily encored at its close to which they responded with a charming composition.

Miss Katherine Spear's recitation, "Poor Little Joe" was most excellent, Miss Spear's decided theatrical talent and cultivated elocution winning her great applause and admiration. The vocal solo, "Over the Garden Wall" by Miss Armor was probably the greatest musical hit of the evening. Miss Armor's voice is phenomenally sweet, powerful, and has received careful cultivation—singing with absolute ease in both upper and lower registers, and with a gratifying appreciation of expression. The very hearty encore she received called her out the second time, when she sang with great force and expression, "The Last Rose of Summer." Piano Solo, "Last Smile," composition by Wallenhaupt, was beautifully rendered by Mrs. A. A. Dewey. Poe's masterpiece, "The Raven," though almost too long for a mixed programme, was well rendered by Mrs. A. A. Dewey.

Senator Berry struck the keynote when he said "it was time to call a halt." He wrote his name

Miss Armor, closed the program in a most happy and felicitous manner, the charming singer winning new laurels for her rich-toned and magnificently cultivated voice.

The object for which this entertainment was arranged is a noble one, and should receive the approval and patronage of all our citizens as it has already had the careful attention of several of our most intelligent ladies and gentlemen and a start has been made which we hope will lead to grand results. Last evening's entertainment was a step in the right direction; others of a similar nature might be provided with profit to the cause, and if so, it would not be a great while until a very respectable library could be put together. Meantime the TIMES books would not be without their usefulness.

The programme comprised both literary and musical numbers, all of which were quite happily chosen and well rendered. The exercises were opened with a brief and very pleasant address by Rev. Dr. R. H. Read, explaining the object to be in aid of the public library, where all may find entertaining literature, both from books and the leading daily and weekly newspapers.

The first musical number was an anthem sung by an octette composed of Mesdames Davis, Spring, Brim and Miss Foote, and Messrs. Dickens, Roberts, Brim and Steadton. The old Roman legend of "Virginia" received accurate delineation from Mrs. I. D. Stewart, while Mrs. J. W. Hill and brother, L. W. Foster, correctly and approvingly rendered "Kunkel's Polka," an instrumental duet of pleasing melody though not of difficult composition. Little Master Ernest Rowe and Miss Crystal Davis took the house by storm in singing to guitar accompaniment the vocal duet "In the Starlight"—being heartily encored at its close to which they responded with a charming composition.

Miss Katherine Spear's recitation, "Poor Little Joe" was most excellent, Miss Spear's decided theatrical talent and cultivated elocution winning her great applause and admiration. The vocal solo, "Over the Garden Wall" by Miss Armor was probably the greatest musical hit of the evening. Miss Armor's voice is phenomenally sweet, powerful, and has received careful cultivation—singing with absolute ease in both upper and lower registers, and with a gratifying appreciation of expression. The very hearty encore she received called her out the second time, when she sang with great force and expression, "The Last Rose of Summer." Piano Solo, "Last Smile," composition by Wallenhaupt, was beautifully rendered by Mrs. A. A. Dewey. Poe's masterpiece, "The Raven," though almost too long for a mixed programme, was well rendered by Mrs. A. A. Dewey.

Senator Berry struck the keynote when he said "it was time to call a halt." He wrote his name

Miss Armor, closed the program in a most happy and felicitous manner, the charming singer winning new laurels for her rich-toned and magnificently cultivated voice.

DEMOCRATS AND NATIONAL BANKS.

To the Editor of THE TIMES.
Do you as a Democrat, and the publisher of a Democratic newspaper, think that party favors the continuance of the National Banks. And if not why not?

GREENBACKER.
THE TIMES likes these frank questions and will endeavor to give as frank a reply. The Democratic policy is now and has been since its existence began over a century ago, (that is a good long time; does "greenbacker" think his party will live as long squarely against monopoly in any form. Its position as a party was never better defined than it was by Gen. Jackson in his famous bank veto message in 1832. He there said:

"This boon, (the extension of the charter of the bank of the United States) conceded to the United States, is most odious; it does not measure out justice to the high and the the rich and the poor. To the extent of its principal effect, it is a bond of union among the banking establishments of the nation, erecting them into an interest separate from that of the people."

So said Jackson as a Democrat of the banks in 1832. So say the Democrats of the National banks in 1886. Of course, there individual Democrats here and there who do not take his view because they own stock in one of these institutions and self interest impels men into a certain line of policy which will benefit those interests. But the great mass of Democrats believe with Jackson that banks chartered by the government to emit bills of credit are a most dangerous form of monopoly.

Furthermore there is a growing sentiment in the Democratic party that these institutions are unconstitutional; in this that they exercise the constitutionally granted power of congress to "coin money and regulate the value thereof" and that they violate the spirit of that instrument which declares that "no state shall emit bills of credit." And if no state, then by what power does a corporation do so? On this point President Jackson said:

"The money so coined, and its value so regulated, (by the congress), and such foreign coins as congress may adopt, are the only currency known to the constitution. But if they (congress) have other power to regulate the currency, it was conferred to be exercised by themselves, and not to be transferred to a corporation. If the bank be established for that purpose, with a charter unalterable without its consent, congress have parted with their power for a term of years during which the Constitution is a dead letter."

Now in must be borne in mind that the National banks of to-day are almost identical with the United States bank of 1832. Both are monopolies. The former is the work of the Republican party which is its staunch defender. And not without reason since the banks are large contributors to Republican success.

The Democratic party is opposed to monopolies; it has even fought them, and this fight which not a pretentious, solemn, and of fensive humbug. The Office of Education is as useless as a seal-skin coat in Sheol. Let it be abolished, but until it is abolished let a suitable head for it. For a humbug office a humbug Commissioner. It doesn't appear that Mr. Dawson is such a man, but if he has that "intensity of ignorance" which our gentle educational contemporary attributes to Alabama, he may be the right man in the right place, after all.—New York Sun.

NO ADVISE NEEDED.

To the Editor of THE TIMES.
The Evening Echo comes promptly to Mr. Shahan's relief, and takes off his hands the job of naming a deputy for this District. Surely the Echo's check is no equal. If Mr. Shahan is a deputy to please the Democrats of this District, that position represented by the Echo, if the whole party was turned into a wheel—could only be used as a brake. Has the Echo got to learn that the Republicans have an inclination to manage their own affairs.

REPUBLICAN.
Eureka Springs, Sept. 10th.

DEMOCRATIC HEREAFTER.

To the Editor of THE TIMES:
The Echo says the Democracy will live in the hereafter. What have been trying to find out is which place is meant—heaven or Sheol?

R. CUTHBERTSON.
THE TIMES does not, of course, know which was in friend Adam's mind. But for itself it has to say that it will be the other place from that occupied by the Republicans, and it will not be sheol. Radical office holders have had a portage on that for so many years that it would be no use for Democrats to try for a title there.

MEMPHIS, ARKANSAS &amp; KANSAS.

The Road is to be built—Heading for Eureka and Berryville

Col. A. H. Knosman, of Knox, Ark., came to-day from Harrison company with Mr. W. H. Amos, his father-in-law. Col. Knosman is one of the chief

From a Hartford Post.
Early in October, 1884, I was taken with inflammatory rheumatism so that I was confined to my bed, and could not even move the toes on one of my feet. I could not bear to have my clothes changed or to be handled in anywise. With all the remedies administered I found no relief. A friend, seeing the advertisement of S. S. S. as a rheumatic cure, secured some for me. This was in February, 1885, and after taking six small bottles I noticed a change in the feeling of the limbs, and could turn over in bed almost without assistance or pain. After a dozen bottles had been used, I could walk on crutches. I am now able to walk without crutches and to do the cooking for a family of four, and nearly all the house work. MRS. FANNIE E. JAMES.
Hephzibah, Richmond, county, Ga., June 21st, 1886.
Treatise on blood and Skin Diseases mailed free.
The Swift Specific Co., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga. 157 W. 23d St., N.Y.

EUREKA SPRINGS.
Their Life-Giving Properties—Beautiful Scenery and Surroundings.

PAYING THE PUBLIC DEBT.

August 31st there were outstanding $134,422,150 of three per cent. bonds. Of this sum $101,219,300 were held by the National banks as collateral for ninety per cent of their circulation notes, leaving $33,202,850 in other hands. If the whole one hundred and thirty-four million of these bonds were called now, it would take out of the Treasury thirty-three millions of dollars for the bonds belonging to holders other than the national banks, and ten millions for the ten per cent. margin on those of the banks. The remaining ninety-one millions due on the bank bonds would be retained in the Treasury to redeem the notes based upon them, and the notes would virtually become obligations of the United States, since the United States would assume payment of them.

The surplus cash in the Treasury Aug. 31, after arbitrarily deducting $100,000,000 for the redemption of legal tender notes and after calling $23,279,653 in fractional and minor coin unavailable assets, was $73,527,261. The payment of forty-three millions out of this sum would still leave over thirty-three millions for the redemption of the ninety millions of national bank notes which would be retired, and at the rate at which the notes came in the thirty-three millions would last five years. By that time a fresh surplus would accumulate enough to meet the other fifty-seven millions twice over.

If there were more courage in the Treasury Department and less subservience to the bank interest, the whole of the hundred and five million uncalled three per cents. would be called at once and three millions of dollars a year would be saved. It might be policy for the people to elect a Democratic administration which would see the public interests as well as those of the national banks. And it is barely possible that it may be done sometime.

From a Hartford Post.
Early in October, 1884, I was taken with inflammatory rheumatism so that I was confined to my bed, and could not even move the toes on one of my feet. I could not bear to have my clothes changed or to be handled in anywise. With all the remedies administered I found no relief. A friend, seeing the advertisement of S. S. S. as a rheumatic cure, secured some for me. This was in February, 1885, and after taking six small bottles I noticed a change in the feeling of the limbs, and could turn over in bed almost without assistance or pain. After a dozen bottles had been used, I could walk on crutches. I am now able to walk without crutches and to do the cooking for a family of four, and nearly all the house work. MRS. FANNIE E. JAMES.
Hephzibah, Richmond, county, Ga., June 21st, 1886.
Treatise on blood and Skin Diseases mailed free.
The Swift Specific Co., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga. 157 W. 23d St., N.Y.

EUREKA SPRINGS.
Their Life-Giving Properties—Beautiful Scenery and Surroundings.

ures. I verily believe it has not its counterpart on the face of the earth.

My wife is usually rather feeble, but the magnificent scenery, the exhilarating atmosphere, the health giving water, combined with the wholesome hospitality of Eureka's good citizens, seemed so to invigorate her, that we, accompanied by our little girl, visited on foot the springs in the city, and with our polite young guide, Willy Boone, also visited several outside the city limits, among which were the Oil, Johnson, Sycamore, Little Eureka and Arsenic. I do not know why this last is so named, as the pure water seems to contain nothing resembling that drug. I crept into the frigid cavern from which the water issues, and handed out several cups of water which our little party drank with relish. The waters of all the springs doubtless possess excellent medicinal properties, and, excepting two or three, have proven after careful analysis, to be almost absolutely pure, there being less than six grains of solid matter held in solution by one fluid gallon (231 cubic inches) of water taken from Basin spring, which seems to be the great center of resort. A limited space surrounding this last named spring is wisely protected by the authorities from intrusion, and high up on the mountain side is a refreshing view of natural forest growth, beneath the foliage of which issues the pure, sparkling water, and is conveyed a few yards through a tube to the outside of the protected inclosure. By analysis it has been ascertained that the water of Eureka Springs contains a greater quantity of nitrogen than that of any other medicinal spring in the United States, hence that life-giving element, oxygen, must be proportionately large. In my travels through twenty-seven States of the Union, I have never met with a more kind-hearted, courteous people than the people of Eureka Springs. I should especially mention Mr. J. H. Cameron who obligingly gave desired information, and offered to "show us around," and could we have remained another day, we should gladly have accepted his kind offer.

PHYSICIANS.
DR. EDWARD VISART, Physician & Obstetrician, EUREKA SPRINGS, ARK. Office Opposite Perry House. Residence on Elk Street. Near the residence of Mr. J. B. McElroy.

dr. Thos. J. West, Physician, Surgeon and Obstetrician, OFFICE OPPOSITE TIMES OFFICE. UP STAIRS. Residence—Cor Spring St., and Park Avenue, Eureka Springs, Arkansas.

Dr. J. G. DeWolf, Resident Physician, Office 13 Spring St., Opp. Perry House. have been acquainted with Dr. DeWolf for over three years, and with his practice, know him to have been a successful and well qualified Homeopathic physician, and recommend him to my friends and patrons. J. D. DAVIS, M. D. Eureka Springs, Ark. July 28 '84.

CHAS. E. DAVIS, M.D. Resident Physician. Office at Residence, on Crystal Terrace and Crescent Park, near Crescent Hotel. Specialties—Surgical, Nervous and Mental diseases and Gynecology.

DR. JOHNSTON, No. 39 Spring Street.

J. H. SHOW, Attorney-at-Law, Real Estate

—AND—
LOAN AGENT.
EUREKA SPRINGS, ARKANSAS.
Collects rents, pays taxes, loans money and makes investments for non-residents. Special attention paid to perfecting titles.

EDWIN M. LINZEE, Real Estate and Collecting Agent, Justice of the Peace

—AND—NOTARY PUBLIC.
Depositions taken on Proper Notice

A. DAVIS, M. B. BAKER, Notary Public. DAVIS & BAKER, Attorneys at Law.

Real Estate and Collecting Agents EUREKA SPRINGS, ARK. Office 45 Spring Street. All business entrusted us will receive the most careful attention.

W. F. DAUGHERTY, NOTARY PUBLIC, Office with City Clerk. EUREKA SPRINGS.

HOTELS.

MANSION HOUSE. EUREKA SPRINGS, ARK. J. Wils Pence, Prop.

This House has been refitted and refurnished throughout. Located on Spring Street within eighty feet of the HARDING SPRING And convenient to all the Springs, Post and Telegraph offices. Buses pass the House Going and Coming from all Trains.

HOTEL SILVER, L. M. LANE, PROPRIETOR. SPRING ST. EUREKA SPRINGS, ARK. One hundred yards from the Basin Spring and Post-office. Buses stop at the door out and from all trains.

LITTLE EUREKA HOUSE.

C. C. DALE PROPRIETOR. Eureka Springs, Ark. Situated near the Little Eureka Spring and Bath House. Newly refitted throughout. Rooms all plastered. Every convenience of guests.

PHOTOGRAPHERS.

F. W. BECK, ARTISTIC PHOTOGRAPHER Spring Street. SECOND DOOR FROM BANK BUILDING.

W. G. JENKINS &amp; Co.

—DEALERS IN— Hardware, Tinware, Stoves, AND House Furnishing Goods. No. 10 Main St. EUREKA SPRINGS.

C. A. CROW Grocery Merchant, Spring Street;

Dealer in fruits, vegetables, country produce and family groceries. Cash paid for butter, eggs, fruits and country produce.

J. W. CARY, HARDWARE AND FURNITURE.

118 and 120 Spring St. and 16 and 18 Main St.

do. Connecticut Republicans in convention yesterday, and following the lead of the illustrious Jimblaine, dodged the liquor questions by declaring in favor of such legislation as public sentiment may demand.

Chicago Mail: They have their own way in Arkansas of hurrying a jury to a decision. One recently had been out two days, when the bailiff whispered to the foreman that a horse race was coming off in an hour. In fifteen minutes the verdict was made up.

Socialism is despotism, and it produces its kind, whether in oppressed Europe or free America. It does not draw an honest breath of American air, and its exponents are not the kind of social and political life of a free people.—Inter Ocean.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: A singular effect of the recent earthquake is reported from Fort Worth, Texas. The wells of the city, which have heretofore yielded the purest of water, have suddenly become muddy and sulphureous, and the mouths of those who drink from them are made very sore. Luckily, the prejudice in favor of water as a beverage has not yet obtained such a hold in Texas that a misfortune of this kind will interfere materially with the popular comfort and happiness.

The most encouraging feature of the Arkansas elections is the Republican gains in Boone and Carroll Counties over the vote of 1884. There appears to have been about the usual amount of Democratic tampering with the ballot-boxes and "counting out" Republicans. These little eccentricities are, of course, so familiar to the people of that State that they do not excite surprise. On the whole, the election was about as the average in recent years, and the official vote will probably show that the Republicans of the State made a good fight and kept the faith.—Globe-Democrat.

The great Republican gain in this county consists of a loss of two of the officers. If there was any tampering with ballot boxes or "counting out" process THE TIMES has yet to learn of them. Any one having information that any such rascalities were resorted to either by Democrats or Republicans will confer a favor by leaving it with THE TIMES when it will be promptly denounced, and its authors recommended as candidates for the penitentiary. The truth is the Globe-Democrat doesn't know anything about it, and seeks to make a little cheap capital by drawing on its imagination for its facts—a rule always adopted by Radical organs when attempting to explain a Republican defeat.

DON'T EXPERIMENT. You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest Affections. Trial bottles free at N. Gibson's drug store.

The first musical number was an anthem sung by an orchestra composed of Mesdames Davis, Spring, Brim and Miss Foote, and Messrs. Dickens, Roberts, Brim and Stockton. The old Roman legend of "Virginia" received accurate delineation from Mrs. I. D. Stewart, while Mrs. J. W. Hill and brother, L. W. Foster, correctly and approvingly rendered "Kunkel's Polka," an instrumental duet of pleasing melody though not of difficult composition. Little Master Ernest Rowe and Miss Crystal Davis took the house by storm in singing to guitar accompaniment the vocal duet "In the Starlight"—being heartily encored at its close to which they responded by a beautiful temperance song. Miss Katherine Spear's recitation, "Poor Little Joe" was most excellent, Miss Spear's decided theatrical talent and cultivated elocution winning her great applause and admiration. The vocal solo, "Over the Garden Wall" by Miss Armor was probably the greatest musical hit of the evening. Miss Armor's voice is phenomenally sweet, powerful, and has received careful cultivation—singing with absolute ease in both upper and lower registers, and with a gratifying appreciation of expression. The very hearty encore she received called her out the second time, when she sang with great force and expression, "The Last Rose of Summer." Piano Solo, "Last Smile," composition by Wallenhaupt, was beautifully rendered by Mrs. A. A. Dewey. Poe's masterpiece, "The Raven," though almost too long for a mixed programme, was recited with due appreciation of its beauties by Mrs. S. H. Rowe, though her voice was almost too weak for so tiresome an effort. A piano solo, "Old Black Joe" with variations—most difficult composition—was ably translated by Miss Louise Taylor, her touch, technique, and expression being almost perfect. She, too, was warmly applauded, to which she graciously responded with another splendid selection, which doubly proved her the skilled musician. The piano duet, "Paris by Gaslight" (waltz) was one of the best instrumental selections of the evening, and was splendidly performed by the Misses Laura and Lily Dale. It is a difficult composition but the ladies showed their rare skill at the instrument in their masterly touch, time and expression. Miss Spear then recited a killing comic selection, entitled "Our Baby," once more captivating the entire audience, and responding to a hearty encore with a most bewitching nod. The original essay, "Aleyone," by Mrs. Dr. Chas. E. Davis, was a most thoughtful and timely production, setting forth that lady's well-known scholarly attainments and masterly thinking powers. No more interesting number was on the programme, and none gave more satisfaction to the audience. Vocal solo, "Think of Me," by upon everything as a war on Main street. If there is an application for a hotel built on the mountain they are doing it just to break down Main street. If an attempt is made to dig down a bluff so as to have easy access to all parts of town, it is only to bust up Main street. A lady who was raised in the town of Bolivar compared everything to something in Bolivar; there was no place on earth to her as nice as Bolivar. Finally she dreamed she went to heaven, and on being asked how it looked exclaimed: "Oh, it looked just like Bolivar!" So with some people—they will never see anything to compare to Main street until they get to heaven. No doubt that when the angel, with one foot upon the land and the other upon the sea, shall proclaim longer, that amidst dissolving planets, the wreck of worlds and the crash of matter, a howl will go up "that it's a puny war on Main street!" God save Main street! "Democrat" winds up by saying that "he who opposes the pensioning of Union soldiers will be buried in oblivion forever." I do not know of any one making war on Main street, neither do I know of any one opposing the pensioning of Union soldiers that are entitled to pensions; but I do know of some that are opposed to the wholesale and reckless allowance of pensions to those who do not deserve them and who are not entitled to them under the law, and these parties are not confined to Spring street, or to any locality—it is the honest, prevailing sentiment of the country. The country is tired of this shameless demagoguery and wholesale plunder of the public treasury. Senator Berry struck the keynote when he said "it was time to call a halt." He wrote his name in history and brought the blush of shame upon those who are clamoring for these fraudulent claims when he said "he did not know of a Confederate soldier begging bread." And yet we hear that a man must be buried in oblivion if he opposes the taxing of those one-legged and one-armed Confederate soldiers who make an honest living without assistance from any source. Yet we see a man who claims to have stood in the ditches with them, and who claims to be their friend, attempting to increase the burden by the allowance of pensions to persons after twenty odd years of trial with liberal pensions laws, have failed to prove their claims. For fear of making this article too long I will close. ANOTHER DEMOCRAT. Eureka Springs, September 25th, 1886. According to the tabulated vote of county the greenback candidate for governor polled 454 votes; Gregg Republican, 615; Hughes Democrat, 1108—a majority for Hughes over all of 39. A close scratch, but for all purposes as good as a million. Old people suffer much from disorders of the urinary organs, and are always gratified at the wonderful effects of Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm in banishing their troubles. $1 per bottle. THE EUREKA BATH HOUSE is now open for patrons. Every thing new, convenient and comfortable. All kinds of baths furnished, either plain, medicated, vapor or electric. 21tf. H. C. NUTTALL, Prop'r.

of policy which will benefit those interested. But the great interest in the matter is the fact that banks chartered by the government to emit bills of credit are a most dangerous form of monopoly. Furthermore there is a growing sentiment in the Democratic party that these institutions are unconstitutional; in this that they exercise the constitutionally granted power of congress to "coin money and regulate the value thereof" and that they violate the spirit of that instrument which declares that "no state shall emit bills of credit." And if no state, then by what power does a corporation do so? On this point President Jackson said: "The money so coined, and its value so regulated, (by the congress), and such foreign coins as congress may adopt, are the only currency known to the constitution. But if they (congress) have other power to regulate the currency, it was conferred to be exercised by themselves, and not to be transferred to a corporation. If the bank be established for that purpose, with a charter unalterable without its consent, congress have parted with their power for a term of years during which the Constitution is a dead letter." Now in must be borne in mind that the National banks of to-day are almost identical with the United States bank of 1832. Both are monopolies. The former is the work of the Republican party which is its staunch defender. And not without reason, since the banks are large contributors to Republican success. The Democratic party is opposed to monopolies; it has even fought them, and this fight which Gen. Jackson took up so heroically is to be renewed at no distant day with the National banks. When that day comes will "greenbacker" be found in the Democratic ranks or will he, as in the county contest just ended here in Carroll county, join his forces with the Republicans to defeat the Democratic party which alone can and will defeat this greenback monopoly. THE MAN SHOULD SUE THE CHURCH. Our esteemed contemporary, the Journal of Education, rebukes Mr. Cleveland for appointing Mr. N. H. R. Dawson to succeed John Eaton as Commissioner of Education. At one time, according to the Journal, the universal voice of education cried with one cry for Mr. E. E. White, and when White's chances were hopeless the same universal voice howled very piteously because Peaslee, too, is passed over. The core of Mr. Cleveland's of fence, however, is not merely his failure to comprehend a Peaslee and a White, but that he went to Alabama for a man, a State which, in the amiable language of the Journal of Education, "ranks every other in the Union in the intensity of ignorance and the neglect of general education." If Mr. Dawson is not a suitable man to be Commissioner of Education, so much the better for Mr. Dawson. No man can fill the place with distinction who is of place is meant—neaven or hell! R. OUTRETTSON. Memphis, Arkansas & Kansas. The Road is to be built—Heading for Eureka and Berryville. Col. A. H. Knosman, of Knox, came to-day from Harrison company with Mr. W. H. Amos, his father-in-law. Col. Knosman is one of the chief leaders with the party employed on the Memphis, Arkansas & Kansas line. He has been suffering from an attack of typhoid fever and is in a very feeble condition, being now on his way home. He was visited at his room at the Silver by a representative of THE TIMES, and talked as freely as his strength would permit respecting the intentions and plans of the syndicate who control the proposed line. They, the engineers, have found a very favorable line from Memphis west as far as Harrison, at which place they expect to arrive Saturday. From there they expect to come to Berryville, and if possible here—though the company does not yet know just whether Eureka will be on the line or not, the topography of the country having to be taken into consideration. Anyhow the line will be built for a certainty, as the money is already forthcoming, capitalists being anxious to get into a company which promises so well. If there be any consideration which would induce them to come to Eureka, we think our people would meet it most cheerfully. REPUBLICAN VICTORY (IN A HORN.) There is just a bare possibility that a day or two been allowed before the following paragraph, it would have been telegraphed, it would have been in the Globe-Democrat some day, and the workers here would have mortification: CELEBRATING A REPUBLICAN VICTORY. Special Dispatch to the Globe-Democrat. EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark., Sep. 3. Nothing like complete returns are in yet, but it is a certainty that the Republicans have gained every office in Carroll County. Shahan for Sheriff and Moose for County Clerk each have over 200 majority in the county. The Republicans are celebrating their victory to-night by a salute of 100 guns from artillery stationed on South Mountain, which is lighted up by bonfires of pine-knots. All the hands in the city are out. A GRAND RESULT. Later—Complete returns from the county show that the entire county ticket is elected, and the Democracy are routed completely. Eureka Springs as a city gave a majority of 102 against liquor license, and Carroll County at large a majority of 355 against liquor license. A Democratic majority of 800 wiped out, the liquor traffic voted out, makes a sweeping change in grand old Carroll County.

thirty-three millions would last five years. By that time a fresh supply would be ready to move in, and the people would be twice over. If there were more courage in the Treasury Department and less subservience to the bank interest, the whole of the hundred and five million uncalled three per cents. would be called at once and three millions of dollars a year would be saved. It might be policy for the people to elect a Democratic administration which would see the public interests as well as those of the national banks. And it is barely possible that it may be done sometime. From a Grateful Heart. Early in October, 1884, I was taken with inflammatory rheumatism, and could not even move the toes on one of my feet. I could not bear to have my clothes changed or to be handled in anywise. With all the remedies administered I found no relief. A friend, seeing the advertisement of S. S. S. as a rheumatic cure, secured some for me. This was in February, 1885, and after taking six small bottles I noticed a change in the feeling of the limbs, and could turn over in bed almost without assistance or pain. After a dozen bottles had been used, I could walk on crutches. I am now able to walk without crutches and to do the cooking for a family of four, and nearly all the house work. MRS. FANNIE E. JAMES. Hepzokiah, Richmond, county, Ga., June 21st, 1886. Treatise on blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. The Swift Specific Co., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga. 157 W. 23d St., N.Y. EUREKA SPRINGS. Their Life-Giving Properties—Beautiful Scenery and Surroundings. Some months ago Mr. H. Clay, of Hacket City visited this city, and upon returning home wrote the Hacket City Horse-Shoe as follows: Arriving at Seligman, Mo., just across the northern boundary of Arkansas, we changed to the road leading in a south easterly direction to the great health resort eighteen and one half miles distant. Of course we recrossed the boundary line between Missouri and our own state. Here again we were made to feel at home by the pleasant, gentlemanly manner of conductor Harry Clark. Passing on through a seemingly continuous, winding valley, with alternate rocky elevations and romantic canons, across streams of limpid water supplied by a thousand sources high up on the mountain side we arrived at the pride of Carroll county. "Well here it is!" and my wife seemed anxious to tread the gravelly surface of this charmed spot. Numerous busses and carriages were in waiting, into one of which we stepped, and were conveyed up into the city. On the route to our hotel, and during all our rambles among objects of interest in this "young mountain queen" we were most agreeably impressed by the happy combination of tasteful art with perfect nature. This young city, in regard to its growth, is, I believe, yet in its infancy. Odd, grand, beautifully picturesque, with other rare and peculiar feat-which contains the water of Eureka Springs contains a greater quantity of nitrogen than that of any medicinal spring in the United States, hence that life-giving element, oxygen, must be proportionately large. In my travels through twenty-seven States of the Union, I have never met with a more kind-hearted, courteous people than the people of Eureka Springs. I should especially mention Mr. J. H. Cameron who obligingly gave desired information, and offered to "show us around," and could we have remained another day, we should gladly have accepted his kind offer. HOTEL SILVER, L. M. LANE, PROPRIETOR. SPRING ST. EUREKA SPRINGS, ARK. One hundred yards from the Basin Spring and Post-office. Busses stop at the door of and from all trains. LITTLE EUREKA HOUSE. C. C. DALE PROPRIETOR. Eureka Springs, Ark., Situated near the Little Eureka Spring and Bath House. Newly refitted throughout. Rooms all plastered. Every convenience of guests. TERMS REASONABLE. PHOTOGRAPHERS. F. W. BECK, ARTISTIC PHOTOGRAPHER Spring Street, SECOND DOOR FROM BANK BUILDING. W. G. Jonkins & Co. DEALERS IN Hardware, Tinware, Stoves AND House Furnishing Goods. No. 10 Main St. EUREKA SPRINGS. C. A. CROW Grocery Merchant, Spring Street; Dealer in fruits, vegetables, country produce and family groceries. Cash paid for butter, eggs, fruits and country produce. J. W. CARY, HARDWARE AND FURNITURE. 118 and 120 Spring St. and 16 and 18 Main Street. H. D. FIELD, MAIN STREET, GROCERY, MERCHANT, DEALER IN Family Groceries, PROVISIONS AND Country Produce. W. J. SMITH Sweet Spring Laundry. Will do Family Washing, or by the piece at customary prices and with prompt delivery. SHORT STREET, Eureka Springs. T. H. BATTEN, CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Plans, Specifications and Estimates furnished on application. Office with Joe F. Ivey Spring St. Eureka Springs, Ark. W. V. CROW. THE OLD RELIABLE, HANDLES Hay, Flour, Bran, Oil, Salt & Coal. And is always ready with his BIG TEAM, to do all kinds of hauling and transferring. Charges reasonable, and goods handled with care. 108W The American Bee Journal, [Established in 1861.] [16-page Weekly—$1.00 a Year.] [Is the Oldest, Largest and Cheapest weekly bee-paper in the World. 5m ple free] Address, 222 JOURNAL, Chicago.

PHYSICIANS. DR. EDWARD VISART, Physician & Obstetrician, EUREKA SPRINGS, ARK. Office Opposite Perry House. Residence on Elk Street. Near the residence of the Rev. W. B. McIlwain. Children and Chronic Diseases. Dr. J. H. Hutchinson, DeWitt, Ark. 77 m. 1. dr. Thos. J. West, Physician, Surgeon and Obstetrician, OFFICE OPPOSITE TIMES OFFICE. UP STAIRS. RESIDENCE—Cor Spring St. and Park Avenue, Eureka Springs, Arkansas. Dr. J. G. DeWolf, Resident Physician, Office 13 Spring St., Opp. Perry House. have been acquainted with Dr. DeWolf for the last three years, and with his practice, I know him to have been a successful and well qualified Homeopathic physician, and recommend him to my friends and patrons. J. D. DAVIS, M. D. Eureka Springs, Ark., July 25 '84. CHAS. E. DAVIS, M.D. Resident Physician. Office at Residence, on Crystal Terrace and Crescent Park, near Crescent Hotel. SPECIALTIES—Surgical, Nervous and Mental Diseases and Gynecology. DR. JOHNSTON, No. 39 Spring Street. OFFICE HOURS: 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., Sundays, 2 to 4 p. m. W. A. REESE, M. D. U. S. Examining Surgeon for Pensions. Telephone No. 15 at Residence. Office on Spring Street, Eureka Springs, Ark. Specialties—The almost painless Cure of Piles, Fistula, and other Rectal Diseases, without the use of Knife or Ligature. ALSO PRIVATE AND FEMALE DISEASES. Drs. Young & Bolton, Home Physicians and Surgeons. Office in Tanner Block, opposite Perry House. Special attention given to operative surgery, diseases of the genito-urinary organs. Cases of women and chronic cases in general. Office hours, 8 to 11 a. m., and 2 to 6 p. m. Telephone from gent's room day or night. ATTORNEYS. STEWART & FETTY, INSURANCE AGENTS, Representing First Class Companies. Eureka Springs, Arkansas. Office in Bank Building. JOSEPH M. HILL, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW Office opposite the Perry House. 321f J. CONGDON, REAL ESTATE AGENT. Buys, Sells, Rents and Leases Houses, Lots and Lands. All other business will receive careful Attention. Eureka Springs, Ark.

This image shows a vertical strip of aged, yellowed paper. The paper has a textured, slightly mottled appearance with various shades of cream and light brown. There are several prominent vertical creases and folds, suggesting it was once part of a bound volume. The edges are slightly irregular and worn. The overall tone is warm and historical.

for both sexes, illud, constander, pain suad
EUMATISM BENEFACTIO NERVE CURABLE BY MEDICATION, $500 for the treatment this course for. Guaranteed as effecting. One-half of the cost of the treatment, can be paid in advance, and the treatment of each week for Cleveland, C. W. W.
 Anderson, 305 Wyndol St. Kas. 1874

---

ADVERTISERS
 can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing
 D. D. BARNES & CO.

PURE Bilioussness; Sick Headachs in Four Hours.
One dose relieves immediately. They cure and prevent Galls, a Fever, Sour Stomach, a Red Skin, Clear the Skin, tone the Lungs, and give Vigor to the system. Doses: ONE B.B.M. man, one cup and you will never be without them. 25 cents per bottle. Sold by Druggists and Selling Houses generally. Sent on receipt of 10 stamps, no cash, or any orders,
J. C. SMITH & CO.
Manufacturers and Sole Traders. C1, 7-12 E. 22.

COTTAGE ORGAN

attained a standard of excellence which is of no superior.

contains every improvement that inventive genius, skill and money can produce.

EVERY COTTAGE WAS RANDED
FOR FIVE YEARS

These Organs are celebrated for volume of tone, quick response, artistic design, and in all respects perfect in making,
are the most desirable organs for homes, clubs, churches, lodges, societies, etc.

ESTABLISHED REPUTATION.
EQUALIZED FACILITIES.
SKILLED WORKMEN.
BEST MATERIAL.
COMBINED, MAKE THIS

THE POPULAR ORGAN

Instruction Books and Piano Stools.
Catalogues and Price Lists, on application, ~~FREE~~
CHICAGO COTTAGE ORGAN CO.
11 Blue Island Avenue, CHICAGO, ILL.

FRESHING MACHINES
A SPECIALTY.
 Most Durable, Best Constructed, and Best Equipped use—Wastes no grain; cleans it ready for market.
FRESHING ENGINES and HORSE
POWER PRESSES.
 New MILK, and Standard Implementations generally. Send for illustrated catalogue.

A. B. FARQUHAR,
 Pennsylvania Agricultural Works, YORK, Pa.