DEWEY'S REPORT OF THEM

Shows They Are More Civilized Than
the Cubans and Better Capable of Self Government.

Little Rock, Ark., January 27.—Albert R. Mabry, formerly of Little Rock, is now in the Philippines in Company E, 9th United States Infantry. Julius Mons, city collector, has received a most interesting letter from him dated, Tarlac, Luzon, December 8, 1899, and written on "letter heads" of Robert R. Stevens, captain and assistant quartermaster, United States army, who is also well known in Little Rock.

In discussing the treatment of the prisoners, he says:

"A great many of the insurgents are surrendering, but I think we have the worst part of the war to go through with yet. It is all over with any American they capture now, for it means death by torture. They captured four from this regiment last week. The remains of two of them we have found. One had his head cut off and parts of the body were on fire cooking. The other one was cut to pieces with a bolo and tied to a tree, as if they intended to burn or cook him. The other two we have heard nothing of. Only last Monday they murdered eight of the 33d Regiment at Dagupan, just north of here.

"You dare not let one of the Filipinos get near you if you are alone. You cannot go anywhere unless you are armed. It is getting fearful. We dare not go 300 yards from the camp unless there are seven or eight in the party. If I have been shot at once I will bet that I have been shot at a thousand times. The Filipinos are poor marksmen, but they hit once in a while. Whenever we go into a new town we find it deserted. After we have been there about three days the Filipinos begin to flock in, and soon there are three of them to one American. The officials will let them move into the Nippa huts next to the Americans, who are then bound to be on the lookout all the time."

Two men went to work one fine October day, one held a corner down in town and talked the hours away. He talked with sages like himself about the country's woes, and with a sort of pride he viewed his ragged clothes. He doubtless thought that work would come and Miss Susan B. Anthony.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Miss Susan B. Anthony has arrived in Washington to make preparation for the annual convention of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association which opens there next week.

It will be associated with two interesting incidents in the life of Miss Anthony—the anniversary of her 81st birthday, and her resignation as president. The first will be made a great festival by friends of the veteran suffrage leader. The second will cause universal regret—even though it is Miss Anthony herself who desires to lay down the gavel. It is no question of failing vigor, mental or physical, for "she never looked better in her life." Active in step, alert and ready of speech, retaining the forceful characteristics of her strong individuality, she would pass for a woman of 60 any day. There is no sign of the 50 years hard, steady work full of doubt, discouragement and disappointment.

Miss Anthony says she has other work to do before passing "beyond the river," and, therefore, desires herself to place the gavel in younger hands, and encourage the younger element to lead in suffrage work. She doesn't specify the other work, but it is understood that it includes a complete history of suffrage from the beginning in 1848 to 1900.

Some Consolation.

It was Allen, in commenting on the change in political faith of Patterson, of Tennessee, said:

"We can preach over his political corpse the same sermon that my old colored friend Uncle Ephraim Betts, preached over the corpse of Whistling Bill, another darkey, who was found dead near the railroad track in the neighborhood where I was raised. Uncle Ephraim said, 'My breddren and sisters, we has met here today to pay our last sad respects to our departed brudder. Some sez he wuz a good man; some sez he wuz a bad man. Whar he's done gone we can't tell, but in our grief we has one great consolation, and dat is—we know he's dead.'"

The Orange Judd Farmer.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—The Orange Judd Farmer, in its annual farm stock report says: "As compared with a year ago there is an increase in the number of every class of farm animals in the United States except mules, and coincident with this increase in numbers is a very substantial advance in the average price per head of all animals. The returns show that not only has the lawful shrinkage in this form of wealth between 1892 and 1896 been recovered, but the aggregate valuation of all farm stock now passes any previous record.

ROCKY.

The Administration's Path
Getting Rockier.

THE THREAT OF TREASON.

It Will Not Deter Pettigrew from Disclosing Facts About Imperialism
as He Finds Them.

From Our Special Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 2.—The Administration program is receiving some severe jolts in Congress, and its path is getting rockier every day. This week several Republican Senators went to see Mr. McKinley and requested him to withdraw the reciprocity treaties now before the Senate, in order to save them from formal rejection, which would not only humiliate Mr. McKinley but would advertise the difference of opinion between him and members of his party in Congress. He has also been told that the only chance the free trade section of the Porto Rico bill can become a law is by the help of Democratic votes, many Democrats having expressed themselves in favor of it on general principles, although it is not likely that any concerted action in its favor will be taken by the Democrats. The Republicans of the House Ways and Means Committee have reported a substitute for the Administration bill for free trade with Porto Rico, which provides for a duty of 25 per cent of the present tariff on Porto Rican products. These things show that the much talked about Republican harmony is a fake.

"The threat of treason will not deter us from disclosing the facts as they may come into our possession," was the deft throw in the imperialists by Senator Pettigrew after he had been ruled out of order when trying to read quotations from a published statement made by Aguinaldo as to his relations with Admiral Dewey and General Dwyer.

Hawley. Senator Lodge read a letter from Admiral Dewey denying what Aguinaldo had said. This denial of the Admiral said of Aguinaldo: "I never treated him as an ally, except to make use of him and the soldiers to assist me in my operations against the Spaniards." That "except" is an important word. In making use of Aguinaldo and his soldiers did not Admiral Dewey make an ally of him in spirit, even if there was no actual agreement to that effect?

Senator Bacon's speech against the imperialistic policy of the Administration in the Philippines was full of conservative but unanswerable facts against imperial gress, which means that every 'approachable' Senator and Congressman has, by some sort of a promise or bribe been 'reasoned' with and made to see the benefit of subsidies." There was a regular circus of a time at this week's meeting of the House Committee on Merchant Marine, which has charge of the subsidy bill, when Representative Grosvenor, of Ohio, chairman of the committee, read that letter.

Kentucky Democrats in Congress are very indignant at the action of Gov. Taylor in adjourning the Legislature and ordering it to meet at London February 6th, and declaring martial law in Frankfort, and are horrified at the assassination of Goebel. They regard this act of Taylor as part of the political game that he is playing. Senator-elect Blackburn came very near to voicing the sentiment of every Kentucky Democrat in Congress when he said of the whole business: "The reorganization of the militia of the State by Bradley, during the latter part of his administration, placing the military affairs of the State upon substantially a Republican partisan basis; the importation of armed ruffians from the mountains into Frankfort within the last few days; their indefensible conduct there, coupled with threats of resorts to violence, all pointed to the present situation."

We should like to ask every Representative in Congress to support the bill introduced by Hon. John Wesley Gaines. The bill seeks to place white paper, such as is used in printing newspapers, on the free list. Newspapers are public benefactors. They go to almost every home and are the most potent factors in our national advancement. The price of white paper has gone up and up till the trust is riding on the neck of every editor in the land. Down from your lofty perch! The bill is in the interest of the masses, quite as much as the newspapers.—Arkansas Baptist.

A man in Newton county resorted to the meanest trick on record last spring. He went out with a spade and a hoe, and after searching around for a while he went to the house to wash the dirt off a dime and a quarter. He had struck it rich, he said. Back to the garden he went, whistling "Sweet Marie." Directly he came in again, this time showing another quarter and remarked that he could afford to take a nap; he had made enough for one day anyhow. When he awoke his wife had the whole plot dug up, but she hadn't found a cent. She doesn't know yet that the mine was salted.—Mountain Wave.

BERRYVILLE.

F. B. Freeman, of Eureka Springs, visited his folks in Berryville yesterday.

General prospecting continues unabated. Not only our home people are delving among the rocks, but parties from abroad are looking over the ground and locating claims. Not nearly so many prospectors from a distance pass us by as of a former day.

Rev. Z. T. Eaton, the new pastor of the Baptist church in this place, preached here Sunday at 11 and at night. He will reside in Eureka Springs for a time, at least, but will spend a week of each month in Berryville, including the third and fourth Sundays.

Mr. Graves, the jeweler, who was severely hurt last week by a run-away team, hitched up the same horses last Friday and attempted to drive them but they again took the bits in their teeth and ran away, completely demolishing the vehicle. Mr. Graves, however, had the good fortune to escape uninjured.

The Diamond Jack Mines, located seven miles northwest of Berryville, owned by W. B. Wright and Lewis Bros., of Berryville, is said by experts to be the richest find yet made in the county. There can be zinc picked out of the branch for a distance of 50 yds. or more. Development work will start in dead earnest in a few days.

The Anti-Billingsgate Society, took in three new members last night, which brings the total membership to 10. The society assesses fines against its members for every improper word spoken, vulgar or profane, and the proceeds are donated to charity. The regular fine for each improper word is 10 cents for church members, 5 cents for non members.

A curious find was made at the Keel's creek zinc mines recently. The diggers unearthed the skeleton of a horse which was found to be petrified and a closer examination revealed the fact that the bones in petrifying had become to a considerable extent carbonated from absorption of the mineral surrounding it. The jawbone which shows considerable pure carbonate of zinc was brought to town and is now on

He had, some three or four months ago, given his note to a certain sewing machine company for a $65 sewing machine, which was then and there explained to him to provide that he should have certain credits upon the note and that he was to have three or four years in which to pay off the remainder. A few days ago he had learned from some of his duped neighbors that the company's collector was making his rounds, demanding full and complete settlements at once. This put Uncle Billy on his guard, so he gathered up a nice armful of dry brush and laid it by the fire-side awaiting the arrival of the aforesaid collector. In a day or so the collector put in his appearance and at the same time Uncle Billy put the dry brush on the fire and called for his note. The collector fished it from his large book, handed it to him, little suspecting the drama that was then and there to be enacted. Uncle Billy quickly tore his signature from the note and dashed it into the flaming fire and handed the dilapidated remainder to the dumbfounded collector, who made a desperate effort to recover the signature from the funeral pyre, but without success, but not without scorching his lily white hands. Although the collector become irate and said something about stealing, sheriff, and penitentiary, it is needless to say he was willing to settle with Uncle Billy according to the original contract.

Miss Virdie Phillips, daughter of W. R. Phillips, and Thomas White, residing northeast of town, were married Monday.

It is not claimed that Foley's Honey and Tar will cure Consumption or Asthma in advanced stages; it holds out no such false hopes, but does truthfully claim to always give comfort and relief in the very worst cases, and in the early stages effect a cure.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., March 28, '98.

MESSRS. FOLEY & CO.,
Gentlemen—As a result of continued exposure I contracted a terrible cold which grew worse rapidly until my physician said I had all the symptoms of hasty consumption. All the physicians' remedies were valueless, as were several proprietary preparations, until a friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar, and while I had lost faith in patent preparations, yet I took her advice and began taking it. In a few days I began to improve, at first rather slowly, but before the first bottle was gone I was much relieved. The second bottle completely effected a cure for which I am truly grateful, and take pleasure in recommending it as the best thing for coughs, colds or lung trouble that I have ever known.

Two men went to work one fine October day, one held a corner down in town and talked the hours away. He talked with sages like himself about the country's woes, and with a sort of pride he viewed his ragged clothes. He doubtless thought that work would come and beg on bended knees, that he would go and take a job of herding bumble bees. For days and weeks he stood around and talked of woes and wrong, and squinted round to look for work which did not come along. When winter blizzards came along and froze the beard of man, he had no wood pile in the shed, no coal oil in the can; he'd no tobacco in the box, or money in the bank; the country had to give him stuff enough to fill his aching tank. The other man who hunted work, went hunting with a will; he said "I'll jump at any job, and try to fill the bill; I'll quarry rock or chop down trees, like other toiling gents; if I can't make a week's work for 50 cents," when winter comes at ease before his blazing hearth; he owned a pleasant home although he didn't own the earth.—Ex.

The Little Rock correspondent of the Memphis Commercial Appeal, has the following: "The coming Arkansas Democratic State Convention will be the most interesting since 1888, when Gov. J. P. Eagle was nominated. The candidates before that convention were Gov. Hughes for a third term, Col. John Fletcher, James Eagle and Col. E. W. Rector. After a prolonged deadlock Pulaski's delegation withdrew Fletcher and went to Eagle. The 23 votes nominated him. From present indications the June convention will be called upon to settle the contests for several State offices. It is generally conceded that neither of the candidates for Governor, Auditor, Secretary of State and Attorney-General will receive sufficient instructions to nominate on the first ballot. This means a convention fight, and a long and stubborn one at that, as each candidate will have a strong following."

The returns show that not only has the lawful shrinkage in this form of wealth between 1892 and 1896 been recovered, but the aggregate valuation of all farm stock now passes any previous record."

"The low point in the valuation of farm animals was in January, 1896, when, after four years of shrinkage, the aggregate had fallen to $1,860,420,000."

"This year the total valuation is reported $2,558,111,000, an advance from the depths of the depression of $697,691,000, or 37 per cent. The advance in value during the past year was the largest in any 12 months since the tide turned upward, amounting to $343,958,000. The number of horses are reported at 14,886,000, an increase of one-half of one per cent during the past year; mules at 2,240,000, an increase of 2.1 per cent; cows at 19,308,000, an increase of 2.1 per cent; other cattle at 32,075,000 an increase of 1.3 per cent; sheep at 42,820,000, and hogs at 49,242,000, an increase of 6 per cent. The advance in average price per head from the low point reached at the depths of the depression amounts to 36 per cent for horses, 23 for mules, 50 for cows, 76 for other cattle, 86 for sheep and 21 for hogs. In the upward swing only cattle and sheep have passed the previous best prices per head."

This is the way the Malden (Mo.) News talks to its patrons: "All persons knowing themselves indebted to this office, are requested to call and settle. All those indebted to this office not knowing it, are requested to call and find out. All those knowing themselves indebted and not wishing to call, are requested to stay in one place long enough for us to catch them. Senator Bacon's speech against the imperialistic policy of the Administration in the Philippines was full of conservative but unanswerable arguments against imperialism, which he declared meant a standing army of 400,000 men and an annual expense of $100,000,000. He told the imperialists that "the thirst for empire is like the desire for human blood." The following extract gives a good idea of the general tenor of the speech: "The conditions which now exist, and which will undoubtedly exist hereafter if we permanently retain the Philippines, makes it impossible that they can ever become a State; and to hold them as a subject colony makes necessary a revolution in our system of Government which should not be aided by anyone who is loyal to the principles upon which that system is founded. It is a revolution which, while it denies liberty to others, endangers the liberty of our own people."

In answer to questions from Senator Spooner as to what this Congress could do, Mr. Bacon said it could make the same declaration regarding the Philippines that the last Congress did with reference to Cuba. Senator Bacon was followed by Senator Teller, who was the author of the Cuban resolution adopted by the last Congress, and he took occasion to express his most sincere regret that he had not included in that revolution the people of all the Spanish possessions acquired by the United States as well as the Cubans. This was help from an unexpected quarter, as Mr. Teller had been counted as a supporter, albeit a lukewarm one, of the retention of the Philippines.

The New York Reform Club, of which Hon. John De Witt Warner is president, has stirred up the advocates of the ship-subsidy job by circulating a letter against it containing this sentence: "Lobbyists in the employ of the prospective beneficiaries of the bounty have already carefully 'canvassed' Con-

A man who does not take his home paper, but occasionally answers advertisements in "Story papers" has had some interesting experiences lately. He learned that by sending one dollar to a Yankee, he could get a cure for drunkenness. Sure enough he did. It was to "take a pledge and keep it." Later on he sent 50 2-cent stamps to find out how to raise turnips successfully. He found out—"Just take hold of the tops and pull." Being young he wished to marry and sent 34 1-cent stamps to a Chicago man to learn how to make an impression. When the answer came it read: "Sit down on a pan of dough." That was rough on a patient man, but he thought he would yet succeed. The next advertisement he answered read: "How to double your money in six months." He was told to convert his money into bills, fold them and he would see his money doubled. The next time, he sent for 12 household articles and got a package of needles. He was slow to learn, so he sent a dollar to find out "how to get rich." He was told to "work like the d—l and never spend a cent." That stopped him, but his brother wrote to find out "how to write a letter without pen or ink." He was instructed to use a lead pencil. He sent $5 to learn how to live without work, and was told to catch suckers like we do.—Ex.

GREEN FOREST.

From the Tribune, February 1, 1900.

The O. O. F. banquet and entertainment Saturday night was quite a gorgeous affair. The hall was checked full of both guests and something to eat. A number of prominent three-link gentlemen were present from Eureka Springs and other points. Interesting addresses were made by Dr. R. G. Floyd and Z. P. Freeman of Eureka Springs, a Mr. Lane of Illinois, F. O. Butt and A. J. Russell of Green Forest.

Mr. Holloway, who has been making discoveries of mineral on his farm, south of town, has found a fine lead of zinc, and unless all indications fail, he has struck it very rich. Last week he took out some large rocks weighing from 50 to 100 pounds each that will assay at least 30 per cent. A St. Louis man, who is in the county looking for mineral investments visited Mr. Holloway's shine Thursday and offered a fancy sum for a half interest in the land on which it is located. Specimens taken out are now on exhibition in front of Blasingame's real estate office, and it doesn't take an expert to see that they contain mineral. It is probable that some deal will be effected soon that will result in shafts being sunk two or three hundred feet, which will show the thing up. The discovery adds materially to the belief that had been held for some time that this section contains abundant mineral.

The constitutional power of Congress to authorize plurality election of Senators is clear. Only the question of expediency need be considered. That old theory that Boer superiority is due to the presence of German and French officers continues to be exploited in England, despite the fact that Great Britain's colonials have outdone her regulars in coping with the enemy. This fiction about the superiority of professional soldiers is remarkably persistent in countries which maintain large military establishments.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Of course, Secretary Gage can't be held blameable for the simple act of having received an epistle calling his attention to the fact that a certain bank was possessed of directors who very liberally contributed to the Republican campaign fund in 1896, and the bank would prefer not to be forgotten in the distribution of any favors that the Government had to bestow in the way of selecting depositories for Government gold. Oh, no. The ugly feature of the transaction is in the significant after consequence, represented in the peculiar circumstance that the bank submitting this little reminder was more favored by the secretary than was any other bank chosen among the list of Government depositories.—Houston Post.

Does it Pay to Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the most severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. Sample bottles at Porch & Crook's drug store.

THE election of United States Senators by a direct vote of the people will suit all the people.

John W. Pulliam's announcement for City Clerk was received too late for this issue, but will appear next week.

We understand that C. G. White is a candidate for County and Probate Judge. If he is elected, he will make an excellent official.

THERE must have been no more than standing room in the Philippines when the war began over there—that is, if as many natives have been killed as the official reports from there state. There are still enough of them left to keep a big lot of our troops at work killing 50 to 100 almost every day.

"MORE dead Filipinos continue to show up;" "The war in the Philippines can't last much longer, according to recent reports;" "the end is drawing nigh," and kindred phraseology has appeared in Administration papers for that past year, at least, but the end is not yet in sight. Where one is killed another takes his place.

THE State Republican says the "expansion question is one of deep moment, and investigation makes converts of those who have taken the other side." We have always thought that Democrats and Republicans who believed in expansion "took it up" without ever a moment's consideration, and we can willingly forgive a man of this kind. A man, though, who, after giving the question due study, then takes it up, we cannot—
Well, we just cannot. It is too unamerican; too unjust; too contrary to every principle of our own glorious system of government; too much like monarchies treat other nations! We cannot, for the life of us, see how a man can be an expansionist or imperialist and yet believe in our form of government.
There is not a line in it that gives us warrant to govern the Philippines, unless the inhabitants agree to it.

We have seen a good many laughable things in newspapers in the way of errors, but one crept
into the columns of the Fort Smith Elevator last week that chips the corner off of any we have seen in the 365 days. The error was in giving a title to a man who will some State considerably north of Arkansas or until this State acts adjoining and "goes" Republican himself. Here is the error, which occurred in the first sentence of a "stickful" editorial: "We believe that Senator Jones could well afford to commute the sentence of old man Lane from that of death, to life imprisonment." It is Gov.
Jones—Dan W.—we inform the Elevator—the man who pardons criminals without provocation and talks imperialism in the hope that it will put "Senator" just preceding his name as it has inadvertently done. Senator Jones is our J. K.—a mighty fine man who does not believe in such vote catching schemes.

Not only has the patronage accorded the paper been gratifying,
but our job department has had a fair division of work from the first,
and for the past six or eight months
it has literally been crowded with everything from a visiting card to a 5,000 edition of a 24-page pamphlet. This, too, comes without solicitation on our part.

We are devoutly thankful to the public in general, and ask no better treatment at its hands than that according to us in the past.

Our Announcements.

"Father, who is that at the gate?"
"Hush, my child, it is the candidate!"

CIRCUIT CLERK.

We, this week, announce Eldon
M. Bare as a candidate for Circuit
Clerk and Recorder of Carroll county, subject to the will of the Democratic party. Mr. Bare has been both deputy Circuit Clerk and County Clerk for the past two years and has given universal satisfaction in both offices. He is neat, accurate and thorough, and has been accommodating to one who have had business transactions with him. He is an honest, honorable and upright citizen and a good and true Democrat. If elected to the office which he seeks the people will never have cause to regret honoring him with it. He has a host of friends who think there is no doubt about his election.

Our announcement column contains the name of Joe S. Fancher, who asks the Democrats of the county to nominate him as their candidate for Circuit Clerk and Recorder. Mr. Fancher is a young man of splendid business qualifications which fit him for the duties of the office. He is sober, steady, industrious, affable and accommodating. If elected, he will make us a good officer and one that will give satisfaction to all concerned. This is the first time he has ever asked for the people's vote for anything.

COUNTY CLERK.

J. O. Collier announces himself as a candidate for County and Probate Clerk, subject to the will of the county Democracy, as expressed at the primary to be held April 21st next. Mr. Collier was defeated for this office last year, but it was by one of the best and most popular men in the county—N. C.
Charles—and he only had a majority of 19 votes. This is evidence that Mr. Collier is a very popular man, and while he has no opponent, so far, yet it shows that if one should hereafter announce, the one so announcing will have a hard man to beat. Mr. Collier is in every way fitted for performing the duties of this office, and we feel strictly safe in saying that, should he be the choice of the Democrats for County Clerk, they will never have cause to regret it.

REPRESENTATIVE.

Hon. F. O. Butt announces himself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Representative.
Two years ago, in the General Assembly and was a hard worker
while the Legislature was in session. If elected, he will be a candidate for the Speakership of the House next term. He has a great many friends in the county, who are well satisfied with his work and who think he is the best Representative we have had in a number of years. He submits his claims to the Democrats in the primary,
April 21st next.

COUNTY TREASURER.

The office of county treasurer is an important one, and should be occupied by a man of business sagacity and ability. A candidate with such qualities announces himself in this issue of the Flashlight
in the person of Will E. George.

Meeting of the Democratic Central Committee.

The Democratic County Central Committee met at Berryville last Saturday and was called to order
by the chairman.

It was moved that a legalized primary be held under the laws of the State governing elections. Motion carried.

It was moved and carried that at the primary the people should announce their choice for Senator.

It was moved and carried that the date of the primary be set for 21st of April.

It was moved and carried that at the primary the question of consolidated elections be submitted to the people.

It was moved and carried that the county convention be held at Berryville on April 28th, for the purpose of canvassing the primary returns and electing members of the central committee.

It was moved and carried that the basis of representation for delegates be 1 for every 50 voters and 1 for every fraction over 15, and that every township be allowed 1 delegate, no matter how small the vote cast. Vote based on vote for Governor in 1896.

It was moved and carried that each voting precinct hold a mass-meeting at 1 o'clock on the day of the primary, to select delegates to the county convention.

It was moved and carried that the candidates be assessed as follows:

cretary and chairman make necessary arrangements for printing at the smallest possible cost.

legal voter who will agree to affiliate with the Democratic party be invited to participate in the primary.

Moved that secretary, treasurer and chairman make a report at the expiration of their term of office.

Moved that if the Congressional committee desires the names of candidates for Congress be placed on the ticket at a fee of $1.00.

The Fruits of Assassination.

Gov. Taylor, of Kentucky, by deliberately appropriating the fruits of assassination, is rendering himself more odious to the American people than was the man who was shot down while wrongfully making use of lawful means to secure possession of an office to which he was not entitled. In declaring a state of insurrection to exist, when the facts did not warrant such a declaration, and in adjourning the Legislature to meet February 6th, at London, Laurel county, which is in a community of Taylor's mountaineer sympathizers, the Governor has shown a willingness to take full advantage of a situation created by a cowardly assassin.

Had the Legislature of Kentucky convened yesterday, undoubtedly it would have unseated Gov. Taylor and the Republican Lieutenant-Governor, and would have given

An Open Letter.

To the Voters of Carroll County:

Two years ago, you honored me
by a re-election to the office of Representative of Carroll county.
My gratitude and appreciation for that mark of your confidence, I tried to show by a faithful and pains-taking discharge of my duty, as I understood it. I am before you now, asking a third election to this honorable position, and in doing so, I can only say, as I have done before, that I believe my experience and acquaintance with public men and affairs will more fully enable me to do you efficient service than before. Added to this is an ambition of a personal nature; an ambition, if elected, to serve as Speaker of the next House of Representatives. I do not urge this as a reason for asking your support, nor can any thoughtful citizen vote for me for that reason alone. I submit my candidacy to you solely upon the question of fitness; whether or not my acquaintance with the needs of my people at home, and of those of other parts of the State, is such as will enable me to serve your best interests in the capacity of Representative. I do not expect to be able to serve you without making mistakes; the record I have already made is not without them, but such as they are, they were of the head and not the heart. I tried to do my duty as faithfully as I knew how, and to make you an officer
such that other portions of the State would respect the county from which I came. Whether or not I have done this, you alone can judge.
I have tried to redeem every promise ever made you and to make a record of which no citizen of my county need be ashamed.

In the period between now and the primaries, I hope to see most of you in person, and to discuss my position upon public matters with you, as only by meeting and talking with you can I become fully acquainted with your views upon those questions that are before the State for solution. To the people of Carroll county, who have twice honored me with their representation, I feel more grateful than I can express, and assuring you that if once again honored by your confidence that I shall do my utmost to merit it, and to be true to the trust confided to me, I am,
Yours for Carroll County,
F. O. BUTT.

Eureka Springs in the Philippines.

Mrs. J. W. True is happy over the receipt of the following two letters from Manila, Dec. 29th, 1899,
the latter one having been received Sunday last:

Manila, Dec. 29th, 1899.
Mrs. J. W. True,
Eureka Springs, Ark.

DEAR MADAM:—I have just arrived in Manila from back in the mountains,
where I left your son in command of a small garrison at Ayrikey. I promised him that I would write you and send best wishes for a merry Christmas and a happy New Year, in which I join him. He is in excellent health and spirits, and the article headed "Above the Clouds," in paper mailed you today, shows what he is doing for his country. As his company commander and as his friend, I cannot say enough in his praise.

Yours, Sincerely,
DEAN TOMPKINS,
Lieut. 33rd Inf.

Vigan, Philippine Island, Jan. 2, '99.
Mrs. J. W. True,
Eureka Springs, Ark.

MY DEAR MRS. TRUE:—I left your son well and happy at Talukin, Dec. 25th, hot on the trail of Aguinaldo. Your son had no facilities for writing, and asked me to write you on my return to the coast, telling you of his good health and whereabouts. I was returned by order of the major, in charge of Aguinaldo's wife and family. I return in a day or so and rejoin the major, if possible. You have no occasion to worry about your son, whatever.

Very Respectfully,
W. J. MCKENNEY,
2nd Lieut. 33d Inf.

The article referred to gives a most interesting account of a chase
after Aguinaldo, and tells how March's battalion flanked an "impregnable" position, from which we make the following extract:
"March then directed Tompkins'
company to execute a flank movement by climbing up the side of a hill a thousand feet high, on the insurgents' left. Tompkins with Lieutenant True and 50 men made the ascent of the hill by dragging themselves up by the aid of bushes
and bunches of grass, and reached the rocks above, where they found several insurgents who fired upon them, but were soon put to flight.
Tompkins then took position overlooking the entire rebel force and took them by surprise, as they evidently never supposed that a force could climb the almost vertical side of the hill and flank them out of their position. The men on the hill and the sharpshooters on the knoll poured in a murderous fire.
At the same time March with the three companies below, charged up the hill, shouting and yelling. The insurgents broke and fled from behind rocks, trenches, and every other position, up the trail and into the thick underbrush, and the fight was over. Their force was not large, probably not over 200,
but only 25 passed in retreat over the trail through Augaqui to Cervantes. The remainder were killed, wounded or escaped into the brush. Part of the battle was fought in the clouds, as a heavy mist settled over the mountains, concealing the trail. Two American dead were buried where they fell, and the remainder of the column moved on in search of the hiding place of the Filipino refugee president."

CLIFTY.

From "Scribbler," February 5, 1900
The health of the people of this neighborhood is better than when I last wrote, improving.

Clifty is on another big boom. This time it is a telephone line, to run from Eureka Springs to Hindsville, a distance of 25 miles. On last Saturday the citizens of this township met in a called meeting, to get in shape for business in this matter. They organized by appointing Ewell Pearce, chairman; G. W. Evans, secretary, and P. M. Vaughan, G. H. Oliver and David Phillips, committeemen.
P. M. Vaughan was on the road bright and early this morning for Eureka Springs, to confer with the company in regard to this line. He says they are to meet at Clifty on each Saturday at 2 p.
m., until the whole thing is completed.
He says after the line is up the first message sent will be from him to the President of the United States, and he is going to ask to be appointed one of a committee to look out a route and run a big railroad through Clifty. Then he is to be president of the road. Whoop'er up, boys!

feared. We dare not go 300 yards from the camp unless there are seven or eight in the party. If I have been shot at once I will bet that I have been shot at a thousand times. The Filipinos are poor marksmen, but they hit once in a while.

In a new town we find it deserted. After we have been there about three days the Filipinos begin to flock in, and soon there are three of them to one American. The officials will let them move into the Nippa butts next to the Americans, who are then bound to be on the lookout all the time."

Two men went to work one fine October day, one held a corner down in town and talked the hours away. He talked with sages like himself about the country's woes, and with a sort of pride he viewed his ragged clothes. He doubtless thought that work would come and beg on bended knees, that he would go and take a job of herding bumble bees. For days and weeks he stood around and talked of woes and wrong, and squinted round to look for work which did not come along. When winter blizzards came along and froze the beard of man, he had no wood pile in the shed, no coal oil in the can; he'd no tobacco in the box, or money in the bank; the country had to give him stuff enough to fill his aching tank. The other man who hunted work, went hunting with a will; he said "I'll jump at any job, and try to fill the bill; I'll quarry rock or chop down trees, like other toiling gents; if I can't make a v a day I'll work for 50 cents." When winter came and at ease before his blazing hearth; he owned a pleasant home although he didn't own the earth.—Ex.

The Little Rock correspondent of the Memphis Commercial Appeal, has the following: "The coming Arkansas Democratic State Convention will be the most interesting since 1888, when Gov. J. P. Eagle was nominated. The candidates before that convention were Gov. Hughes for a third term, Col. John Fletcher, James Eagle and Col. E. W. Reitor. After a prolonged deadlock Pulaski's delegation withdrew Fletcher and went to Eagle. The 25 votes nominated him. From present indications the June convention will be called upon to settle the contests for several State offices. It is generally conceded that neither of the candidates for Governor, Auditor, Secretary of State and Attorney-General will receive sufficient instructions to nominate on the first ballot. This means a convention fight, and a long and stubborn one at that, as each candidate will have a strong following."

The Orange Judd Farmer.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—The Orange Judd Farmer, in its annual farm stock report says: "As compared with a year ago there is an increase in the number of every class of farm animals in the United States except mules, and coincident with this increase in numbers is a very substantial advance in the average price per head of all animals. The returns show that not only has the lawful shrinkage in this form of wealth between 1892 and 1896 been recovered, but the aggregate valuation of all farm stock now passes any previous record.

"The low point in the valuation of farm animals was in January, 1896, when, after four years of shrinkage, the aggregate had fallen to $1,860,420,000.

"This year the total valuation is reported $2,558,111,000, an advance from the depths of the depression of $697,691,000, or 37 per cent. The advance in value during the past year was the largest in any 12 months since the tide turned upward, amounting to $343,958,000. The number of horses are reported at 14,886,000, an increase of one-half of one per cent during the past year; mules at 2,240,000, an increase of 2.1 per cent; cows at 19,308,000, an increase of 2.1 per cent; other cattle at 32,075,000 an increase of 1.3 per cent; sheep at 42,820,000, and hogs at 49,242,000, an increase of 6 per cent. The advance in average price per head from the low point reached at the depths of the depression amounts to 36 per cent for horses, 23 for mules, 50 for cows, 76 for other cattle, 86 for sheep and 21 for hogs. In the upward swing only cattle and sheep have passed the previous best prices per head."

A man in Newton county resorted to the meanest trick in the garden last spring. He went out with a spade and a hoe, and after searching around for a while he went to the house to wash the dirt off a dime and a quarter. He had struck it rich, he said. Back to the garden he went, whistling "Sweet Marie." Directly he came in again, this time showing another quarter and remarked that he could afford to take a nap; he had made enough for one day anyhow. When he awoke his wife had the whole plot dug up, but she hadn't found a cent. She doesn't know yet that the mine was salted.—Mountain Wave.

A man who does not take his home paper, but occasionally answers advertisements in "Story papers" has had some interesting experiences lately. He learned that by sending one dollar to a Yankee, he could get a cure for drunkenness. Sure enough he did. It was to "take a pledge and keep it." Later on he sent 50 2-cent stamps to find out how to raise turnips successfully. He found out—"Just take hold of the tops and pull." Being young he wished to marry and sent 34 1-cent stamps to a Chicago man to learn how to make an impression. When the answer came it read: "Sit down on a pan of dough." That was rough on a patient man, but he thought he would yet succeed. The next advertisement he answered read: "How to double your money in six months." He was told to convert his money into bills, told them and he would see his money doubled. The next time, he sent for 12 household articles and got a package of needles. He was slow to learn, so he sent a dollar to find out "how to get rich." He was told to "work like the d—l and never spend a cent." That stopped him, but his brother wrote to find out "how to write a letter without pen or ink." He was instructed to use a lead pencil. He sent $5 to learn how to live without work, and was told to catch suckers like we do.—Ex.

A curious find was made at the Keel's creek zinc mines recently. The diggers unearthed the skeleton of a horse which was found to be petrified and a closer examination revealed the fact that the bones in petrifying had become to a considerable extent carbonated from absorption of the mineral surrounding it. The jawbone which shows considerable pure carbonate of zinc was brought to town and is now on exhibition at A. B. Bobo's hardware store. We venture the assertion that nothing like it has ever been seen before.

GREEN FOREST.

From the Tribune, February 1, 1900.

The O. O. F. banquet and entertainment Saturday night was quite a gorgeous affair. The hall was clotted full of both guests and something to eat. A number of prominent three-link gentlemen were present from Eureka Springs and other points. Interesting addresses were made by Dr. R. G. Floyd and Z. P. Freeman of Eureka Springs, a Mr. Lane of Illinois, F. O. Butt and A. J. Russell of Green Forest.

Holloway, who has been making discoveries of mineral on his farm, south of town, has found a fine lead of zinc, and unless all indications fail, he has struck it very rich. Last week he took out some large rocks weighing from 50 to 100 pounds each that will assay at least 30 per cent. A St. Louis man, who is in the county looking for mineral investments visited Mr. Holloway's shine Thursday and offered a fancy sum for a half interest in the land on which it is located. Specimens taken out are now on exhibition in front of Blasingame's real estate office, and it doesn't take an expert to see that they contain mineral. It is probable that some deal will be effected soon that will result in shafts being sunk two or three hundred feet, which will show the thing up. The discovery adds materially to the belief that had been held for some time that this section contains abundant mineral.

The constitutional power of Congress to authorize plurality election of Senators is clear. Only the question of expediency need be considered. A Senate in which four vacant seats testify to four failures of Legislatures to discharge the imperative duty of filling vacancies would seem to be forcibly admonished of the necessity for some action that would prevent the recurrence of such a condition.—Washington Post.

That old theory that Boer superiority is due to the presence of German and French officers continues to be exploited in England, despite the fact that Great Britain's colonials have outdone her regulars in coping with the enemy. Of course, Secretary Gage can't be held blameable for the simple act of having received an epistle calling his attention to the fact that a certain bank was possessed of directors who very liberally contributed to the Republican campaign fund in 1896, and the bank would prefer not to be forgotten in the distribution of any favors that the Government had to bestow in the way of selecting depositories for Government gold. Oh, no. The ugly feature of the transaction is in the significant after consequence, represented in the peculiar circumstance that the bank submitting this little reminder was more favored by the secretary than was any other bank chosen among the list of Government depositories.—Houston Post.

Representative to the Legislature for Carroll county, subject to the primary of the Democratic party.

FOR CIRCUIT CLERK AND RECORDER.

ELDON M. BARE
as a candidate for the office of Circuit Clerk and Recorder of Carroll county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The Flashlight is authorized to announce

Recorder, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR COUNTY AND PROBATE CLERK.

The Flashlight is authorized to announce

The Flashlight is authorized to announce

Three Years Old.

Just three years ago the Flashlight came into existence, and it was, indeed, an infant in size when it made its first appearance. It remained so, too, for a year. At the end of that time, it laid aside its swaddling clothes, and for two years past it has essayed to put away childish things and act and speak as a "grown-up" newspaper, even though it is so young; and it is with feelings of a vast deal of pride that we contemplate its lustiness as a 3-year-old.

The first year of its existence, it had no subscription price, but for the last two years, with a very few exceptions, all who have received it have paid for it at the rate of $1 per year. There are about 800 of these, and when it is understood that practically every one of the 800 became subscribers without solicitation, the cause for the feeling of pride is more apparent. We have "done our level best" to give the people a good, clean, readable paper, and it seems that a subscription to the Flashlight is not a waste of money.

Not only has the patronage accorded the paper been gratifying, but the paper has been a source of information to the people. It has been a source of information to the people. It has been a source of information to the people.

THE election of United States Senators by a direct vote of the people will suit all the people.

John W. Pulliam's announcement for City Clerk was received too late for this issue, but will appear next week.

We understand that C. G. White is a candidate for County and Probate Judge. If he is elected, he will make an excellent official.

THERE must have been no more than standing room in the Philippines when the war began over there—that is, if as many natives have been killed as the official reports from there state. There are still enough of them left to keep a big lot of our troops at work killing 50 to 100 almost every day.

"MORE dead Filipinos continue to show up;" "The war in the Philippines can't last much longer, according to recent reports;" "the end is drawing nigh," and kindred phraseology has appeared in Administration papers for that past year, at least, but the end is not yet in sight. Where one is killed another takes his place.

THE State Republican says the "expansion question is one of deep moment, and investigation makes converts of those who have taken the other side." We have always thought that Democrats and Republicans who believed in expansion "took it up" without ever a moment's consideration, and we can willingly forgive a man of this kind. A man, though, who, after giving the question due study, then takes it up, we cannot—Well, we just cannot. It is too unamerican; too unjust; too contrary to every principle of our own glorious system of government; too much like monarchies treat other nations! We cannot, for the life of us, see how a man can be an expansionist or imperialist and yet believe in our form of government. There is not a line in it that gives us warrant to govern the Philippines, unless the inhabitants agree to it.

We have seen a good many laughable things in newspapers in the way of errors, but one crept into the columns of the Fort Smith Elevator last week that chips the corner off of any we have seen in the 365 days. The error was in giving a title to a man who will not be named. In the General Assembly and was a hard worker while the Legislature was in session. If elected, he will be a candidate for the Speakership of the House next term. He has a great many friends in the county, who are well satisfied with his work and

Our Announcements.

"Father, who is that at the gate?"
"Hush, my child, it is the candidate!"

CIRCUIT CLERK.

We, this week, announce Eldon M. Bare as a candidate for Circuit Clerk and Recorder of Carroll county, subject to the will of the Democratic party. Mr. Bare has been both deputy Circuit Clerk and County Clerk for the past two years and has given universal satisfaction in both offices. He is neat, accurate and thorough, and has been accommodating to one who have had business transactions with him. He is an honest, honorable and upright citizen and a good and true Democrat. If elected to the office which he seeks the people will never have cause to regret honoring him with it. He has a host of friends who think there is no doubt about his election.

Our announcement column contains the name of Joe S. Fancher, who asks the Democrats of the county to nominate him as their candidate for Circuit Clerk and Recorder. Mr. Fancher is a young man of splendid business qualifications which fit him for the duties of the office. He is sober, steady, industrious, affable and accommodating. If elected, he will make us a good officer and one that will give satisfaction to all concerned. This is the first time he has ever asked for the people's vote for anything.

COUNTY CLERK.

J. O. Collier announces himself as a candidate for County and Probate Clerk, subject to the will of the county Democracy, as expressed at the primary to be held April 21st next. Mr. Collier was defeated for this office last year, but it was by one of the best and most popular men in the county—N. C. Charles—and he only had a majority of 19 votes. This is evidence that Mr. Collier is a very popular man, and while he has no opponent, so far, yet it shows that if one should hereafter announce, the one so announcing will have a hard man to beat. Mr. Collier is in every way fitted for performing the duties of this office, and we feel strictly safe in saying that, should he be the choice of the Democrats for County Clerk, they will never have cause to regret it.

REPRESENTATIVE.

Hon. F. O. Butt announces himself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Representative. He has represented the General Assembly and was a hard worker while the Legislature was in session. If elected, he will be a candidate for the Speakership of the House next term. He has a great many friends in the county, who are well satisfied with his work and

An Open Letter.

To the Voters of Carroll County:

Two years ago, you honored me by a re-election to the office of Representative of Carroll county. My gratitude and appreciation for that mark of your confidence, I tried to show by a faithful and pains-taking discharge of my duty, as I understood it. I am before you now, asking a third election to this honorable position, and in doing so, I can only say, as I have done before, that I believe my experience and acquaintance with public men and affairs will more fully enable me to do you efficient service than before. Added to this is an ambition of a personal nature; an ambition, if elected, to serve as Speaker of the next House of Representatives. I do not urge this as a reason for asking your support, nor can any thoughtful citizen vote for me for that reason alone. I submit my candidacy to you solely upon the question of fitness; whether or not my acquaintance with the needs of my people at home, and of those of other parts of the State, is such as will enable me to serve your best interests in the capacity of Representative. I do not expect to be able to serve you without making mistakes; the record I have already made is not without them, but such as they are, they were of the head and not the heart. I tried to do my duty as faithfully as I knew how, and to make you an officer such that other portions of the State would respect the county from which I came. Whether or not I have done this, you alone can judge. I have tried to redeem every promise ever made you and to make a record of which no citizen of my county need be ashamed.

In the period between now and the primaries, I hope to see most of you in person, and to discuss my position upon public matters with you, as only by meeting and talking with you can I become fully acquainted with your views upon those questions that are before the State for solution. To the people of Carroll county, who have twice honored me with their representation, I feel more grateful than I can express, and assuring you that if once again honored by your confidence that I shall do my utmost to merit it, and to be true to the trust confided to me, I am,

Yours for Carroll County,

DEAR MAM:—I have just arrived in Manila from back in the mountains, where I left your son in command of a small expedition.

had no facilities for writing, and asked me to write you on my return to the coast, telling you of his good health and whereabouts. I was returned by order of the major, in charge of Aguinaldo's wife and family. I return in a day or so and rejoin the major, if possible. You have no occasion to worry about your son, whatever.

Very Respectfully,
W. J. MCKENNEY,
2nd Lieut. 33d Inf.

The article referred to gives a most interesting account of a chase after Aguinaldo, and tells how March's battalion flanked an "impregnable" position, from which we make the following extract:

"March then directed Tompkins' company to execute a flank movement by climbing up the side of a hill a thousand feet high, on the insurgents' left. Tompkins with Lieutenant True and 50 men made the ascent of the hill by dragging themselves up by the aid of bushes and bunches of grass, and reached the rocks above, where they found several insurgents who fired upon them, but were soon put to flight. Tompkins then took position overlooking the entire rebel force and took them by surprise, as they evidently never supposed that a force could climb the almost vertical side of the hill and flank them out of their position. The men on the hill and the sharpshooters on the knoll poured in a murderous fire. At the same time March with the three companies below, charged up the hill, shouting and yelling. The insurgents broke and fled from behind rocks, trenches, and every other position, up the trail and into the thick underbrush, and the fight was over. Their force was not large, probably not over 200, but only 25 passed in retreat over the trail through Angaqui to Cervantes. The remainder were killed, wounded or escaped into the brush. Part of the battle was fought in the clouds, as a heavy mist settled over the mountains, concealing the trail. Two American dead were buried where they fell, and the remainder of the column moved on in search of the hiding place of the Filipino refugee president."

Railroading Patents.

Snow & Co. have been accused of railroading patents through the Patent Office, but they insist that this locomotion is better than ox-carting them, for by the latter process the inventor often dies before he gets his patent.

W. E. MOORE,
Important to Candidates.

We make a specialty of printing circulars and cards for candidates, being specially prepared for doing such work. Besides, we straighten out the kinks and smoothe down the rough places in the matter where you did not have time to properly arrange. Come up and let's talk about it—we would like to show you some specimens of our work, anyway. If you can't conveniently come, then write us and we will be pleased to send you a sample of our work and give some very low prices. Votes are impressed much more favorably when you send or hand them a neat, well-printed, up-to-date circular or card. Besides, you had as well have the best, when it costs no more.

Call Meeting.
To the Members of Eureka Springs Horticultural Association:—

You are hereby requested to meet at Central Hall, Saturday, the 10th of February, 1900, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. If you have the least interest in your own interest, come.

The meeting will convene at 1 o'clock p. m.

stood that practically every one of the 800 became subscribers. Without solicitation, the cause for the feeling of pride is more apparent.

We have "done our level best" to give the people a good, clean, readable paper, and it seems that a subscription has been made for each of the 800 copies of the paper.

Not only has the patronage accorded the paper been gratifying, but our job department has had a fair division of work from the first, and for the past six or eight months it has literally been crowded with everything from a visiting card to a 5,000 edition of a 24-page pamphlet.

This, too, comes without solicitation on our part.

We are devoutly thankful to the public in general, and ask no better treatment at its hands than that accorded to us in the past.

As well as abandon the criminal courts of the State as long as Dan W. is the "Guv." He pardons the criminals as fast as the courts convict them, both in turning them out of the pen and remitting their fines.

The condition of affairs in Kentucky is most horrible and deplorable.—Fayetteville Republican.

The condition of affairs may not be so horrible, but they are deplorable in all States where the Republicans are in power.

DAN W. may get a few Republicans and a few half Democrats and half Republicans to vote for him, but the big majority of people in the State would be against him even if he did not favor imperialism. His stand on that question has knocked his socks off.

A DISPOSITION is again remarked among the Latin-American nations to enter into a good understanding among themselves for their common protection against the territorial greed of the European powers. That union is one which the commercial nations will undoubtedly respect.—State Republican Wonder if the State Republican doesn't think it would also be a good thing for some of the weaker nations which inhabit islands to "enter into a good understanding among themselves for their common protection against the territorial greed" of the United States? To be consistent, that paper must say it would, unless it can show that it makes a difference whether the power with the "territorial greed" is situated on the eastern or western hemisphere.

We have seen a good many things in the way of errors, but one drop into the column of the Fort Smith Elevator last week that chips the corner off of any we have seen in the 365 days. The error was in giving a title to a man who will some State considerably north of Arkansas or until this State acts addingphool and "goes" Republican himself. Here is the error, which occurred in the first sentence of a "stickful" editorial: "We believe that Senator Jones could well afford to commute the sentence of old man Lane from that of death, to life imprisonment."

It is Gov. Jones—Dan W.—we inform the Elevator—the man who pardons criminals without provocation and talks imperialism in the hope that it will put "Senator" just preceding his name as it has inadvertently done. Senator Jones is our J. K.—a mighty fine man who does not believe in such vote catching schemes.

At 6:45 o'clock Saturday evening last, Gov. Wm. Goebel died, and in his death Kentucky loses one of her best and brightest citizens and the Nation one of her greatest statesmen. His assassination marks one of the darkest and most shameful and most disgraceful acts for which any political party is responsible. True, it may be that the leading Republicans of the State did not authorize the assassin to fire the shots, but it was the legitimate outgrowth of their scandalous proceedings of late. Affairs there, however, now b'd fair to be adjusted without more bloodshed. The fact that President McKinley refused to help the Republicans showed them they were going a great deal too far.

We congratulate our friend, Editor Newman, of the Harrison Times, upon the addition to his family of a fine son, born last week. The Times is authority already on the mineral resources of our North-western Arkansas, and Bro. Newman will need, in time to come, a partner in his ever increasing business to help him wear the honors of having been the foremost means of bringing this rich country to the notice of the world.

Stood Death Off.
E. B. Munday, a lawyer of Henrietta, Tex., once fooled a grave-digger. He says: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice. I persuaded him to try Electric Bitters, and he was soon much better, but continued their use until he was wholly cured. I am sure Electric Bitters saved his life." This remedy expels malarial, kills disease germs and purifies the blood; aids digestion, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, cures constipation, dyspepsia, nervous diseases, kidney trouble, female complaints; gives perfect health. Only 50c at Porch & Crook's drug store.

Frost Bites and Chilblains quickly cured by Banner Salve, the most healing remedy in the world. Porch & Crook.

he be the choice of the Democrats for County Clerk, they will never have cause to regret it.

REPRESENTATIVE.
Hon. F. O. Butt announces himself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Representative.

Two past representatives in the General Assembly and was a hard worker while the Legislature was in session. If elected, he will be a candidate for the Speakership of the House next term. He has a great many friends in the county, who are well satisfied with his work and who think he is the best Representative we have had in a number of years. He submits his claims to the Democrats in the primary, April 21st next.

COUNTY TREASURER.
The office of county treasurer is an important one, and should be occupied by a man of business sagacity and ability. A candidate with such qualities announces himself in this issue of the Flashlight in the person of Will E. George.

Mr. George is popular throughout the county. Though a young man, he is a staunch Democrat and there is generally a strong tendency to give the "boys" a chance. The funds of the county will be well and systematically looked after if the party chooses to place him in the hands of this young business man.

Sam H. Doxey asks the Democrats of the county to approve his official record for Treasurer of the county by re-electing him in the coming primary, April 21. Mr. Doxey was appointed by the Governor to fill out the unexpired term of the treasurer who resigned soon after entering upon the duties of the office. He has made a good official, and that is the kind the people want. He will appreciate your vote if you are satisfied with him as an official.

SHERIFF.
A. P. Maples, "Pres," as he is familiarly known among his friends, seeks to be sheriff of Carroll county, and asks the Democrats to make him their candidate. Perhaps, no man is better known in the county than he is, and certain it is that none will make a better sheriff. He served in that capacity two successive terms just preceeding the present one, and did the work falling upon him well and satisfactorily.

FRONT BITE AND CHILBLAINS quickly cured by Banner Salve, the most healing remedy in the world. Porch & Crook.

explosion of their term of office. Moved that if the Congressional committee on the subject of candidates for Congress be placed on the ticket at a fee of $1.00.

THE FRUITS OF ASSASSINATION.
From the Chicago Record.

Gov. Taylor, of Kentucky, by deliberately appropriating the fruits of assassination, is rendering himself more odious to the American people than was the man who was shot down while wrongfully making use of lawful means to secure possession of an office to which he was not entitled. In declaring a state of insurrection to exist, when the facts did not warrant such a declaration, and in adjourning the Legislature to meet February 6th, at London, Laurel county, which is in a community of Taylor's mountaineer sympathizers, the Governor has shown a willingness to take full advantage of a situation created by a cowardly assassin.

Had the Legislature of Kentucky convened yesterday, undoubtedly it would have unseated Gov. Taylor and the Republican Lieutenant-Governor, and would have given their offices to Goebel and Beckham, the latter the Democratic contestant for the office of Lieutenant-Governor. In the event of Goebel's death, after such action by the Legislature, the Governorship would fall to Beckham.

When it was announced that Goebel had been shot very few persons thought of charging Taylor with responsibility for the crime. It was, however, considered unfortunate for Taylor that armed mountaineers were present in Frankfort to lend assistance to his cause, apparently with his approval, and that those men were quartered in the statehouse, from which the shot at Goebel is supposed to have been fired. The situation was most delicate and required circumspect action on the part of Gov. Taylor. His course, however, has been anything but circumspect. By proceeding at once to take advantage of the assassination for his own benefit, he in a sense gives his sanction to the act of the assassin.

Thus is Kentucky doubly disgraced. Goebelism was bad enough, but the offenses of Goebel were not equal to those of Taylor. Taylor's action in using the State militia to disperse the Legislature when the members of that body were attempting to assemble peaceably was an intolerable outrage, discreditable even to a South American revolutionist. When a man acting as Governor, whose title to that office is in question, can freely use the militia to interrupt the proceedings of the Legislature, a co-ordinate branch of Government, republican institutions are little more than a name. Taylor's associates should hasten to repudiate his acts if they desire to avoid sharing in the responsibility for them.

Eureka Springs in the Philippines.
Mrs. J. W. True is happy over the receipt of the following two letters from her son, Lieut. Wm. True, the latter one having been received Sunday last:

Manila, Dec. 29th, 1899.
Mrs. J. W. True,
Eureka Springs, Ark.

DEAR MAMMA:—I have just arrived in Manila from back in the mountains, where I left your son in command of a small garrison at Aryike. I promised him that I would write you and send best wishes for a merry Christmas and a happy New Year, in which I join him. He is in excellent health and spirits, and the article headed "Above the Clouds," in paper mailed you today, shows what he is doing for his country. As his company commander and as his friend, I cannot say enough in his praise.

Yours, Sincerely,
DEAN TOMPKINS,

It's Easy To Take
Thin, pale, anæmic girls need a fatty food to enrich their blood, give color to their cheeks and restore their health and strength. It is safe to say that they nearly all reject fat with their food.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA

is exactly what they require; it not only gives them the important element (cod-liver oil) in a palatable and easily digested form, but also the hypophosphites which are so valuable in nervous disorders that usually accompany anæmia.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is a fatty food that is more easily digested than any other form of fat. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health. You can get it in this way.

We have known persons to gain a pound a day while taking it.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

CLIFTY.
From "Scribbler."
February 5, 1900.
The health of the people of this neighborhood is better than when I last wrote, improving.

Clifty is on another big boom. This time it is a telephone line, to run from Eureka Springs to Hindsville, a distance of 25 miles. On last Saturday the citizens of this township met in a called meeting, to get in shape for business in this matter. They organized by appointing Ewell Pearce, chairman; G. W. Evans, secretary, and P. M. Vaughan, G. H. Oliver and David Phillips, committeemen. P. M. Vaughan was on the road bright and early this morning for Eureka Springs, to confer with the company in regard to this line. He says they are to meet at Clifty on each Saturday at 2 p. m., until the whole thing is completed. He says after the line is up the first message sent will be from him to the President of the United States, and he is going to ask to be appointed one of a committee to look out a route and run a big railroad through Clifty. Then he is to be president of the road. Whoop 'er up, boys!

Uncle Lewis Brown, of Clifty, has sold his farm, and he and his wife have gone to live with their son, Wesley Brown, of Swain mountain.

Eld. C. F. Smith, of Washington county, was to have preached at the California schoolhouse again last night, but failed to get there, so Elds. Weatherman and Todd did the preaching. Your scribe noticed several distinguished parties in the congregation, amongst whom was our friend, Mr. Noah Ivie, of Huntsville. I did not learn the full cause of his long visit from home, but I saw a nice young lady come in about the same time he did, and I mistrust this had a good deal to do with it. Mr. Ivie is one of our best young men, whom we are always glad to see in our midst.

KINGS RIVER.
February 6, 1900.
There is still some sickness in the community.

Mr. Ruark, of Shady Grove, died on the 3rd. He was one of our best citizens and a minister of the Free-will Baptist church. A little babe of Mr. James Gilbert was buried at White Elm on the 4th. The bereaved ones of both families have the sympathy of your correspondent, as we know what it is to part with loved ones.

Mr. Causby Jackson and Miss Flora Gentry were united in marriage last Sunday, Esq. McCall officiating.

Eld. Z. T. Eaton preached at Walker schoolhouse Saturday and Sunday last.

Well, Mr. Editor, as Henry Naves has moved out of the settlement, news is a little scarce. He always kept us posted.

A Night of Terror.
"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she would die from Pneumonia before morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of Consumption. After taking, she slept all night. Further use entirely cured her. This marvellous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Porch & Crook's drug store.

The street cars will begin operations on the 1st of March, and the service thereafter will be practically continuous. President Duncan tells us that the cars will run without fail on the 1st, but it may be necessary to have a broken "time-table" for a few days, after which the public is assured of splendid service every month in the year. We commend the management for their decision, having always believed that it would, in time, pay. The people have to be educated to use the conveniences and luxuries of life, and we who have lived in Eureka Springs for years have become so accustomed to walking that we involuntarily climb the mountain instead of saving strength and good humor by "boarding" the electric car. True, it is possible the company may sink some money the first year (though this shouldn't be the case,) while the people are being taught, but a reward will come in later years. Jackson, Tenn., while a city of 9,000, tried repeatedly to keep up a street railway system, but as soon as travel became light and the company in charge began to lose, operations ceased. The consequence was, the city was for years without this convenience. Finally a company took hold of the project, determined to keep everlastingly at it until the people would realize the advantage of street car travel. After some loss, the business increased gradually, until stock in that bonanza was not obtainable. So we trust it may be with the Citizens Electric Co. Vast improvements have been made and this system will be second to none in the State, in point of excellence.

Our friends of the Pine Street Methodist church are making some extensive improvements on their church property. New stone walls are being built along the sides of the lots and new steps and landing added. Imitation cathedral windows are being put in, which will add very materially to the appearance of the building. Immediately upon the completion of this work, the interior will receive some fresh "touches," including a nice carpet. We congratulate these people upon their progress and prosperity. Under the leadership of Rev. Fletcher, the church is making rapid strides towards the front ranks of usefulness. Rev. Fletcher seems to be just the man needed by this congregation to take up and push to completion the work begun by the former pastor, Rev. McGlumphy. We find the following interesting little item regarding these two pastors in the last issue of the Fort Smith Kodak:

"We were favored this week by a pleasant call from Rev. Geo. McGlumphy, pastor of the Central Methodist church. Rev. McGlumphy's predecessor, Rev. P. C. Fletcher, was said to have been the most popular preacher ever in Fort Smith, but from appearances we think Rev. Fletcher will henceforth have to share his laurels. We are pleased to have the ministers call. Though we have the devil in our office always—well the devil needs spiritual advice as well as the editor."

Sanitarium Company's Possessions Change Hands.

MEANS MUCH FOR THIS CITY.

Battle Creek (Mich.) Sanitarium Co. the Purchaser and Improvements May Be Looked For Soon.

The records of the county show that the old Sanitarium Company's possessions, consisting of about 1,700 acres of land adjoining the city containing a beautiful artificial lake, have been deeded to the Battle Creek (Mich.) Sanitarium Company.

We learned this fact so late yesterday evening that it was impossible for us to find anyone who could give us any information as to the intentions of the purchaser. It is not buying, however, simply for an investment, and we may look for a big sanitarium to be erected there soon. This company, we understand, owns and operates several large and successful sanitariums, and there is every reason to believe that it will not allow this ground to be idle. If one is built, it will be a mammoth concern, for this company is not only a very rich one, but it does everything on a large scale.

The Fortnightly Banquet.

At no time in the history of the Fortnightly has the club experienced a more enjoyable meeting than the evening of the banquet. It was not the feast of good things to eat, nor the feast of reason and the flow of soul, nor yet the gathering of many kindered spirits, but all of them combined that made this an occasion which marks a golden milestone in the history of the leading literary club of our city.

Nearly one hundred were present when the president, Mrs. Chas. E. Davis, called the society to order in the commodious office of the popular Thach Cottage. The music of the evening was furnished by three young ladies from the High School (Octette)—Misses Bebe Brown, Blanche Davis and Maude Rain. Two of these young ladies, Misses Brown and Rainwater, are among our sweetest singers, and Miss Blanche Davis has no superior as a pianist among the young people of Eureka Springs.

at his best. He accompanied the announcement of each toast with a sparkling witticism that prepared one to receive the response.

The first toast of the evening was "February Again," responded to by Mrs. M. J. Russell. So beautiful and well rounded were the sentences of Mrs. Russell's response that some of the members thought it was poetry. Mrs. Russell is a good speaker and she paid glowing tributes to the four great men whose birthdays are celebrated in February—Washington, Lincoln, Longfellow and Lowell—not forgetting the recurrence of the birthday of the Fortnightly.

The president, Mrs. Davis, responded to "Those Away," mentioning each name of well-remembered ones now with us no more. Especially good and in place were those tributes paid Mr. Brownell, Mr. Fernie and Miss Margaret Millsaps.

"Oom Paul" was the next toast announced and Mr. C. G. White, one of the ablest members of the club, responded with a note of patriotism that found a responsive chord in the heart of every lover of freedom in the assemblage.

Rudyard Kipling's "Recession-al" with the sentiment, "Lest we Forget," was responded to by Rev. J. M. Roddy. This was a masterful exposition of that note of warning which the great English poet has sounded.

"Our President" was the very appropriate toast which Mrs. C. S. Barnett had the honor of responding to. Hers was among the brightest gems of the evening, and the entire company felt that the subject had been happily assigned. Mrs. Barnett paid a glowing tribute to "our president" and to her excellent and faultless administration.

Though not on the program, Mrs. Davis, the president, was called upon to respond to Mrs. Barnett, and in one of the happiest efforts of her life she showed how appreciative she was of the esteem in which she was held, and how conscious she is of her own limitations. She renewed the confidence and high esteem which she has ever had in the seven years of the life of the club.

The last toast of the evening was to have been "To the Toasters," by Mr. Geo. C. Christian, who was prevented from being present by sickness. Mr. Christian's ability to please at a time like this was not forgotten, and many were the regrets expressed at his indisposition.

A few remarks from the toastmaster and many expressions of appreciation of the evening's pleasure from the members and their friends followed and the "Fortnightly Banquet" of 1900 became

City Council.

Last Monday night's meeting of the city council was an important one, several matters in which the general public has been interested receiving attention.

All the councilmen were present. Mayor Christian being sick, Alderman Mattocks presided.

The bond of W. K. Morgan as a plumber, was filed.

Chief of Police Gordon laid before the council the necessity of extra police service when extensive railroad work was begun. As a result of this, an ordinance was passed empowering the chief to appoint two assistants, when the necessity was apparent. Each of the extras will receive $50 per month.

Chief Brown, of the fire department, ever mindful of the city's best interest and at the same time not unkind of his "boys'" comfort, appealed to the council for an appropriation to be made for the purpose of buying rubber hats, coats and gloves for the three companies. The preparation of the ordinance was ordered, and beyond doubt will be passed, as soon as the cost of the needed articles is learned, which, it is supposed, will not exceed $125.

Dr. Floyd was given permission to build a stone street crossing from his office steps in the Wadsworth-Floyd building to the Clark & Klock building.

The long-talked-of and much-discussed matter of creating the office of assistant superintendent of water works was settled by passing the ordinance.

The ringing of the fire bell as a curfew bell was prohibited, at the request of the fire department. Of course, this doesn't affect the law, and the youngsters are in just the same danger of being fined as before, if found out after 8 o'clock.

After some routine work, the body adjourned.

Premature Explosion.

Last Monday, Fred Christie happened to an accident which, while not fatal, was very serious. He, together with some other workmen, was engaged in blasting on Spring street, adjoining the Penn block. A "shot" was put in, but it failed to explode, and Christie sat down to pick it out. The others protested, telling him it was extremely dangerous. He refused to listen to reason, and his companions moved out of harm's way.

While Christie was at work, the "shot" exploded, literally filling his face, eyes and throat with powder and small particles of stone. One of his eyes was shot out entirely, and his physicians, Drs. Floyd and Ellis, feared for a time that the sight of the other was destroyed, but today it has developed that such is not the case.

THE EUREKA SPRINGS

The Queen City of the Ozark Mountains.

THE "FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH."

Something About the Great Health Resort Which Actually Cures People.

Eureka Springs is often founded in the minds of physicians and others with that other noted health resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas. Many do not seem to realize that they are not only two distinct and separate resorts, but are places of such distinctive characteristics that an intimate knowledge of these differences is very important to the physician who would intelligently direct the selection of a resort for his patient.

This confusion of the two places has arisen from the fact that both are in Arkansas, both are in the Ozark Mountains, and the main feature of both is springs of wonderful qualities. But here the resemblance, except in the topography of the region, ends. The waters of the one, as the name indicates, are hot, while those of Eureka Springs are cold. Hot Springs is in Southwestern Arkansas, while Eureka Springs is in the extreme northwest corner of the State, 180 miles distant as the crow flies. Hot Springs is among the foot hills of the Ozark Mountains, with an altitude of 610 feet, while Eureka Springs is on the crest of the same range of mountains, with an altitude of 2,000 feet. Hot Springs has an annual precipitation of 72.26 inches (average for three years), while that of Eureka Springs is 32.79 malarial poisoning and scrofula. There are original testimonials in possession of physicians of unquestionable skill and standing, which, incredible as it must seem to the conservative profession, establish the fact that either well established cancer has been cured here by the waters, or that reputable physicians have been repeatedly mistaken in their diagnosis.

But it is probably in the direction of diseases affecting the kidneys and bladder that the most remarkable and permanent results are obtained, and in those diseases in which a general alternative or solvent effect is desired.

Eureka Springs is a unique, as well as interesting, place. It is essentially a health resort. Its population (about 5,000) consists largely of those who have gone there "for their health," though many have regained it and evidently "are not there for their health" now, having entered into various lines of business and professions. This growth has been the outcome of the inherent virtues of the climate and waters in restoring the sick to health, and not from booming.

I will not tire the reader by attempting to describe the place. I will only call attention to the fact, that the conditions for perfect natural drainage could not be improved upon, and as the town nearly all lies on the north and west side of the valley, the exposure is south and east, consequently sunny and warm in winter and shady and cool in summer.

As to the winters, I experienced a fair average winter season, being there during the exceptionally cold snap of November 30th and up to December 8th, when the mercury went exceptionally low all over the West, North and South. On the morning of December 3rd, the thermometer registered 14 degrees above zero and there was about two inches of snow, but by 10 a. m. the bright sun was making slush of it rapidly and by noon of the 4th it

THE NARROWS—E. S. R'Y.

F. McKay, who has visited every health resort on the American continent. He has made them a life-long study, in an effort to determine the conditions and combinations which go to make up a place where diseases are cured or benefited. After coming here and studying the waters, the climate, and the conditions generally, he wrote and published the above article. We have not reproduced his article in full, but only such parts of it as we thought were necessary, with what we shall add, to give an entire stranger an intelligent idea of what Eureka Springs really is.

While reading what Dr. McKay has written about the great health resort, one should understand that the doctor is a man of unquestioned honor and integrity, besides being one who thoroughly understands absolutely what is necessary to constitute a real health resort. He wrote this article in order that physicians, who are members of the American Health Resort Association might get information that would enable them to determine the benefits that would accrue to their patients whom they might send here.

Good health resorts—the kind that actually deserve the name; the kind that have a record earned because of absolute cures known to have been effected by them, are a scarce article. But Eureka Springs is one that has merited the name richly. And the fact that it has been in the health resort business for a straight 20 years, and is gaining in popularity with each succeeding year, is evidence that it has merit. Eureka Springs is better known today than at any time during its history. For several months during the past summer season it was almost impossible to find a hotel or boarding house with a vacant bed, or to find a furnished or unfurnished cottage or room within her limits for rent.

This is a wide-awake little city, having all the needful accessories—such as substantial business blocks, water, sewer, electric lights, electric street railway, police and fire departments, fine hotels, bath houses, schools and many beautiful residences. Thousands of visitors come here annually.

RECREATIONS OF WOMEN.

How Actresses Amuse Themselves Off the Stage.

Among actresses, first we find that Sarah Bernhardt had a taste for painting, sculpture and cycling, while in summer she delights in fishing, boating, tennis and literature, sometimes also in cliff-scaling. Ellen Terry is less ambitious, for she finds sufficient distraction in reading, driving, and yachting, while her sister, Marion Terry, likes going to the theater on an off-night to see what her brothers and sisters in art are doing. She also is passionately fond of flowers, loves music and enjoys a game of golf. Mrs. Brown Potter, although she made such a wicked Miladi, amuses herself in a sufficiently innocent way, for she passes much of her time growing flowers, and is fond of all outdoor pursuits. Miss Ada Rehan cycles a good deal, reads much and loves travel. Mrs. Patrick Campbell is a superb musician and cycles. Handsome and stately Genevieve Ward distinguishes herself with riding.

City of Magic Waters, is the fact that during the years since the discovery of these famous springs, thousands of cures that have seemed little less than miracles, have been wrought here by the waters and climate. Among the diseases cured are cancer, rheumatism, diseases of the stomach, diseases of the eye, bronchitis, disease, asthma, paralysis, etc.

RUNNING SORE ON HIS ANKLE.

After Six Years of Intense Suffering, Promptly Cured By S. S. S.

Obstinate sores and ulcers which refuse to heal under ordinary treatment soon become chronic and deep-seated, and are a sure sign that the entire circulation is in a depraved condition. They are a severe drain upon the system, and are constantly sapping away the vitality. In every case the poison must be eliminated from the blood, and no amount of external treatment can have any effect.

There is no uncertainty about the merits of S. S. S.; every claim made for it is backed up strongly by convincing testimony of those who have been cured by it and know of its virtues by experience.

Mr. L. J. Clark, of Orange Courthouse, Va., writes:

"For six years I had an obstinate, running ulcer on my ankle, which at times caused me intense suffering. I was so disabled for a long while that I was wholly unfit for business. One of the best doctors treated me constantly, but did me no good. I then tried various blood remedies, without the least benefit. S. S. S. was so highly recommended that I concluded to try it, and the effect was wonderful. It seemed to get right at the seat of the disease and force the poison out, and I was soon completely cured." Swift's Specific.

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD

—drives out every trace of impurity in the blood, and in this way cures permanently the most obstinate, deep-seated sore or ulcer. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains not a particle of potash, mercury, or other mineral. S. S. These waters contain mainly carbonates of lime and magnesia, with small amounts of sulphates, chlorides and alkalis. They are too weak to warrant complete quantitative analysis. The results here given are sufficient for all practical purposes. Examined by F. W. Clark and R. B. Riggs, and reported February 15, 1887.

For the invalid who is able to enjoy, and is fond of sports, the little to be desired, but six or eight hundred yards from the springs, leaves a manner, making literally being seen in a paradise. Everything in a most lavish abundance for the sportsman meets the eye. Deer are found in the immediate vicinity, also wild turkey, quail, rabbits and quail, while ducks abound in season on the waters of White and Kings Rivers, two beautiful streams abounding in fish, six and four miles distant respectively.

Life at Eureka Springs may be quiet and plain—spent in camping, in living in the many comfortable cottages, to be obtained at reasonable rates—or, as above indicated, it partake of the elements of pleasure attending a fashionable resort. But of course, the principal occupation of the day consists in drinking the water from the various springs, which differ slightly in analysis, and it is claimed by many invalids that decided differences are experienced in the effects.

Eureka Springs has a number of very intelligent physicians, of all schools of medicine, most of them there for their own health, who have made an intelligent study of the therapeutic applications of the waters, and are prepared to give intelligent advice to the profession at large, but it has not a horde of unprincipled quacks, such as have brought opprobrium upon some health resorts of great virtue if protected from these human ghouls.

In conclusion, I can say to the members of the American Health Resort Association, the medical profession in general, and to the invalid public of the class mentioned, that as a health resort, I believe Eureka Springs is destined to take a most prominent place.

inches. The mean annual temperature of Hot Springs is 61.36 degrees; of Eureka Springs, 58.93 degrees. The winter mean of Hot Springs is 51.77 degrees; of Eureka Springs, 42.08 degrees. The summer mean at Hot Springs is 81.57 degrees; at Eureka Springs, 74.79 degrees. The average number of clear days at Hot Springs is 162; at Eureka Springs, 209. Fair days at Hot Springs, 70; at Eureka Springs, 90. Cloudy days at Hot Springs, 133; at Eureka Springs, 66. The death rate per 1,000 population at Eureka Springs, 10.33. Thus the meteorological records show that a marked difference exists between the two places in those characteristics which go to make up that totality we call climate.

The altitude of Eureka Springs is sufficient to entitle it to consideration as a medium altitude resort for those affected with bronchial or pulmonary troubles, and while the precipitation is greater than is considered the most favorable limit for that class of patients, on the other hand the conformation and geological conditions of the place are such that all surplus moisture is at once carried away, and so the relative humidity is brought down to 59.4, while that of Jacksonville, Fla., is 77; of Los Angeles, Cal., 66; Asheville, N. C., 70.10; Thomasville, Ga., 64, that of Eureka Springs being an appreciable percent below that of places known most favorably as resorts for consumptives. In addition to the meteorological conditions as indicated by the statistics given above, Eureka Springs is surrounded for many miles on all sides with virgin pine forests, so that the breezes which sweep over it are more or less impregnated with the balsamic qualities of such a region. But experience, the best test, has proven this to be a favorable resort for the class of cases known as catarrhal consumption.

From the above, the intelligent physician will be able to judge of the availability of the climate for his patient, but of the peculiar and apparently wonderful effects of the waters here found in such abundance, no statistics can be brought to bear upon the truth of the statements which may be made. Therefore, I shall be as conservative as possible in stating what I conceive to be thoroughly established facts regarding the class of diseases benefited. In the first place, let me impress upon the reader's mind that the Eureka Springs waters are not mineral waters, or—as called by Dr. Chas. E. Davis in his able paper at Medico-Climatological Congress—"spoiled waters," but they come about as near, as will be seen from a study of the analysis, to being pure oxide of hydrogen as is found anywhere.

It is undoubtedly due to the fact that these waters are possessed of the almost perfect solvent power of pure oxide of hydrogen, that they have in numerous cases, the facts of which are too well authenticated to admit of reasonable doubt, apparently dissolved out of the system, those foreign substances which seemed to threaten the integrity of vital organs, and the lives saved of many sufferers from rheumatism, eczema, Bright's disease, chronic was entirely gone. The waters are not severe at any time and are practically over early in February. The solid and gaseous elements in these springs can be compared with other popular springs, by referring to the following table:

| Orkney Springs, Va. | 10.128 | |

| Birchdale Springs, N. H. | 4.76 | 6.97 |
| Clarendon Springs, Va. | 6.196 | 1.97 |
| Jordan Alum Springs, Va. | 8.552 | |

These waters contain mainly carbonates of lime and magnesia, with small amounts of sulphates, chlorides and alkalis. They are too weak to warrant complete quantitative analysis. They differ but slightly from one another, and the results here given are sufficiently explicit for all practical purposes. Examined by R. W. Clark and R. B. Riggs, and reported February 15, 1887.

For the invalid who is able to enjoy, and is fond of sports, the country about Eureka Springs leaves little to be desired, having been endowed by nature in a most lavish manner, making for the sportsman a paradise. Deer are found in abundance in the woods in the immediate vicinity, also wild turkey, squirrels, rabbits and quail, while ducks abound in season on the waters of White and Kings Rivers, two beautiful streams abounding in fish, six and four miles distant respectively.

Life at Eureka Springs may be quiet and plain—spent in camping, in living in the many comfortable cottages, to be obtained at reasonable rates—or, as above indicated, it partake of the elements of pleasure attending a fashionable resort. In conclusion, I can say to the members of the American Health Resort Association, the medical profession in general, and to the invalid public of the class mentioned, that as a health resort, I believe Eureka Springs is destined to take a most prominent place.

Miss Emily Soldene is extremely happy when she starts on a good long ocean voyage, and she takes a good stock of plain needlework to enhance the pleasure on the way. Miss Millard only cares for the cycle, which transports her to the golf links. Decima Moore loves riding and driving, kangaroo hunting when she is in Australia; she collects curios, is very fond of watching polo matches and of attending race-meetings. Walking and driving suffice Miss Mary Moore, but I have heard of her on a cycle. Miss Alma Murray takes long country walks, reads much and loves to study human nature.—John Strange Winter, from London Telegraph.

RUPTURE
Look Pleasant!
Of course! You can't look otherwise when you advertise in the Flashlight. It's a trade drawer, and that is what all business men want. If you want that sour expression to fly away like Aguinaldo before Uncle Sam's troops, just place an "ad." in its columns. People will think your rich aunt has died, and your family will be under lasting obligations to the Flashlight. Prints 1,000 copies.

THE RORICK AIR CUSHION TRUSS
Holds the rupture completely, comfortably and surely, as none other will. A convex, concave air cushion.

EDITOR NATIONAL WATCHMAN: I congratulate you upon the splendid work the National Watchman is doing. It is an honest, earnest, able, and fearless exponent of Jeffersonian democracy and deserves a cordial support. I hope that your circulation will increase until you have readers in every precinct in the United States. The people should support papers that fight the battle of the people.
Yours truly, W. J. BRYAN.
