DENTON BAKER GETS TWO YEARS

Wright Whitely Gets Five Years in the Penitentiary for Killing Crabaugh

Last week was quite a strenuous time in the Berryville Circuit Court. In addition to the business of the court as reported by the Flashlight your correspondent gives the following:

Walter Stamps, contempt; dismissed.

Two indictments were returned against A. B. Short for murder in the second degree. He is charged with the murder of Isaac Wright and his son, Marcus Wright, on the first day of last June. The tragedy occurred five miles east of Berryville. He entered a plea of not guilty in each indictment and both charges were continued until the February term of this court and set for trial on Wednesday of the first week. In addition to his former counsel, Fancher & Fancher, he has retained Col. G. J. Crump, of Harrison.

The Court appointed J. H. Jackson, H. J. Griffith and S. P. Beck as jury commissioners and they returned into court a list for the February term.

Horace Standlee entered a plea of guilty in a gaming case against him and was fined $10 and the trimmings. Other similar cases against him were also nolle prossed.

The last four days of the court were practically taken up in the trials of Denton Baker, and Wright Whitely, each charged with murder in the second degree.

The Baker trial was on when the Flashlight went to press last week. Baker was charged with the murder of his father-in-law, Houston Breeding, at Denver in the east part of the county last August.

The facts as brought out in the trial was that Baker's wife had left him, at their home in the south part of the county, and had gone to live with her father near Denver. Some three or four weeks afterwards, Baker, accompanied by Walter Stamps, went to see his baby and give it some clothing he had purchased for it. He found his wife at Denver with her father. A dispute came up about Baker carrying his baby part of the way home. Breeding saying that Baker could not carry it. One word brought on another until both parties started out of the store, where the difficulty started, as if to settle the matter in combat. Eye witnesses stated that Breeding stopped on the porch in front of the building and that Baker walked out some 10 or 15 feet, made a mark and asked Breeding to come across; that Breeding cursed Baker and told him that he had a pistol, that Baker replied that he had no pistol that Breeding again cursed him bitterly and told him that he did have a pistol, that he saw it; that Baker immediately whirled around, walking towards the corner of the building, at the same time drawing his pistol, walked on to the end of the porch and until he reached the store door, Breeding having retreated into the store, that Baker put his left hand to the side of the door facing and with his right hand reached in and fired his pistol, the shot taking effect in Breeding's from which he died in a very few minutes; that Baker looked in at his victim and snapped his pistol at him as he lie prostrate on the floor and then ran to a near by blacksmith shop and surrendered. Baker denied that he drew his pistol until he reached the store door, that he had started back into the store to get some purchases he had made, that when he reached the door, he was encountered by Breeding with a drawn chair and that just as Breeding was bringing the chair over with the remark that he would kill Baker, that he then drew his pistol and fired, and that he did so to save his own life.

Self-defense was the plea of the defense and it was ably made by J. Wythe Walker, G. J. Crump and J. P. Fancher. After several hours deliberation the jury returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter, fixing his punishment at two years in the penitentiary. Baker's attorneys at once filed motion for a new trial which was by the court over-ruled and an appeal was taken to the supreme court, and the defendant given 30 days in which to prepare his bill of exceptions. The court fixed Baker's bond at $2500 pending the appeal which was promptly made and Baker was given his liberty until the supreme court passes upon his case. It is also reported that numerous petitions are being circulated asking for his pardon.

Another case that attracted more than ordinary attention was the Wright Whitely case, the large auditorium of the court house being packed to its fullest capacity throughout the two days' trial.

Whitely was charged with the murder of Herman Crabaugh last October on the public square in Berryville. It appeared from the evidence that Whitely, Crabaugh and a number of other young men were congregated on the square about dark on the last day of the Fair, that a dispute came up over a small toy cane which led Crabaugh to remark that he could whip any one in the crowd. Whitely remarked that he was not game but that he would fight whether one, or two, jumped on him, at the same time walking up pretty close to Crabaugh. Crabaugh struck Whitely with his fist (according to the testimony of the state) and knocked him down and followed up the fight and seeing that Whitely was going to get up with him he let loose and he and Whitely then struck a few lick each when they clinched and with one arm around Crabaugh, Whitely took his knife from his pocket and with both arms around him he opened his knife and began to stab and slash his adversary with his knife. The clothing of young Crabaugh was in evidence and showed to have been literally cut to pieces. He only lived a couple of days.

There were some thirty witnesses in all that testified in the case and after deliberating four or five hours the jury returned a verdict of murder in the second degree and assessed his punishment at five years in the penitentiary.

Young Crabaugh who was killed was the son of Charles Crabaugh of Grand View, one of Carroll county's most substantial citizens. Herman was 22 years old the day he died.

Wright Whitely is just 21 years old and is the son of Berry Whitely residing two miles east of Berryville and is a peaceable law abiding citizen, he and the boy's mother have the sympathy of all over the trouble their boy has brought upon them. Sheriff Carroll left Sunday for Little Rock and on Monday delivered Whitely to the superintendent of the penitentiary to begin his five years' term.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF EUREKA SPRINGS

The financial condition of the First National Bank of Eureka Springs appears elsewhere in this issue of the Flashlight. It is a statement that not only the officers and directors of the bank may justly feel proud of but the whole citizenship of Eureka Springs as well. The bank has on deposit over $135,000 of the peoples money and to protect these deposits the bank has $112,000 loans and discounts that can be converted into cash in 90 days. Then the bank has $12,500 government bonds; over $55,000 cash on hands, a banking house worth $12,000 and a stock holders liability of $50,000, making a grand total protection to depositors of $246,500, every dollar of which is as good as gold in the vaults. No bank in the state offers such absolute protection to its depositors. It is as solid as the Bank of England.

DEATH OF FORMER PARTNER OF O. M. CLARK

Edward Matthews, of Parkville, Mo., died here Sunday. The deceased was many years ago a partner of O. M. Clark in the grocery business and has for many years made annual pilgrimages to Eureka Springs. For the past ten years he has been living in Missouri and was here for his health at the time of his death.

NEW ENGINES FOR THE M. & N. A.

The Missonri and North Arkansas railroad is putting on some fine rolling stock these days. No. 11, a big engine, was brought into the shops last week and made its initial trip today over the road.

This is one of four big engines that were ordered last fall for the M. & N. A. R. R. All up and down the line may be seen the new box cars of the road. In fact the M. & N. A., since its extension, is becoming an important factor in railway circles.

CTEDITORS OF O. M. CLARK TO MEET

The creditors of O. M. Clark will meet in Harrison September 7th in Referee F. M. Gravin's office to choose a trustee for said bankrupt.

OWNS CANNON BALLS FROM BATTLE FIELD

Col. J. C. Betten has now in his possession two cannon balls taken from the battle field at Prairie Grove after that bloody little battle December 7th, 1862. Colonel Betten was given these war trophies while attending a Confederate reunion at Prairie Grove last week.

MARRIAGE OF A POPULAR EUREKA SPRINGS LADY

Miss Ollie Pyatt, the accomplished and handsome daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Pyatt, and Mr. Chas. Stroud, were married at the residence of the bride's parents yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, Rev. Brown of the Immanuel Baptist church performing the ceremony.

The bride, for the past year has been head sales lady at Perkins

Bros. big department store. She is one of those loveable characters that counted her friends to the extent of her acquaintances. She will be greatly missed in social circles of our city where she was a general favorite.

The groom is in the employ of the St. Louis and Memphis railway company with headquarters at Crystal City, Mo., where the happy couple will make their future home.

The bride and groom left on the night train for Little Rock for a week's visit after which they will begin housekeeping at Crystal City.

NO PREFERRED CREDIT- ORS OF CITIZENS BANK

A depositor of the defunct Citizens bank wants to know if there will be any preferred claims allowed by Receiver West before the other depositors are paid.

In answer to this we will say that according to a late ruling of the Supreme court there will be no preferred claims allowed. There may be a claim or two allowed "in bailment" as the lawyers say, but the amounts will be small. There are some $15,000 or $20,000 in preferred claims pending before the Chancery court but as the decision of the Supreme court knocks these claims out, all creditors of the bank will stand upon equal footing with the exception of the few bailment claims.

GRAND LODGE I. O. O. F. TO GET HERE

The Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F. will meet here in October if $500 can be raised to defray the necessary expenses and sufficient entertainment for the delegates on that occasion. The Grand Lodge has met here three times before and the grand officials have been loud in their praise at the treatment they received at the hands of our citizens.

There will be about 1500 delegates and visitors present at this meeting. All representatives have their expenses paid by their local lodges and this insures a full attendance.

A. J. Bridgeford, U. G. Kelley and J. G. Pearce are the committee to raise the necessary funds. We understand that about $250 have already been pledged.

PAID THEIR TAXES A SECOND TIME

When O. M. Clark "hit" the pike Collector Hailey found that about $1800 in taxes had been paid the Eureka Springs real estate agent to be turned over to the Collector. As none of that amount reached Mr. Hailey he proceeded to collect the taxes from said parties a second time and he informs the Flashlight that all but $280 of the $1800 Clark collected has been a second time collected and all have paid cheerfully. A community that can stand a "Clark dig" and a bank failure like Eureka Springs has passed through has a pretty sold financial backbone.

CAME TO SEE, GOT MARRIED

Miss Pearl Tarvler, a young girl not yet fifteen and scarcely out of short dresses, came down Saturday from Fagle Roost in Barry county, Missouri, accompanied by a man about twice her age, Albert Burris, to see the sights of Eureka Springs. They decided to get married and the mother of the bride was sent for and gave her consent to the marriage. Judge Betten performed the ceremony and the two Missourians were made happy.

CITIZENS ELECTRIC COMPANY NOT SOLD

Only an Option Given by W.
M. Duncan for Four Months—Enormous
Profits of Co.

The head lines of the Globe Democrat of last Sunday announced that the Citizens Electric Co. had been sold to a Chicago corporation.

The headlines were misleading. Byron M. Hopkins of Chicago filed for record in the circuit clerk's office here an option on these properties from Mr. Duncan.

The following is an exact copy of the letter, filed excepting the letterhead:

June 21, 1907.

Mr. Byron M. Hopkins
328 East 23d Str.
Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sir—

In accordance with my letter of May 25th and supplemental thereto, I beg to offer you herewith the properties of the Citizens Electric Co. of Eureka Springs, Ark., for $150,000 and herewith give you an option on said properties for four months from date. This four months option will be good for you and your assigns.

Respectfully yours
W. M. DUNCAN.

The filing of the above option contract gave rise to the rumor that the Citizens Electric Co. had been sold.

Mr. Hopkins here and last week discussing the situation with Mr. Duncan.

The company is bonded for $175,000, and we understand that over $100,000 worth of the bonds are the property of the defunct bank. These bonds are the greater part of the issue are held by the Fidelity Trust Co. of Kansas City to secure a loan of Mr. Duncan for $67,500.

The chancery court has made an order requiring Mr. Duncan to release these bonds, or turn over a mortgage to Receiver West on his (Duncan's) personal property covering all his real estate and mining property in Boone, Marion and Searcy counties in this state.

The Citizens Electric Co. was incorporated in 1898. On December 1903 it issued $175,000 first mortgage 5 per cent, 20 year gold bonds, the Metropolitan Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, trustee.

According to a statement which we have seen of the net earnings of the Citizens Electric Co. it is indeed a very valuable piece of property and a big dividend payer for its stockholders.

The following table of gross earnings, operating expenses, and net earnings for the past six years will give some idea to our citizens of the enormous business done by this company:

	Gross Earn'gs	Op. Ex.	Net Earn'gs
1901	24,282.71	12,808.09	11,474.88
1902	26,937.67	12,124.64	12,813.03
1903	30,300.66	16,443.53	13,857.13
1904	36,593.97	21,117.01	15,386.96
1905	43,080.33	22,071.76	21,008.57
1906	46,177.67	19,643.91	26,533.77

"The franchise consists of 99 year rights free from tax to each and every street and alley in the city of Eureka Springs. The nature of the mountain city and the narrow streets preclude the possibility of any competition and makes the 99 year franchise exclusive."

Our readers will notice the above is under quotation marks.

The little babe of Mr. and Mrs. Wade James died last week aged only eleven days and their many friends sympathize with them deeply in their great sorrow.

"CASHED IN"

MIKE McDONALD, once the head of the gambling fraternity in Chicago, and a politician of note and influence in his community, died a few days ago, possessed of millions. But with all his wealth, he perished miserably, crushed by the weight of his woes—the woes that wealth had brought him. Early in life McDonald developed a faculty for making money by devious methods.

As his pile accumulated his ambitions expanded, though none of these ambitions were grounded upon worthy impulses. His first wife deserted him for a minstrel man; he took her back and she in time "flew the coop" again.

Then he became infatuated with an adventuress and married her. She like the first one, proved untrue, and is now under the spell of a Pulling Webber Girl, an artist. It was this trouble that brought McDonald to earth and he finally died in a hospital.

Meanwhile his wealth continued to accumulate and he waxed richer and richer in the world's goods, but that did not stop the demands of Nature, nor arrest his physical dissolution, and when his time was up death claimed him as it does all mortals.

He had worn himself out worrying over the misfortunes that wealth had brought him.

A BANK was struck by lightning at Vandalia, Mo., last Saturday and a thousand dollars in currency burned up. That's not so bad. We have known worse things than lightning to strike a bank.

COMPLIMENTED BY REV. FLETCHER

REV. Dr. Philip Cone Fletcher, for four years pastor of the Southern Methodist church here and now of the First M. E. Church, South, of Fayetteville, Arkansas, pays the Flashlight a compliment that any publisher may feel proud of and be pardoned for publishing the same.

"The Flashlight" said this well known minister, "in my opinion has the best editorial page of any paper in the state. I have saved many of the good things I have seen in your editorial columns. One day a few weeks ago I stepped into a local newspaper offices at Fayetteville and picked up a copy of the Flashlight. I immediately enrolled myself as a subscriber to your paper and have no hesitation in saying it is one of the best and most interesting papers I ever read. The editorial page of the Flashlight contains so many things of a helpful nature that it ought to be in every home in Carroll county. Eureka Springs and North Arkansas has reasons to be proud of the Eureka Springs Flashlight."

IT can be said to the everlasting credit of the business men of Eureka Springs that the recent bank failure has not impaired the credit of any business interest. No higher compliment could be paid our business men for their financial solidity and substantibility.

ROCKEFELLER, the poor, old, innocent and much abused king, finding that it would be useless to further attempt to evade the officers who were searching for him at last imitated Davy Crockett's bear, and "came down the tree," professing dense ignorance as to being wanted, even in the face of the fact that the columns of every metropolitan newspaper in the country was filled with news concerning the matter. A sly old coon is your Uncle John D.

MICROBES in everything you eat and drink, and if you eat and drink microbes you will surely die, and if you don't eat and drink you will still more surely die. Bound to surely die in any event, you had better pay no more attention to microbes than your grandfathers did. They ate and drank everything they wanted and they lived long and prospered. What did Methuselah know about microbes in his time? Eat and drink everything you want, microbes and all, and you will live until you die and that is what old Methuselah did—he lived until he died.

GOOD WORDS FOR GIRLS

YOUR mother is your best friend. Have nothing to do with the girls who snub their parents.

Tell the pleasantest thing you know when at meals.

Do not expect your brother to be as dainty as a girl.

Exercise, and never try to look as if you were delicate in health.

Introduce every new acquaintance to your mother as soon as possible.

Don't think it necessary to get married. There is plenty of room for old maids. They are oftener happier than wives.

Enjoy the pleasure provided for you by your parents to the fullest extent. They like this as a reward, better than any other.

Most fathers are inclined to overindulge their daughters. Make it impossible for your father to spoil you by fairly returning his devotion and affection.

Never think you can be dowdy at home. Cleanliness, hair well dressed, and a smile will make calico look like silk in the eyes of father or brother.

Do not quarrel with your brother; do not preach to him and do not coddle him. Make him your friend and do not expect him to be your servant, nor let him expect you to be his.

Don't call your mother "old woman." We often hear that from young men. Stop and think how it sounds. Old lady is bad enough, but "old woman" applied to her who gave you life and nursed you in infancy, is rude and unkind. Once it was "mother, I am hungry," "mother mend my jacket," "mother put up my dinner," and many such things, and mother would spread the bread with butter and stow away the luncheon with her heart brimming with affection for you.

Now she is the "old woman."

Be considerate of mother, girls, the best friend you ever had or ever will have.

THEY KILLED MY BOYHOOD FRIEND

STORY NO. 15

THE M. E. Conference sent father to Fairview circuit to take charge of two churches and I a boy of twelve years of age was put into the district school.

One bright September morning I started to school with a nine year old sister "tagging" on behind me. We were late that morning and "books had been taken up" as they say in the rural districts of Missouri. The teacher assigned me a seat by a big brown eyed boy about my own age. He looked at me a minute then "ducked" his head under the seat and said, "come down here." I ducked too and asked him what he wanted.

"Want to know your name?"
"William," I replied half scared to death that the teacher would hear me.

"Well, I am going to call you Bill," and he kept his word.

For four years we sat together in that little dingy school house. "Ike" was his given name and Ike became the leader of the boys in all their games and sports. He was blunt and honest in every thing he did. He justly won the sobriquet of "Honest Ike."

He got more punishments than any boy in school because he frankly admitted his "devilment." "A whipping is soon over" Ike once said "but a lie troubles me for weeks, so I prefer a good sound flogging and be done with it."

Ike was so conscientious that he wouldn't steal watermelons, or fish on Sundays.

We not only spent the five days together in school but we swapped work on Saturdays and went to the same church on Sundays.

Flashlight Snap Shots

The question, "Why do men wear coat tails?" was answered on North Spring street yesterday when a stranger fell under a large dray heavily loaded. Had it not been for his coat tails, siezed by his companion he might have been killed.

A woman on Mountain street was watching a workman at her home a few days ago as he put new window fixtures in the house. "Don't you think you have placed these fixtures too high?" she asked having reference to the curtain rolls last put in place. The workman, a German, made no reply, but continued to adjust the fixtures. "Didn't you hear my question?" demanded the lady. "How dare you be so rude?" Whereupon the German gulped convulsively, and then replied in the gentlest of voices: "I haf my month full of screws, and I could not speak until I swallow some."

A guest at one of Eureka's hotel ordered some "smothered chicken" and the order was transmitted by the colored garcon to the chef and the garcon proceeded about his duties of collecting tips from the guests. A half hour later the guest was still waiting for his order and questioned the waiter concerning same. This dignitary again conferred with the mogul of the kitchen and found the latter sitting on an inverted tub, under which was a fowl. "I can't smother this here bird," said the darkey. The guest countermanded his order and took "steak and eggs."

A certain Carroll county doctor who has none too easy a time making collections, is bemoaning his fate in losing a ten dollar bill this week. He had been aroused from pleasant slumbers many times to attend a lady whose digestion and circulation were of the best and whose only ailments were of the imagination. He was just starting off to make a call Tuesday when he was hailed by the lady in question. "I'm in a hurry" called the man of medicine, "and can't stop to see you, but it's alright you haven't got it." "Haven't got what?" asked the astonished patient. "Whatever you think you've got; not a symptom of it. Good bye." "Well, now that's the time he's mistaken," said the indignant woman as she turned away. "This time I know I've got it, and what's more I'll keep it and buy a new dress."

A young man applied for a job of one of our merchants, saying he had turned over a new leaf. The business man said: "Well, it is a mighty good idea. There are several things you want to do at the out-start, however, to make people think you are sincere. There are numerous little debts you owe around town. You can't become a full fledged penitent until you step around and tell the fellows who have been holding the sack for you that you are ready to make good. Then you have been using too much bad language and missing the truth a whole lot of the times. You want to cut out all such things. The restaurant keepers and clothing store man may not rush out and grab you the first time they see you, and want you to come in and stand them off for a lot of stuff, but if you make good you will have no trouble about credit in the future. You might also help the folks a little at home. There are numerous little things you can do to help mother, and the old man would find life lots easier if you would help occasionally. You can not repent and still stand around on the street and cuss and smoke and loaf throughout the day. The first thing for a reformed boy to do is to go to work. Keep at it and the rest will come easy."

The fall we were seventeen we both left on the same train for the state normal and boarded at the same place and were in the same classes. We finished the course at the same time, Ike at the head of the class with the proud distinction of valedictorian. I was just as proud of Ike as his parents were who came many miles to see their boy graduate.

Ike could not be induced to enter any profession. He was a born orator and a born leader of men but a thousand times he told me while lying on the banks of old Walnut that he could never do anything but live on a farm. He loved to be close to nature's heart. He talked to the tree frogs, the birds and said the sweetest music on earth was the song of the katydid.

His aunt died and left him $1000. With this amount he went to one of the southern counties of Missouri and made a payment on a big farm in the Ozarks. He wrote me about the springs, the streams full of black bass, and game on his ranch. The next thing I heard from Ike he was married.

Four years later I noticed that "Honest Ike" had been nominated for the legislature. The election came on and Ike was elected by the largest majority ever given to a candidate in that county.

He was "Honest Ike" to his new made friends in Southern Missouri.

We met at the state capitol one blustery cold day in December just a week prior to the organization of the House and Ike, who came down to get onto the legislative rope was more than delighted that he was on the grounds to help me out in my aspirations which he did. Ike was the first to rush up and congratulate me when the tellers announced my election.

I was more than proud of my friend not because he had made my nomination speech and said some nice things about me in the democratic caucus, but because he was the same frank, open hearted fellow he always was.

A few days after the turmoil was over I was surprised to see Ike in company with a noted lobbyist from the biggest city in the state. They walked arm and arm into the bar. Ike did not notice me but I followed to see what the lobbyist was up to.

Ike to my surprise, drank a glass of whisky; and then another. In the meantime the lobbyist was urging him to vote for a certain bill that was to come up for consideration. Ike was assured he would be taken care of.

"I won't do it. I can't do it. There is no use for you to ask me. I'm not a thief and I certainly would be if I accepted the money," said Ike, his voice raising to a high pitch. The lobbyist looked alarmed because he turned around and saw a listener. "O take another one, said the legislative agent.

"No I have enough," and Ike turned around and said "Hello Bill. Look how it snows. Let's go a rabbit hunting!" and then laughed one of his old time laughs that reminded me of old school days.

A few days afterwards I saw Ike with a well dressed stranger. In the afternoon of that day he came to me all aglow with enthusiasm. "Tell you Bill I have made a lucky strike. You know I told you I owed $2000 on my farm. Got a contract right here in me side pocket that will clear it. So when you come down and see me I won't have a care in the world. I tell you I'm happy."

I read the contract with a big firm in city of St. giving Ike $2000 cash in advance for one year's work and traveling expenses paid every week. Ike's job was easy. He just had to go to certain counties and make speeches acquainting the people of the vast resources and possibilities of certain arid lands in the southwest. They didn't want him to sell any land.

When the bill came up for passage that Ike was asked to help put through by the lobbyist for a price, everybody was busy. The man who made Ike the easy job contract and gave him the $2000 which had already gone to pay off his mortgage down in — county, came in a hurry and told Ike he would have to vote for the bill. Ike protested and said it was detrimental to the interest of the people of his county. "You will vote for the bill or I'll expose you. I can prove you got the $2000 and your bank at home knows it," said the lobbyist in disguise. Ike voted for the bill and I never saw him draw a sober breath thereafter. I took him to his room several times during the closing days of the assembly in almost an unconscious condition. Last week I received a clipping from a newspaper that my boyhood chum had died of delirium tremens. The noble, generous hearted, truthful Ike, the lover of nature, owed his downfall to the seductive legislature agent.

W. J. O'Connor is now ready to loan money on farms if you get in your application in the next few days.

True Temperance

There is a growing sentiment that temperance is surest and best promoted by the use of Pabst Blue Ribbon, which contains less than 3 1/2% of alcohol. The use of Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer satisfies the natural desire for a mild stimulant without creating a habit for strong drink. In countries where the most beer is consumed, intemperance is rarest.

Pabst Blue Ribbon

The Beer of Quality

is so rich in the food values of Pabst Eight-Day Malt, and in the tonic properties of the choicest hops, that it is a genuine health-builder.

The system frequently requires a mild stimulant, which is supplied by the small percentage of alcohol which produces no injurious effects. The extractives of malt and hops aid the digestion and soothe the nerves, making Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer the ideal temperance drink.

When ordering beer, ask for Pabst Blue Ribbon.

How FORTUNES ARE MADE

People with limited means, the laboring class, employees and other wage earners, do not realize that it does not require a great amount of cash to lay the foundation for a fortune.

Investigate the wealthy classes of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Iowa and North Missouri, and you will ascertain that most of them made their fortunes by investing in the cheap lands of those states when the same could be purchased as low as $2.50 per acre, the same lands now selling for as much as $250.00 per acre. Go to New Jersey and Pennsylvania, in the mountain districts, where land was as rough and rocky as it is here, and you will find each farmer has had to terrace his land before he could cultivate it, and now that he has to fertilize each foot of it before he can raise a cow pea on it.

Did you ever stop to think that these cheap lands in the mountains of Northwest Arkansas, will, within a few years, be selling for $50 to $100 per acre? And why? Because there is not a mountain side too steep and rocky to raise the finest grapes, peaches, apples, cherries, plums and pears ever grown; that the flavor of these fruits are of world-wide renown; that these mountains produce, in abundance, all varieties of small fruits and vegetables; that they are unequalled for grasses of all varieties; that there is no section with soil more productive, with as pure water, good climate and to which a drought is almost unknown, where malaria and mosquitoes do not exist, and where a man can take ten acres of ground and grow a bank account.

We predict for you a comfortable fortune if you invest your savings in cheap lands.

This, That and 'Tother

The residence of Joe Norris, east of town, was struck by lightning Saturday evening and considerably damaged. The chimney was demolished from the shoulders up, a place about ten feet square was torn in the roof, a number of rafters and dimension pieces were torn into shreds, some of the siding was split, one door frame was torn out, a part of the wire in a screen door melted and some other damages. Mrs. Norris was in the dining room when the accident occurred and a part of the door facing was thrown onto the table in front of her but strange to say, she was not even shocked by the stroke. After looking through the building anyone will decide that it was nothing less than a miracle that Mr. Norris's entire family was not killed outright and his home burned.—Green Forest Tribune.

Postmaster Rhodes and A. J. Cox have been at loggerheads lately. The trouble was caused by a demand on the part of the postmaster for an additional five cents each quarter for box rent. Cox says that he does not care for the amount of money but that there is a principle involved to which he objects. He thinks it is an effort on the part of the administration at Washington to make both democrats and republicans pay the recent increase in the salary of R. F. D. carriers and to this part of the program he very strenuously objects. But the thing that makes Cox so all-fired hot is that he thinks John Patton and Andy Cox are both going to be full fledged republicans as a result of the increase in their salaries. He says that a very strong indication of this tendency on the part of the carriers is that Andy has named his new girl baby Teddy and John has named his Roosevelt.—Green Forest Tribune.

J. W. Russell, a white man about thirty years of age, was brought here from Eureka last week and lodged in jail on a charge of assaulting a woman a few miles southwest of Eureka. He went to her house and asked for a drink of water after which he made an assault on her with a drawn knife. We understand he is just from the penitentiary where he served a term for crime of a similar nature.—Berryville Star.

Sheriff Carroll informs the Star that every man drawn for both the grand and petit juries for this term of court was subpoenaed to appear and all of them but two were present when court convened Monday morning and those two had valid excuses. The Sheriff says during his fourteen years experience in this class of work this is the first time he has ever been able to get service on all the jurors.—Berryville Star.

There has been a lull in the matrimonial market the past week, caused, maybe, from the fact that the grand jury is in session and some of the boys were urgently called from the county. The following couples however have crossed the Rubicon:

The county commissioners of accounts, consisting of A. G. Allred, Henry L. Bunch and Fred Boles, after a two weeks' careful inspection of the accounts of all county officers, made their report in open court this week.

On their settlements with the county court the commissioners found the following officers short:

John McLoud, ex-circuit clerk, $55.10

R. L. Anderson, ex-collector, $154.54.

Joe S. Fancher, county clerk, $59.20.

J. D. Hailey, collector, $5,074.08.

Russell and Fancher settled their accounts and the bondsmen of the other parties were notified of the shortage.

Russell is overpaid about $45 in the western circuit.

Sheriff Carroll and Collector Hailey were both hit hard by the Citizens Bank at Eureka Springs.

FRANK CARROLL, SHERIFF

Upon the organization of the commissioners Mr. Carroll appeared before them, tendered the use of his office, and also presented his books and expressed a willingness and a desire that the same be carefully examined. His books and reports were carefully gone over and found to be in every material point correct and entirely satisfactory to your commissioners. We also examined his ledger account with the county clerk of fines and forfeitures and found that he had paid over all moneys in his hands belonging to the county.

J. D. HAILEY, COLLECTOR

We made a careful and thorough examination of the accounts of J. D. Hailey, collector and found that the following amounts had not been paid over to the county treasurer to wit:

To amount to common school fund on liquor license, $1400.00.

To poll tax collected for the year 1906, $3135.18. To school fund penalty on delinquent assessments $83.77. To amount of personal receipt for which credit was given, $32.59. To 312 certificates of purchase 25 cts each, $78. To delinquent personal collected $344.54. Total amount unpaid, $5074.08.

Mr. Hailey appeared before the Commission and acknowledged that the above items were correct and that he was due Carroll county all of said amounts. He further stated that all of said amounts would have been paid at the July term of the county court but for the reason that he had on deposit and in personal checks on the Citizens Bank at Eureka Springs the sum of $4114.10 at the time it closed its doors July 1, 1907 and has not yet been able to realize anything on these checks and deposit. He also exhibited a valid claim against O. M. Clark who mysteriously disappeared from his home at Eureka Springs on the 10th day of June last and has not since been heard from. This claim is being made good by the parties who own property for which receipts were issued and charged to Mr. Clark, but not delivered to him nor to the parties. This claim now amounts to only $283.12. We further report that he has on deposit in the Carroll County Bank as collector, the sum of $1,050.97, making a total of $5,448.10. He also stated to your commissioners that he will be able to make a complete settlement on all amounts due by him at the October term of the county court.—Berryville Progress.

Men Past Sixty In Danger

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate glands. This is both painful and dangerous, Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rockport, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 91 years old." ENJOY A SMOKE?

There is a vast difference in cigars. After a few puffs some taste stale and bitter. All the cheaper brands leave an unpleasant taste in the mouth. The great majority of cigars are worthless when smoked up. But the great cigar that "smokes good" and tastes good to the last puff is the great "SAN FELICE." It's the talk among smokers. Try a "San Felice." It's the great five cent cigar of the age. Are sold at

BUSINESS TALKS

Speaking of advertising, of judicious advertising, everybody makes mistakes, but only fools make the same mistake twice.
Were you caught by the last injudicious advertising scheme? Don't do it again. Invest your money in space in the Flashlight. Results are certain. Its no skin game, or grafting or charity.

The best for the money. That's what they all say. And you will join in the chorus if you will give us a chance to prove the "pulling power" of a well written advertisement placed in the Flashlight.
What many recommend, more should take head of. The more successful merchants of Eureka Springs will recommend the Flashlight as the medium for the exploiting of your wares. Note what merchants take space every week in this paper. Is that recommendation enough to convince you that it pays? Because you tried advertising once and saw no immediate results, does not warrant you in saying that advertising does not pay. It takes persistent work to get results. Others here in Eureka Springs have succeeded by advertising. why shouldn't you?

If you want to advertise, but haven't the time to give to it, a Flashlight man will write the ads for you, if you will indicate the line along which you desire them written.

The Flashlight furnishes the circulation, you furnish the advertising, and there is no question about results. It cannot help but pay. Now is the time to begin to increase your advertising. Others are doing it already.

OUT OF HARMONY

To be out of harmony with the world, the times, or with one's self, is a misfortune.

The writer chanced to meet a man on the street one evening not long since, a most estimable young man, too, and was struck with the lack of harmony in his make up.
He was well dressed as far as cost goes, but he was not well dressed as far as taste and harmony go.
For instance, he had on tan oxfords and black silk hosiery; black trousers and a light coat, white waistcoat and a red tie. He had spent his money, but he was out of harmony with himself, with good taste, with nature.

The next day the writer chanced to walk along the street for a block in the rear of a good woman, a matron, perhaps 35 years of age.
Her hat was in good taste, quite smart. She had on an immaculate hand embroidered shirtwaist.
Being a woman of good form and graceful carriage she would naturally have attracted the attention of a man or a woman one hundred feet away. But she was sadly out of harmony in her make up. She wore a black skirt, walking length, and a white skirt fell an inch below. She wore high heel shoes that were badly run over. Thus, while milladi was artistically dressed from crown to waist-line, from the waist to her heels the effect was out of harmony, giving her what those inclined to indulge in slang term
"sloppy." And thus she was out of harmony with herself.

In other words, as Mrs. Osborn,
the fashion critic of the Delineator, would say, she failed in the ensemble, yet I hardly agree with her that there is not one in fifty women but what do—especially here in Eureka Springs.

"Yes, she's a beautiful young girl," I heard a matron say recently, "but, oh, how I would like to tell her not to dress so loud and unbecoming."

And as it is in dress, so it is in other material things. Yonder is a harmonious farm, everything in good taste, everything precision to a nicety, while in the same neighborhood, there is a homestead with a big woodpile in the front yard, a homestead where confusion and conglomeration prevail.

In the beginning God created everything in harmony. Observe the soft blending of Nature, the trees, the grass, the flowers, the foliage, the landscape, the ocean, the sky, the sunset. The beauty in life is only marred when man or woman interferes with the harmony.

Nature is beautiful, always beautiful, always harmonious.
Every little flake of snow in winter is a perfect crystal, and they fall together as gracefully as if faeries of the air caught waterdrops and made them into artificial flowers to garland the wings of the wind. In nature, all is managed for the best with perfect frugality and just reserve, profuse to none, but bountiful to all; never employing on one thing more than enough, but with exact economy retrenching the superfluous, and adding force to what is principal in everything.

And, too, it is well to be in harmony with one's self within—harmony of soul with the present and the future—harmony of being with life's surroundings. All sensations of pleasure arise from the harmonious action of vibratory forces within, and all pain from the inharmonious action of those same vibratory forces. Are you living the life of harmony and happiness, or of discord and misery? Indeed, to be out of harmony in life, in dress as well as in temperament, in soul as well as in music, means only discord and vexation of spirit.

Harmony within means much; it means happiness and contentment;
it means life at its best.

F. M. Garvin, wife and son, Master Crump, of Harrison spent last week here. Mr. Garvin is the referee in bankruptcy of this district and a most pleasant and affable gentleman.

For Sale:—A steam grist mill in good running condition, two miles south of town; pair of stone burrs; shingle machine and fixtures. A paying industry. Inquire of C. H. Davis, Eureka Springs.

Geo. Barrett of Lawrence, Neb., has bought E. C. Overstreet's fine fruit farm at Grand View, consideration $2,600. Mr. Overstreet has made some very valuable improvements on this farm since he bought it four years ago.

Miss Mattie Hyde, one of Eureka Springs' most popular teachers has resigned and has accepted a better position in the public schools of Joplin. The public schools of that city are to be congratulated upon securing the services of this gifted and accomplished teacher.

R. W. Ellis, who owned the shoe and repair shop in the flat iron building died at Joplin Wednesday morning. He has been an invalid for the past two years and went to Joplin, we have been informed, to take Christian Science treatment. The deceased was a model citizen and his family have the sympathy of the entire community.

The aftermath of the marriage of Myron Boyle and Miss J. F. Ayars of Tulsa, I. T., which occurred at the Episcopal church Saturday morning a week ago, proves to be quite an exception to the ordinary honeymoon. It was learned by the local officers shortly after the young couple had left town, that a reward of $600 had been offered for Boyle's arrest by the Tulsa authorities on the charge of forgery. The rumor that he forgot the clergyman's fee for the marriage service was a mistake.

The P. E. O.'s are expecting a great time at Grand View, tomorrow, (Friday.) They will have a hay ride to the river on getting off the train. They will then be brought back at dinner time to a beautiful place in the woods near White Elm church where every preparation has been made by the citizens of the community to serve a sumptuous dinner to the picnickers the proceeds of which will go to the church.

All lovers of music in the city as well as friends of the family are delighted to know that Mr. George Parrott Walker will sing at the opera house Tuesday evening accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Martha Regan-Walker. Mr. Walker has had every opportunity for culture of his voice both in this country and abroad and has had numerous honors accorded him and his hearers will be afforded a rare treat.

Mr. A. J. Foote of Lyons, Kas., a splendid old gentleman who comes here every year writes us this brief note from his Kansas home: "Dear Editor of the Flashlight:—The family and I have been getting the Flashlight very regularly all but just one copy since we left Eureka Springs three months the 13th of this month and we don't like to miss one copy for it gives us so much pleasure to read it and get the Eureka Springs news where we spent six months last fall and winter so pleasantly, and had so many dear friends that we regretted to leave. The dear old Flashlight tells us so much about them, it gives us pleasure to read it."

NOT A DULL MOMENT

When the press and the public everywhere say a show is really good, it must have merit. That is the verdict rendered by the audiences and the pencil pushers wherever the A. G. Allen's United Minstrel shows have exhibited for the past 26 years, and it is gratifying indeed to them, as they have always been on the alert to pick up new ideas, keep the old ones that seem to please, and that is just the reason that the management still continues to produce the old-time negro melodies, songs and dances that none can portray so well as the negro himself. These are only a few of the good things in store for you—there are actually two hours and a half of solid laughs for you. There is not a dull moment from the time you enter the house till you get home after the show, and a few laughs left over when you get home and talk it over. You can't imagine the amount of fun you will have. The date set for the appearance of this aggregation of fun makers in this city is Monday, September 2. The above attraction is a tent show and owing to the fact that no suitable lot could be obtained in this city the opera house is being used.

The prices are gallery, 35c, general admission, 35c, reserved seats, 50c, boxes 75c. Seats on sale Wednesday at Basin Park drug store.

The "Arkansas Traveler," the new outing car on the electric line, jumped the rails in front of the Harding spring Wednesday night while the band boys on the car were playing a quickstep. The quickstep became mighty slow. Whitney tried to swallow his horn and had it part way down his throat when the car came to a stand still. John Pulliam gave his bass drum a stroke that sounded like an explosion at the power house. Chas. Sheldon, the great trombone player evidently swallowed part of his instrument as he has suffered from a tickling sensation since the wreck, in his throat. Ed Mattox's horn acted as a go between a chair and his lips and now his kissing appliances looks like he had spent a whole night at a kissing bee out in the sticks. Rob Hudson never got "tetched" as he was counting the stars and catching his breath as the Traveler quit the rails. Walt Brown, the leader, pitched over and made a graceful Alphonse bow to his musical brethren and only received a slight abrasion on the patella for his courtesy. Others of the band came out with some slight bruises but all doing well on arnica salve treatment.
