Go to Whitehead's for all kinds of fresh meats, ham, bacon, dressed chickens, turkeys, oysters, cranberries, etc. 72tf

Miss Monie Boren, mother and father, of Dallas, Tex., are in the city for a few weeks' stay. They are, as of yore, at the Chautauqua.

The sidewalk opposite the Roberts Cottage has been recently repaired. Let the good work go on. There is need for repairs in many places.

Ellis Harbert, a practicing physician of Green Forest, is in the city, returning from Nashville, Tenn., where he has been attending Vanderbilt University.

Usual services at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning and evening. Preaching by the pastor. It is earnestly desired that all attending bring their Bibles.

M. SLAUGHTER, Pastor.

All parties desiring to obtain Patents, Pensions, collect debts, pay taxes, buy or sell real estate, rent houses, or the services of an attorney or notary public, call on Judge E. R. Ray, office over postoffice. 75tf

REMOVAL—John W. Cary has moved his stock of hardware, tinware, stoves, etc., to the Congdon building, next door to the City Grocery, where he will be glad to see his old friends and customers, and as many new ones as want the best goods at the lowest prices. 98tf

A Case of Necessity.

We have begun to send out bills to all who are indebted to us for subscription. All who receive a statement are earnestly requested to call at our office within ten days from date thereof and settle same, or their paper will be stopped and the account placed in the hands of an officer for collection. This is as immutable as the law of the Medes and Persians. Forbearance has ceased to be a virtue with us. Remember, please, that this includes every one who is indebted to us for subscription. It may be a rather harsh measure, but necessity compels us to do something. There are too many people wearing their eyes out reading our paper, who persistently refuse to pay for it.

Go to S. Turner's for dry goods, notions, etc. 91tf

W. R. Fisher took the stage for Harrison this afternoon.

The guests of the Chautauqua enjoyed a social hop last night.

R. S. JAMES, Rector.

There will be preaching at the Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday morning and evening. Come, let us worship the Lord together.

W. T. FARLEY, Pastor.

Dr. R. P. Moore was among the morning train arrivals from Nashville, Tenn., where he has been attending the Vanderbilt University. He is en route to his home in Oak Grove.

As a household remedy it cannot be excelled. L. E. Brockett, 459 Church Street, Norfolk, Va., writes: "I suffered a great deal from nervous headache, sore throat, etc., and found no relief until I tried Salvation Oil. I now recommend it to my friends as a household remedy that cannot be surpassed."

At 11 o'clock by our time today Grover took the oath of office and is now the "Big Chief" of our nation.

Rev. Allen, of Muscogee, I. T., will fill the pulpit at the Presbyterian Church, both morning and evening tomorrow.

The wind of last night demolished a number of signs on Spring Street. They had the appearance of having enjoyed another Hallowe'en.

John W. Corley and J. T. Primrose, representatives of the St. Louis Republic, who have been "doing" Eureka Springs for several days, have returned to St. Louis.

Arch Stockton, who has had the management of the street cars in this city, has resigned his position and will leave Monday with his family for his former home at Harrison.

George Addy and wife, of Chicago, were among the morning train arrivals. Mrs. Addy is quite well known in our city, she having remained here several months last season.

C. J. Hall, a Kansas farmer, accompanied by his son and daughter, arrived on the morning train today. They have come with the intention of making this city their home if their health is benefitted.

A tickling sensation of the throat, a piping voice and a disposition to expectorate frequently, are the forerunners of a dangerous throat affection. The bronchial trouble often develops into consumption, unless checked by the timely use of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Beware!

The reception that was to have been given to Rev. Farley, pastor of the M. E. Church, at the Spring Cottage last night, was postponed indefinitely. A few intimate friends, not knowing of the postponement, called, however, and a most enjoyable evening was passed. Miss Bessie, the charming daughter of the host and hostess, favored those present with a number of choice selections on the piano during the evening, which was heartily enjoyed.

The Chautauqua House, under the management of J. Wils Pence, is rapidly becoming the popular "house of rest" for all visitors to our city. It now has forty guests, and we don't wonder at it, for everything possible is done to please even the most penurious. The victuals are clean, well-cooked and wholesome, as we can truthfully testify (having enjoyed a sumptuous dinner there today); their rooms are large and nicely furnished; in fact, everything is as it should be and we cheerfully recommend the Chautauqua to those who desire kind treatment and first-class accommodations.

Again the angel of death has visited our city and carried away one of our most respected citizens, Major H. M. Carden, who died last night at his residence on Vaughn Street. He was in the sixty-eighth year of his age, and has since childhood been a consecrated Christian and a faithful member of the M. E. Church, South. Major Carden came to this city in 1889 for his health, he being a sufferer from cancer. He rallied for a while, but the disease had too firm a hold upon him, and at 10 o'clock p. m., yesterday, his soul took flight for that brighter and better world. The sad rites were said by Rev. White this afternoon, after which the remains were taken to their last resting place at Russellville, Ark., his old home.

Council Proceedings.

The City Council met in regular session last night, with all members present.

A petition from G. W. Leake asking permission to cut a certain pine tree on the reservation near the Kansas House was presented to the Council and said petition was referred to Committee on Reservations with power to act.

Monthly reports of city officers were received and adopted.

The usual monthly accounts for salary of city officers were allowed, together with the following accounts: J. S. Maples, fee bills, $10.55; J. B. Mattox, for street work, $14; H. C. Nuttall, for culvert at junction of Spring and Mountain Streets, $15; Eureka Springs Gas Light Co., for interest on judgment, $1,160.39.

The following accounts were referred to the Committee on Claims:

B. J. Rosewater and Z. P. Freeman for services as members of Board of Public Affairs, $22.50 each.

B. J. Rosewater, secretary of Board of Public Affairs, $7.50.

Eureka Springs Gas Light Company, for street lights in February, $73.35.

Alderman Shepherd presented to the Council the sum of $30 in city warrants issued on the Harding Spring improvement appropriation, and said scrip was reconverted into the treasury to be cancelled and burned.

Certain butchers who have paid license for the year 1893 asked that the amount paid by them be refunded by the city, and the request was referred to the Committee on Claims.

An ordinance to prevent chickens from running at large in the city was presented and passed the second reading, when it was amended by erasing the word chickens and inserting the word cows instead thereof, and a motion for the third reading of the ordinance was lost. So it lies upon the table, not knowing if it is to be a chicken or a cow ordinance, if either.

The sum of $215 in cancelled, ordinary city warrants, and $44.45 in special preferred warrants were examined and burned by the Council.

The commissioners who were appointed last year on the Main Street Improvement District presented to the Council the profile and field notes of the width and grade of Main Street, as made by them, and asked that the same be adopted by the Council. Alderman Beatty moved to refer the matter to the Ordinance Committee and the motion carried.

Council adjourned to meet Friday, March 17, 1893.

The Bible Students' Exchange.

The next meeting of the Bible Students' Exchange will be held Thursday night of next week at the Presbyterian Church. The program is as follows:

DEPARTMENT OF THE LESSON. Surroundings—Mrs. P. R. Wilhelm. Exposition—Dr. R. S. James.

DEPARTMENT OF METHODS.

Bible Class Work—Mr. G. C. Gibson. SUPPLEMENTAL DEPARTMENT. General Review—Rev. H. D. Smith.

Will all pastors please announce above on Lord's Day.

Eureka Springs Lyceum.

The exercises at the Lyceum last evening were appreciated by those who were present. The unexpected change in the weather kept many of the Lyceum's friends at home. Dr. James gave a talk on Walter Scott's life with a brief review of his works. Friday evening, March 17th, Dr. James will read from the "Lady of the Lake."

Forty-Sixth Anniversary.

The crowning social event of the season was the "7 O'Clock Tea and Fagot Party," given by Mrs. F. H. Bacon on last evening. On this date occurred the forty-sixth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. A. J. and Mrs. M. E. Cleland, parents of Mrs. Bacon, and the party was given in honor of the event.

The guests were invited to a 7 o'clock tea. At the appointed hour the rooms were filled by many of the elite of the city. Mr. and Mrs. Cleland, Mrs. C. S. Brownell and Mrs. R. S. James received the guests most graciously.

After a short time given to social chat and merry repartee, the guests were seated in tete-a-tete groups at small tables, arranged in the attractive parlors, and an elegant repast was served. Dainty and rare viands, most toothsomely prepared, were served in most exquisite manner.

But all things have an end, and the many courses were all served, and the tables removed, and the lamplight dispensed with. The company was then invited to make themselves comfortable and listen to stories and music by fagot light. Informal recitations and comment on poem and poet, short stories sparkling with wit, tender songs, reflections on current topics, and the melting music of piano and flute, followed in pleasing succession. Those contributing to the entertainment were, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Brownell, Mr. and Mrs. Fernie, Mrs. G. W. Wear, Dr. and Mrs. Davis, Mrs. P. R. Wilhelm, Dr. James, and Dr. Ellis and Mrs. Bacon.

Dr. Davis happily reminded the guests that they were gathered in a Christian home and only an advanced stage of Christian civilization made such an evening possible.

Dr. James paid a most graceful tribute to the charming elderly couple, on whose behalf the company was assembled.

With visible regret the party perceived the hour was growing late, and with parting compliments dispersed, but the remembrance of the pleased enjoyed will linger long in memory's chamber.

The thanks of the guests are due Mrs. Bacon for developing the charming possibilities of enjoyment to be furnished by a company composed of men and women of brains, wit and culture. We congratulate Eureka Springs that men and women may be found within her borders that render possible an evening of so high an intellectual order; an evening that would take rank in any of the centers of culture and refinement in our land.

The guests of the evening were:

Mr. A. J. Cleland, Mrs. M. E.

Cleland, Mrs. F. H. Bacon, Dr. and Mrs. R. S. James, Mr. and Mrs. John Fernie, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Brownell, Mrs. R. E. Brownell, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Wilhelm, Dr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Davis, Judge and Mrs. G. O. Linbarger, Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Ellis, Col. and Mrs. G. W. Wear, Major and Mrs. True, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Melone, Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Floyd, Mrs. Frank Richardson, Mrs. E. Claffin, Mr. Park Worden. W.

Newspaper Laws.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to continue their subscription.
2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals, the publishers may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.
3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered it discontinued.
4. If subscribers move to other places without informing publishers, and the papers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.
5. The courts have decided the "refusing to take periodicals from the office, or moving and leaving them unclaimed for," prima facie evidence of intended fraud.
6. Any person who receives and makes use of it, whether he has ordered it or not, is held in law to be a subscriber.
7. If subscribers pay in advance, they are bound to give notice to the publisher at the end of their time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it on and the subscriber will be responsible until express notice, with payment of all arrearages, is sent to the publisher.

SATURDAY, MARCH 4, 1893.

TAMMANY HALL was represented in the inaugural parade today by 3,000 stalwarts.

THE value of the product of American manufactures for the year 1892 is estimated to have been $7,215,000,000.

THE Mayor of Hot Springs has given special orders to the Police Chief to "run in" the crooks or make them leave town.

THE Senate refused to confirm the nomination of Benton Hanchett as Judge. Mr. Cleveland will, of course, appoint a Democrat.

THE Green Forest Tribune has reached the fourth year of its age, and came to us this week with a brand new head. It is quite pretty, and we admire the taste of Brother Russell.

THE Sandwich Islands have several of the most violent volcanoes in the world. One of our exchanges is bothered to know of what use our loud-mouthed politicians will be if the United States annex these.

DR. T. DE WITT TALMAGE is quoted as saying that his continuation with the Brooklyn Tabernacle depends upon the power of the trustees and congregation to extricate the church from the swamp of debt with which it is encumbered. Dr. Talmage's salary is set at $12,000 per year, but he says he has drawn no salary for three years.

A FARMER in Phillips County, this State, figures that there is a loss of $8.97 on every bale of cotton raised, and that the producer sustains this loss.

The Success of Cleveland.

The secret of Grover Cleveland's success and the tremendous hold he has upon the hearts of the American people are not hard to understand to one who has studied his letters, his speeches and his acts.

The Nashville American says: "There is not one pulse-beat of his nature that is not in sympathy with the people. He is far removed from the flim-flam of politics, is utterly and absolutely indifferent to self and cares only for the right."

We publish a recently discovered letter which was written by him on the evening after he had been elected Governor of New York State to his brother. The sentiments expressed therein have served all to guide him:

Mayor's Office, New York, Nov. 7, 1882.

Rev. Wm. N. Cleveland.
MY DEAR BROTHER—I have just voted. I sit here in the Mayor's office alone, with the exception of an artist from Frank Leslie's newspaper, who is sketching the office. If mother was here I should be writing to her and I feel as if it were time for me to write to some one who will believe what I write.

I have been for some time in the atmosphere of certain success, so that I have been sure that I should assume the duties of the high office for which I have been named. I have tried hard in the light of this fact to appreciate properly the responsibilities that will rest upon me, and they are much, too much to under-estimate. But the thought that has troubled me is, can I well perform my duties and in such a manner as to do some good to the people of the State? I know there is room for it and I know that I am honest and sincere in that desire to do well, but the question is whether I know enough to accomplish what I desire.

The social life which seems to await me has also been a subject of much anxious thought. I have a notion that I can regulate that very much as I desire, and, if I can, I shall spend very little of my time in the purely ornamental part of my office. In point of fact, I will tell you, first of all others, the policy I intend to adopt, and that is to make the matter a business engagement between the people of the State and myself, in which the obligation upon my side is to perform the duties assigned me with an eye single to the interests of my employers. I shall have no idea of re-election or any higher political preferment in my head, but be very thankful and happy if I can well serve one term as the people's governor. Do you know that if mother were alive I should feel so much safer? I have always thought that her prayers had much to do with my success. I shall expect you all to help me in that way. * * *

Your affectionate brother,
GROVER CLEVELAND.

There is clearly the mystery of Cleveland. "The policy I intend to adopt is to make the matter a business engagement between the people of the State and myself."

Tomorrow and Then.

Springfield Democrat.
Tomorrow will end the rule of the Republican party in this country for four years, possibly and probably forever. For years a majority of the votes and a large majority of the best thought of the country has been out of accord with that party.

Playing on prejudices growing out of the civil war, and by the use of money contributed by the class that purchased the privilege of taxing the masses, minority rule has prevailed since 1861.

Few of his predecessors have entered the White House possessing the confidence of the people to the same extent as that bestowed on Mr. Cleveland. All admit that he made mistakes during his former administration, and if he is not more than human he cannot escape errors during the next four years. But the people have faith in his patriotism, his integrity and his courage. Many who voted for him may believe that he committed a blunder in calling Judge Gresham into his cabinet. The future must demonstrate the wisdom or weakness of this bold move. It may prove a master stroke. The ability and integrity of the new Secretary of State are not questioned. With these qualities it follows he must be in harmony with his chief on all the leading issues on which the late campaign was fought and won. He is therefore to all intents and purposes a Democrat of the Jeffersonian school. If it prove the beginning of the end of the spoils system and machine rule in politics the best sentiment of the country will rise up to bless the author.

The future of parties was never in a more interesting situation. The life of the Democratic party very largely depends upon Mr. Cleveland, his cabinet and the next session of Congress. If all who are in authority live faithfully up to the ante-election pledges and promises it seems reasonable to suppose that the party will remain in power indefinitely. It hardly seems possible that blunders enough can be committed to induce the people to restore the Republican party to power. Too long and flagrantly it violated the principles of just government and subverted the interests of the few to the injury of the many.

The Democracy must avoid even the appearance of the wrongs committed by Republicanism or their days will soon be numbered and a new organization based on true Democratic principles of government—equal and exact justice to all, special favors and privileges to none—will rise up and overcome all existing machines and combinations.

Many persons are unable to sleep on their left side. The cause has long been a puzzle to physicians. Metropolitan papers speak with great interest of Dr. Franklin Miles, the eminent Indiana specialist in nervous and heart diseases, who has proven that this habit arises from a diseased heart. He has examined and kept on record thousands of cases. His New Heart Cure, a wonderful remedy is sold at Weaver's Drug Store, next to post-office. Thousands testify to its value as a cure for Heart Diseases. Mrs. Chas. Renoy, Loveland, Colo., says its effects on her were marvellous. Elegant Book on heart diseases. 4

SPRINGS.

In order to give our readers some idea about the number of springs and their location, we give below a partial list only, as space forbids us giving them all. We also give the analysis of the Basin Spring.

The Basin, the first spring discovered, and which derives its name from the basin shaped cavity in the rock from which the water was formerly dipped, but is now enclosed in masonry, and can be seen about ten feet below the present grade. It is located in the central part of the city, near the junction of Spring and Main streets. It is the most popular spring in the city. If you want to find a resident or visiting friend in the city, go in the evening to the Basin, you are sure to find him.The Sweet, on Spring street between Hilton and Webb streets and near the north end of foot bridge.The Harding is situated on Spring street, near Howell street south of German alley.The Crescent is on Spring street below the Crescent Hotel and opposite the Presbyterian Church.The Grotto is in the northern part of the city on the Boulevard north of J. W. Hill's cottage.The Cold is situated on North Main street, south of Magnetic street.The Little Eureka is situated in the southeast part of the city, on Steel street.The Maxwell is near the junction of Douglass and Eagle streets.The Dairy is situated at the point where Fuller street crosses the line of section 10 and where the Inter-state Summer Normal and Educational Assembly building is now erected.The Table Rock is situated on West Main street, near the junction of Armstrong street.The Ozark is at the junction of Ozark and Armstrong streets.The Oak, this romantic spot is one mile southwest. The spring runs out of a very rugged cliff of rocks. There is a nice cave just above the springs, which is very interesting to pleasure seekers.The Oak is situated in the eastern part of the city, on D. C. Bay's land south of Peck street.The Gadd is on north Main street at Gadd's residence.The Conway is located on Armstrong street near the junction of first street south of Main.The Magnetic, the second spring in the city, and which is so noted for its curative powers, is in the northern part of the city on Magnetic street east from Main street.The Lytle is located in the northeast part of the city in the Magnetic Hollow, quarter of a mile above the Magnetic spring.The Leavary is situated in the southeast part of the city on Steel street between Fern street and Berryville avenue.The Soldier is situated on East Mountain, at the old marble quarry, between East Mountain and Nut streets.The Alexan is situated on Nut street and Alexander avenue.The Ming is situated near Douglass street in Little Eureka Hollow above Cave spring.The Sauer is in the southeast part of the city in Little Eureka Hollow above Ming and Cave springs.The Cave is situated south of Maxwell spring on the west side of Douglass street.The Arsenic, with the arsenic left out, and is as pure as crystal, is southwest of the city beyond Woodruff's playing mill. If you will start in the morning early, go to the Arsenic spring, drink its water, climb the hill to Woodruff's playing mill, no matter about your dyspepsia, your stomach will tell you when it is dinner time.Analysis of the Basin spring, Eureka Springs, Ark.—The water of a number of these springs have been analyzed by analytical chemists of the highest reputation. This analysis was made by Prof. Potter & Riggs of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo. and by Messrs. Wright & Merrill, St. Louis, Mo. These gentlemen are chemists of eminence and ability. PUBLIC SCHOOL COLUMN.

Conducted by Supt. C. S. Barnett.

REFLECTIONS.

A city with a system of schools but practically without a course of study; poorly graded and housed wherever an old, unoccupied room could be found; in almost every department three times as many children as any man or woman could properly teach; no High School worthy of the name; a school library consisting of a dilapidated copy of Webster's Dictionary, 1847 edition; the flash paper and the dime novel holding sway over the minds of many of our brightest boys and girls; the great world's literature a closed book to the young people of the schools; comparatively no ambition among the pupils to be regular in attendance, or to stay until the work was completed; each teacher in the schools at the head of an independent school; as one of the teachers informed us, no meetings of the teachers for self-improvement; teachers of experience working by the side of young, inexperienced girls for the same salary; no feeling among the teachers that would lead to a better preparation for their work; the press of the city often at war, and perhaps justly, with the management of the schools; interest in the schools among the people in general like the water in many a river in the dry season of the year; many of our people patronizing the then three private schools of Eureka Springs, and Clarke's Academy at Berryville; the trains loaded about the first of September with people going home, as they said, where their children might have the advantages of good schools; no school building in the city that was the property of the district. All these colors were used in the painting of a picture that impressed us so forcibly in 1889, and drew forth the effort which produced the picture, though not overly bright, of 1893—the picture that will be given in this column next week.

To meet one who really appreciates conscientious, earnest, devoted service, one who not only appreciates, but lets you know it, is a pleasure that does not come every day to the lot of the teacher.

THE SCHOOL LIBRARY.

"I shall have finished reading Walter Scott's poetical works in a few days, and I'll send them over to you," are the words of Dr. C. F. Ellis in a conversation about our efforts to build up a school library in the schools of Eureka Springs. Do you realize, friends of the schools, what words like the above mean to one who has worked for four years, without aid from the School Board, to bring our young people into the company of those who can mould their lives for good?

Mrs. Clayton has promised us Cooper's works for the school library. Mrs. Clayton has shown her interest in the library before by the presentation of two or three years' numbers of the Century Magazine.

Mrs. Dr. James has recently presented a number of popular magazines. These magazines will be of value to the pupils for reference, and we are glad to add the name of Mrs. James to our list of friends who show their friendship by their works.

Mr. Moore, editor of the TIMES-ECHO, has given the school library $12 in advertising, thus enabling us to get for one year, Scribner's Monthly, Lippencott's Monthly and the Cosmopolitan. Mr. Moore is one of the best friends of the public schools in Eureka Springs.

GRADE NOTES.

The High School pupils are interested in a private report, which they make each day and hand in to the teacher at the close of the week.

The whole subject of punctuation has been reviewed recently by the class in rhetoric, High School, and special papers prepared for the World's Fair exhibit.

In the first grade, Miss Overstreet, teacher, Ella Overstreet is reported as having made forty combinations in making the number 10. This was a fifteen minute exercise in numbers.

In the lowest first, Miss Obenshain, teacher, Ella Congdon is reported as having done the neatest slate work this week.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer $100 for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. I would like to add my testimony to the almost miraculous effect of P P P in the case of Mary Ingraham, a woman living on my place; she had a constant cough, sore throat, debility, etc., and was emaciated to a degree that she was unable to get out of bed unaided, being given up by physicians; she had taken the ruinous so called blood medicines without the least effect, until being put under the P P P, she immediately began to improve and is now in as good health as ever in her life. You can refer to me at any time as to the effect of P P P in the foregoing case.

Yours truly,

A Mute Recovers Speech.

Alphoe Hoppling, of Summit, township, Butler county, Penn'a., made an affidavit that his twelve-year-old son, who had had St Vitus dance for twelve years, lost his speech, was completely cured after using three bottles of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and also recovered his speech. Thousands testify to wonderful cures from using it for nervous diseases, dyspepsia, nervous debility, dullness, confusion of mind, headache, etc. Four doses of this Nervine cured Mrs. W. E. Burns, South Bend, Ind., who had been suffering with constant headache for three months. Trial bottle and elegant book free at Weaver's drug store, next door to the Postoffice.

Election Proclamation.

Notice is hereby given that there will be an election held in the various wards of the city of Eureka Springs, Ark., on Tuesday, the 4th day of April, 1893, for the purpose of electing One Mayor, One Police Judge, One Treasurer, One Alderman from the First Ward, One Alderman from the Second Ward, and One Alderman from the Third Ward, and As Municipal Officers for the aforesaid city. Given under my hand this the 3rd day of March, 1893. W. H. D. BROWN, Mayor.

DRESS-MAKING.

I HAVE RECENTLY OPENED A DRESS-MAKING establishment in the Cook Block and am prepared to do first-class work on short notice.

MISS BESSIE COOK.

EUREKA SPRINGS, ARK.

THE HISTORY of this wonderful city and its remarkable Springs could not be otherwise than interesting to any and all persons who may read this article, whether or not they are afflicted with any of the numerous diseases these waters so readily cure. "The Fountain of Youth," "The Waters of Life," which many have sought in vain, truly have been found, flowing abundantly, and free to all, from the pine-clad mountains of Northwest Arkansas.

A few years ago, the site of this city, which now comprises 960 acres, was covered with a dense forest, principally pine and oak, and inhabited by deer, turkey, bear, panther and other natives of the forest. These have disappeared, and on mountain top and in valley, have been reared, as by magic, magnificent hotels, substantial business houses and handsome residences. This city is situated in the Ozark Mountains, on the head waters of White River, and is 1,800 feet above the level of the sea. The scenery is grand and the climate is delightful. The atmosphere is pure and invigorating and free from malaria.

The Basin Spring, the first discovered, and the most prominent among the springs of the city because of the greatest number of remarkable cures from using its water, is situated about the centre of the city. This spring was discovered in the year 1856, by Dr. Alva Jackson, a pioneer physician who lived a few miles away. While hunting in the mountains in company with his sons, one of whom had a severe attack of sore eyes, they discovered a cave above the spring, into which their dogs had run a panther. On removing the panther from the cave, the exertion bringing overheated to the boy, caused him to suffer greatly with his eyes, and he bathed them in the water that trickled from the cave down the mountain side. Bathing in this water cured young Jackson's eyes, and for years after his father used it bottled in his practice as eye-water. In May, 1879, Judge Saunders, an ex-member of the Arkansas Legislature, being almost helplessly afflicted with erysipelas, and believing this spring to be the one mentioned to him by the Indians and Spaniards as far back as 1838, by the advice of Dr. Jackson, resorted thither and camped with his family. In ten weeks he was entirely restored. In July following, the first log cabin was built. From this the fame of Eureka Springs, the greatest health resort in the world, has continued to spread, and thousands come each year, drink, bathe and go away cured or benefited.

The population of Eureka Springs is 5,000. It is a city of the first class, and has a full set of officers. The peace and order of the city is good, and none need feel any hesitation in coming here, as all are amply protected in person and property. The people are largely church-going, there being seven church houses in the city.

The citizens, knowing the purity and curative properties of the water, and the advantages to be gained by the healthy location, have resolved to make their city an educational centre, and the work is already begun. The Inter-State Summer Normal and Educational Assembly have erected a building with a seating capacity of 5,000, in which a Normal School is held each summer, and attended by teachers from all parts of the United States. The State District Normal for Northwest Arkansas, is permanently located here. It is in session five months in each year, and is held in the public school building, a handsome brick structure, creditable to any city. The public schools are under the supervision of an efficient Professor, a man of knowledge and noted for his ability as an educator. Projects are on foot to establish a college, which no doubt will be done at an early day. The city is lighted by gas, but the Electric Light & Street Railway Company, who are now pushing the street railway to remote parts of the city, will in a short time put in electric lights. A system of water works and sewerage has been planned and will be completed at the earliest possible period, part of the sewer pipes already having been laid. A company has purchased 1,700 acres of ground south of and adjoining the city, and are having it beautifully laid off with drives and walks preparatory to building a Sanitarium which will be constructed on the highest type of modern architecture, and managed by a corps of able physicians. The Crescent Hotel, one of the finest and most commodious hotels in the Southwest, a perfect structure of grandeur and beauty, is situated on Crescent Mountain. The Southern, another pleasantly arranged and commodious hotel, stands near the Basin Spring. There are many other pleasant and conveniently located hotels and boarding houses in different parts of the city, where good board can be had at low rates. The city is abundantly supplied from the surrounding country with the greatest variety of fresh vegetables, and the sweetest and best of fruits; the market is filled with a choice selection of various kinds of meats, and the numerous grocery establishments furnish any and all kinds of provision usually found in city groceries, so the tables of Eureka Springs can be cheaply and readily supplied with all the dainty and nourishing food that any appetite would require. Visitors can live cheaper here than at any health resort of the kind in the world, either at the hotels, or boarding houses, or by renting a cottage and keeping house.

The city is supplied with a number of dry goods, furniture, hardware, book and drug stores that furnish customers with all kinds of wares, each in their line, at the lowest prices. Two daily, and three weekly newspapers are published in the city, and are always well filled with news and items of interest that keep the people informed on the occurrences of the day. Two millinery establishments, managed by competent women, supply the best quality and latest styles in millinery. The Citizen's Bank is presided over by a polite and accommodating cashier, who is always ready to wait upon customers. Jewelry stores furnish prevailing styles of jewelry and silverware. Laundries, boot and shoe shops, blacksmith and wagon shops turn out the best of work. A flouring mill and a yeast factory produce flour and yeast that make light, snowy bread, which together with cakes, pies, etc., can be had fresh at different bakeries. The bath houses in the city are fitted up in first-class style, have male and female attendants, and accommodations for any and all kinds of baths. Busses, carriages and transportation wagons are ready at the Eureka Springs Railway depot, in the northern limit of the city, to convey passengers and baggage to any part of the city. In spite of the two saloons located in the city, quiet generally reigns in so much that drunken men or disturbances are seldom seen on the streets. The onyx factory occupies a large building near the depot, and will furnish home and foreign trade with jewelry, ornaments, etc., made from the onyx stone found in large quantities in the mountain caves. Building rock and marble of various colors, are found in abundance within and around the city. Small quantities of silver, lead, zinc, etc., have been found in and near the city, and miners from the West and other places say the indications are that large deposits are imbedded in these mountains.

The professional men of the city are ranked among the best of the country. Talented and well educated ministers fill the pulpits, physicians and surgeons of skill and long practice are ready to wait upon the sick, and lawyers of experience and ability officiate at the bar. Merchants are polite and obliging, and the citizens in general are kind and social, and it has been said that there is no place on the globe where strangers meet with such welcome, and are made to feel so completely at home as in Eureka Springs. The Basin, Harding, Sweet, Crescent, Grotto, Dairy, Magnetic, Mystic, Oil, Arsonic, Cave, Cold and Little Eureka are the names of a few of the springs. The whole number within the city limits being about sixty. The waters of these springs are used all the year round and cure or benefit almost every disease that flesh is heir to. Rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, cancer, hay fever, eczema, catarrh, kidney disease, dropsy, sore eyes, asthma, dyspepsia, female complaints, paralysis, hay fever, general debility, etc., are cured or materially benefited. Invalids, who are not able to go around, will find all the pleasant company they may desire, though coming here perfect strangers, they soon make acquaintances. Those who can walk will find others to ramble with and pass the time looking up the many natural and curious places in the vicinity. Every body carries a cup used for drinking, and a tin bucket, or a large glass bottle swung by a handle, to carry water to their homes. In the crowds that gather around the springs, only kindly faces are seen and pleasant words heard. The preliminary steps at meeting are the questions as to whence you came, when you arrived, how long you will stay, your malady and your name. To the lonely stranger, miles from home, sick and longing for sympathy, this is pleasant. Thousands of visitors come and go each year, and many who are cured settle here for life. The population is increasing, wealth, capital and enterprise are rapidly flowing in from all quarters, and the future outlook for Eureka Springs is certainly very promising.
